Two Dire Possibilities.
Beer, Says Wisconsin.
New Engine, Big News.
Against Women Teachers.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

WILL ROGERS understands public sentiment, expresses it tersely, and affects inaccurate use of English, despite his training at Eton and Oxford.

He says "There is two things that can disrupt business in the country. One is war and the other is a meeting of the Federal Reserve Bank."

War, fortunately, is suspended for the moment.

WISCONSIN votes "wet" by a margin of 125,000.

The proposition to repeal the Wisconsin law to enforce prohibition and to repeal penalties for "home brewing" were carried overwhelmingly.

WISCONSIN says, "I want to be wet, I want beer."

But the home brewer has still to deal with the United States government. That government doesn't want anybody to be wet, at least until the Volstead act is changed, or prohibition taken out of the Constitution. Prohibition will not be taken out of the Constitution during the life of any one now living.

IMPORTANT news for railroad presidents, stockholders and oil companies. Denmark has produced a Diesel motor for locomotives operated for one-fifth the cost of steam locomotives.

That engine will send many locomotives to the scrap heap and save millions.

It will not help coal mine owners.

THE British National Union of Schoolmasters asks legistion against women as teachers "in boys' schools."

Providence evidently made a mistake when it located everybody, at birth, on the lap of some woman, a position which he usually retains, more or less, until he dies, often with his head in the same lap.

AN INTELLECTUAL Britisher named Freeborough says women manage boys by bribery and corruption. He notices that "countries like the United States, where bribery is most rife, have the most women teachers." The British schoolmasters want to have all the jobs for themselves and drive the women out.

ROME announces a treaty with the Russian Soviet Republic, giving the Catholic Church liberty of action throughout Russia.

The Pope, restored to temporal power, will recognize the Soviet government, and embark on an extensive religious campaign in Russia, with the consent of Russia's government.

THE Bolsheviki are expected to send an ambassador to the Vatican.

Bolshevism, officially atheistic, believes that religion "is the opium of the people," invented by the prosperous "to keep the worker satisfied."

But Russia wants to do business with other countries and, wisely, will allow the Catholic Church to do what it can to counteract Russian atheism.

FIFTY-TWO thousand Britons demand abolition of capital punishment. In England criminals are hanged. They don't use fancy electric chairs, reserving science for better things than killing men.

AN END of capital punishment would be a step toward civilization.

Meanwhile, British capital punishment shows common sense.

When one Briton kills another, they hang him a few weeks later. No years of delay for appeals, delivery of bouquets and sympathetic letters from ladies.

BRITISH criminals, knowing this, rarely carry deadly weapons on burglary expeditions, since using them to kill would mean hanging. Here it means hiring an able lawyer.

MEXICO'S war seems to turn out badly for the rebels. Calles is burning bridges to prevent the rebels' retreat. His aim is "to wipe out the rebel troops."

The Mexican government thinks it is not far from complete victory, for this time.

MEANWHILE bombs from Mexican airplanes have been dropped on American soil. Mexican shells cross the border and land on American territory. Uncle Sam says he is going to do something about that if it doesn't stop.

DR. BOYCE WINS IN BELLEVUE CHURCH FUSS

The Rev. Dr. Isaac Boyce has been restored as associate pastor of the Bellevue Presbyterian Church. At a hectic congregational meeting last night the church membership overrode the official church boards who had dropped a provision for Dr. Boyce's salary from the tentative annual budget.

The motion to make provision for Dr. Boyce in the budget was passed after moves to have the aged minister retired on pension, or given salary without duties, had been rejected decisively.

ASSISTANT APPROVED

At the same time provision was made also for an assistant pastor to serve as director of religious education, to aid the Rev. Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, pastor.

Charges were freely voiced that "unfair" and "unchristian" methods had been resorted to in deposing Dr. Boyce, who has been associate pastor for five and a half years.

WOMEN AID DR. BOYCE

Women members of the congregation were to the fore in championing Dr. Boyce's cause. One of them described him as "One who went up and down the streets minister-

FLINN LEAVES $6,000,000

An estate estimated to value between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 is disposed of by the will of George H. Flinn, president of Booth & Flinn, Ltd., filed today for probate in the office of Register of Wills Joseph N. Mackrell. Mr. Flinn died Friday last.

Bequests of $25,000 to the Western Pennsylvania Hospital and $5,000 each to the Children's Hospital and the Industrial Home for Crippled Children are provided by the will. The residue of the estate is given to the family of Mr. Flinn, according to a statement issued on behalf of representatives of the estate.

George H. Flinn, Jr., son of decendent, and the Colonial Trust Company are named as executors, with broad powers as to the settlement of the estate and the continuance of the business enterprises with which Mr. Flinn was connected.

Mr. Flinn was nationally known as the builder of large projects, chiefly the Holland vehicular tunnels under the Hudson River. His firm was engaged in the construction of tunnels under the Harlem River. It built the Liberty tubes through the South Hills. Mr. Flinn was active as an independent Republican, as was his father, the late William Flinn, and was a follower of Theodore Roosevelt. He supported Gifford Pinchot during his administration.

SLAUGHTER REBEL ARMY

International News Service.

MEXICO CITY, April 4.—The battered remnants of the once proud rebel army of Gen. J. Gonzalo Escobar, today retreated into the hills north of La Reforma, Chihuahua, after suffering almost complete annihilation at the hands of Gen. J. Andreu Almazan's federal army in the bloodiest battle of the present revolution. Four thousand rebels were reported killed and hundreds wounded.

The rebels fell into a federal trap at La Reforma, 12 miles north of Jimenez. Evacuating Jimenez after suffering heavy losses in the two-day battle there, what was left of their original army of 6,000 retreated to La Reforma.

SLAUGHTER AT BRIDGE

There they found the railway bridge had been burned the day before by federal cavalry. While attempting to repair the bridge, pursuing federal cavalry, led by Gen. Anacleto Lopez fell upon them and the battle began.

The rebels hastily dug in behind entrenchments and made the most heroic stand yet seen in this revolution. Federal airmen flew overhead, dropping destructive bombs. Then the federal infantry came up to reinforce the attacking cavalry. Finally the federals brought their artillery into play.

Protected by a heavy artillery barrage, the federal infantry charged time and again. The casualties were heavy on both sides. Quarter was neither asked nor given. It was a fight to a finish.

The battle waxed furiously. Machine guns on both sides took a heavy toll, but the bombs from above soon began to show great ef-

Fedevich Murder Plea Is Insanity

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., April 4.—(AP.)—Taking of testimony was completed yesterday in the case against Theodore Fedevich, of East Pittsburgh, charged with the killing of his sister-in-law and her son at Bear Creek on February 16. The case may go to the jury by noon.

In a temporary insanity defense, Fedevich testified in his own behalf. Former fellow workers of Fedevich and several business men of East Pittsburgh told of his strange actions following his desertion by Mrs. Fedevich.

2 Mexican Fliers Shot Down by Rebel Fire

NACO, Sonora, April 4.—(AP.)—A Mexican federal bombing plane carrying two fliers was shot down in flames by rebel gun fire this morning while engaged in an air raid on Gen. Fausto Topete's rebel troop train a short distance south of here. The aviators, Capt. Juan Guiterrez and Lieut. Jesus Gaona, were killed.

The international line was closed immediately and newspapermen were barred from crossing. The rebel air victory left the federals without planes at the Naco base, two others which had been stationed here having returned to Sonoyta, Sonora, yesterday.

THORNBURG HIGH PUPIL GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

An 18-year-old high school senior, Robert W. Brady, Jr., of Thornburg, was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter by a jury in Criminal Court today, in the death of another schoolboy.

Brady, on the witness stand, admitted he drove the car that fatally injured Ray Blum, Jr., 8 of 124 Bradford avenue, Crafton, December 11. The lad died soon afterward.

Testimony disclosed that Brady and another student of Thornburg High School were driving down Bradford avenue at high speed, when at Noble avenue they struck the Blum boy, who was on his way home from school at the noon recess. His skull was fractured.

The jury, in returning the verdict, recommended Brady to the mercy of the court.

As soon as the verdict was announced, Attorney Thomas M. Marshall, Jr., offered a motion for a new trial.

STATE AFFAIRS WAIT AS GANN WAR RAGES

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(INS.)—Up and down the banks of the placid Potomac, along fashionable Sixteenth street and Embassy row, and to the furthermost recesses of Massachusetts avenue, one question seemed paramount today in official and social Washington.

Statesmen and diplomats discussed it—their wives avidly so—government clerks speculated on it, flappers chattered about it over their chocolate sodas. The question loomed as tall as the Washington monument, and it came down to this:

"Where is Mrs. Gann going to sit?"

CURTIS ASKS RULING

Indiana Anti-Saloon Head Wins Parole

PUTNAMVILLE, Ind., April 4.—(AP.)—E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League, was released from the State Penal Farm this morning after serving 53 days of a 60-day sentence for contempt of the Indiana Supreme Court. Seven days were stricken off the sentence for good behavior.

The court held Shumaker in contempt when he caused to be published in the Anti-Saloon League's official organ articles which attributed prejurice to certain members of the court in decisions on liquor appeal cases.

Jones Law's Teeth Bite in California

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP.)—So far as official advices to the Department of Justice are concerned, the first sentences imposed under the new Jones prohibition law have been reported by the United States Attorney for the Northern California district.

The attorney reported that three persons were convicted under the Jones law and sentenced to 15 months each in the McNeil Island penentiary and fined $5,000. The department did not know whether the convicted persons were bootleggers or casual violators.

Morgenthau Group Sues for $1,450,000

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP.)—Suit for $1,450,000 was filed in the Supreme Court today by Maximillian Morgenthau, son of the former ambassador to Turkey, and 92 other investors in Boca Raton real estate in Florida against T. Coleman Dupont, Jesse L. Livermore and 12 others who were officers of the Mizner Development Corporation.

DREYFUSS, WANER TO CONFER

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Staff Correspondent.

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 4.—Paul Waner, holdout star of the Pittsburgh Pirates, reached Fort Worth unexpectedly today and a short time later informed the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph correspondent he would have a conference with Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the club, relative to a contract for the coming season.

Asked for an expression on the arrival of the hard-hitting outfielder, who is reported holding out for an $18,000-a-year salary, Dreyfuss indicated he would welcome a meeting.

DREYFUSS ILL

The Pittsburgh magnate has been ill with throat trouble, but he is not in bed.

Brother Paul arrived by automobile accompanied by three Oklahoma friends. He was the picture of health as he reached the hotel.

"I hear the club looks great," exclaimed Paul.

He proceeded to ask a lot of questions as to Pie Traynor's ailment, the condition of the pitchers and the training season in general.

AGREEMENT ANTICIPATED

The betting is that Dreyfuss and Waner will get together on terms before the day is over.

Dreyfuss reached Fort Worth ahead of his players, coming over from San Antonio. His throat was lanced in the latter city, and was showing improvement today.

The appearance of Paul in the hotel lobby was a signal for general rejoicing among the Pirates, who are confident "Big Poison" soon will be in harness.

600 Chicks Perish In Lightning Blaze

A bolt of lightning, following a wire, caused a fire which destroyed 600 chicks in a small barn of Mrs. Esther Whitelaw on the Logan's Ferry road near Milltown today. Firemen from Unity and nearby communities prevented the blaze from spreading to other farm buildings. While helping battle the flames, Mrs. Whitelaw suffered a severe injury when she stepped on a nail protruding from a board.

House Gains Rapidly After His Operation

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP.)—Col. Edward M. House, confidential adviser of President Wilson, yesterday was making satisfactory progress toward recovery in a private hospital where he underwent an operation for the removal of a tumor from his bladder.

Col. House will remain at the hospital three or four weeks. His condition was described as excellent.

First April Storm Brings Thunder And Lightning

April's first thunderstorm broke over Pittsburgh and adjacent communities today, accompanied by sharp lightning. Showers will continue at intervals throughout the day, according to Forecaster W. S. Brotzman, with little change in temperature. Tomorrow will be cloudy. Mild weather prevails in the western half of the country, he reported.

"FRAME-UP!" MORGAN'S MOTHER-IN-LAW CHARGES

"It's all a frameup! There's not a word of truth in it. My husband never touched a drop of liquor and Mr. Morgan wouldn't bring in any if he did."

In these words, Mrs. Hugh Logan, mother-in-law of Congressman William M. Morgan, at their home in Logans Ferry, today denied the legislator brought in any liquor for his father-in-law from Panama.

"My husband is not sick," Mrs. Logan said. "He is not under any doctor's care and nobody prescribed liquor for him. He wouldn't touch a drop.

"Mr. Morgan wouldn't violate the prohibition laws or any laws, and my daughter wouldn't want him to take any such risk. Mr. Morgan is one of the straightest men I ever knew and he has always been a strict dry.

"We don't use liquor in any form here. Why, we don't even have home made wine, and we have just lots and lots of grapes here," she said.

"It's all a frameup. Why, I know all about it," she continued. "They wouldn't take some of the passengers' word for it when they said there wasn't any liquor in some of the boxes they brought from Panama. They opened some of the boxes, but they didn't touch any of Mr. Morgan's baggage."

FRANCE HONORS HERRICK

PARIS, April 4.—France bade farewell to her "beloved friend," Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, today, by honoring him in death as she never before has honored a foreign envoy—with a national funeral.

The ceremonies, most impressive and solemn in their simplicity and sincerity, were witnessed by a throng rivaling that which attended the funeral of Marshal Foch nine days ago.

NOTABLES PAY TRIBUTE

Gathered around his bier, draped with the Stars and Stripes in the sunny salon of the American embassy, the French cabinet, the army and diplomatic corps and many Americans now in Paris paid their last affectionate farewell to the late American ambassador.

No more notable gathering ever paid their respects to the memory of a foreigner in the French capital.

With the exceptions of Marshals Joffre and Lyautey, too aged to expose themselves to fatigue, all the leaders of the French army were present, including such noted figures as Petain, Franchet D'Esperey,

Lamont Heads Wood Utilization Group

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP.)—Secretary Lamont, of the Commerce Department, has accepted the chairmanship of the national committee on wood utilization, which was organized in 1925 by Herbert Hoover to bring about closer utilization of timber and to pave the way for commercial reforestation.

McCormack Returns, Flirts With Talkies

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP.)—John McCormack, back from abroad, is flirting with the talkies. He has offers and is much interested since he heard an Al Jolson film.

MORGAN ANGRY AT ACCUSATION

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(INS.)—Representative William M. Morgan (Rep.), of Ohio, was wrothy today over the continued accusation levelled at him by New York customs inspectors that he told them he had four bottles of liquor in his baggage when he came through from Panama last week.

He has not yet decided on what he will do about it, if anything.

Whether Representative Morgan was more angry over the testimony of the inspectors or the prank of somebody pinning on his office door at the Capitol today a sign labelled "Bootlegger" was difficult to determine. The sign was quickly removed.

To District Attorney Tuttle's implied challenge to waive immunity and permit a Federal grand jury investigation of the whole affair, Representative Morgan had nothing to say. It was indicated he plans to do no such thing.

A number of dry congressmen have called on Morgan to express their sympathy, and to these expressions the Ohio dry has hinted that he is being made the victim of a conspiracy to discredit him politically.

So far as Washington officialdom is concerned, the Morgan case is considered "a closed incident."

PROSECUTION UNLIKELY

NEW YORK, April 4.—(INS.)—Prosecution of William M. Morgan, the "bone dry" Congressman from Ohio accused of violating the dry law, appeared unlikely today in spite of the testimony developed in United

Marilyn Miller Signs To Make Talkie Film

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP.)—First National Pictures announced today that Marilyn Miller had signed a $100,000 contract to make a talking picture. The company holds an option on a second picture and if it should want her for a third her pay would jump to $150,000.

Miss Miller will report in Hollywood by June 9. Her first picture will be "Sally," the Ziegfeld musical comedy in which she starred on Broadway several seasons ago.

CHILDREN SAVED BY PARENTS

A man and a woman and their nine children stood shivering in their night clothes outside their modest home in Ingram early today and watched flames and smoke pouring from the house for which they had saved zealously to buy.

A few minutes before Mrs. Adam Findley, ill, had stumbled down the steps of the house, a precious bundle in her arms—her youngest born, Thomas, 13 months. The smoke choked her and the heat of the fire aggravated her weakened condition, but she reached the open.

RESCUES CHILDREN

Her husband followed her, William, 3, in one arm; John, 4, in the other. Eleanor, 6, and Anna, 8; Suzanna, 12; Mary Jane, 15, and David, 16, reached the street unaided after they had been roused from their beds by their mother, who was awakened by smoke.

But just as Mrs. Findlyey was about to express her joy that members of the family all were safe and unharmed, she made a terrifying discovery.

"Adam," she shrieked, "Robert's missing."

FINDS BOY ASLEEP

A score of persons stood breathless until a moment later, coughing and choking, he staggered out with Robert, 10, in his arms. He had found him asleep in his bed.

The mother and her children were taken to the home of neighbors. But it is only a matter of days until Mrs. Findley will become a mother again.

The firemen kept the flames below the second floor. The same water that drowned the flames rendered useless the modest Findley wardrobe that supplied nine children and their parents.

Findley supports his family on the wages he earns as a street car conductor. Several years ago he decided to buy the modest six-room house at 48 Joel street.

HAS HARD PROBLEM

Supporting his family and paying off the mortgage is not a weak challenge to his pay envelope, Findley admits.

There is some help from the eldest of the nine children, a boy who works as a postoffice messenger when he is not suffering from an old injury.

"This'll set me back, certainly," Findley, 42, said as he surveyed the ruins, "but I don't like to ask for help, even if I do need it."

For the time being the Findleys will try to live in the three rooms on the second floor.

Captain Missing In Ship Mutiny

CAPE MAY, N. J., Apil 4.—(INS.)—Coast Guard officials admitted today that they were investigating a report that the crew of the auxiliary schooner yacht, Nomad, had mutinied and tossed their captain, John L. Schofield, overboard.

The ship was found drifting helplessly 18 miles off shore last night, with four members of the crew in the cabin.

Customs officers working here would give no details of the finding of the yacht, other than to say that the craft had been seized.

The yacht, which is believed to be owned by a New Yorker named Ross, was sighted by a Coastguard seaplane.

900-Mile Hop Made In Less Than 5 Hrs.

NEWARK, N. J., April 4.—(AP.)—With the aid of a 55-mile tailwind, George C. Pomeroy, former mail pilot, flew from Chicago to Newark yesterday in 4 hours and 50 minutes. His was said to be the fastest flight ever made over that route, a distance of about 900 miles.

The speediest sprint of the journey, Pomeroy's instruments showed, was the 250 miles between Cleveland, O., and Bellefonte, Pa., which he did in 1 hour and 24 minutes.

WESTMORELAND COUNTY ADDS VOICE TO TAX CUT PLEA

WISCONSIN STIRS WET ACTION

MADISON, Wis., April 4.—(AP.)—The effort to repeal Wisconsin's prohibition enforcement law moved to the state Legislature today bearing a 2 to 1 indorsement from voters in Tuesday's election.

Both those favoring repeal and those opposing it concentrated their attention on the state capital, the wets demanding prompt action as a result of their poll triumph, the drys equally anxious to turn election defeat into legislative victory.

The latest returns on the referendum to repeal the state prohibition enforcement act gave: Yes, 277,404; no, 145,299. The vote on legalization of 2.75 per cent beer was: Yes, 258,764; no, 148,151. These totals included 2,003 of the 2,759 precincts.

RECALL THREATENED

The election was merely an expression of opinion and not a mandate to the Legislature. Some of the wets, however, said they would attempt to have any legislator recalled who voted against repeal and came from a district that favored repeal in Tuesday's election.

Bills which would carry out the referendum expression have already been introduced by State Senator Thomas M. Duncan, Milwaukee Socialist, who was also the author of the referendums.

Senator Duncan, elated by the "tremendous victory" of the wets, predicted it would be followed with legislative action complying with the voters' wishes.

"The legislature will never pass a repealer bill," countered the Rev. Warren G. Jones, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League.

CITIES VOTE WET

The cities were the strongholds of the wets, while most of the rural communities voted dry. Milwaukee County voted six to one for the wet measures.

The rural vote was curtailed, said Mrs. Anne Warren, state president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, by storm conditions.

MICHIGAN MOVE PLANNED

LANSING, Mich., April 4.—(INS.)—Stirred to action by Wisconsin's overwhelming vote to repeal its state prohibition enforcement act, a movement was started in the Michigan Legislature here today to have the state prohibition laws submitted to a referendum.

A resolution was prepared for presentation in the Senate today by Senator Cass J. Jankowski, of Detroit, which would provide for a state referendum on prohibition at the election in November, 1930.

Lieut. Gov. Luren D. Dickinson, a life-long prohibition advocate, is expected to refer the Jankowski resolution to the Senate Prohibition Committee, which is 100 per cent dry.

DEBATE IN CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Overwhelming victory of anti-prohibitionists in Wisconsin fanned a wet and dry debate in the capital yesterday.

With the shooting of Mrs. Lillian De King by dry raiders in her Aurora (Ill.) home, the firing upon Stuyvesant Fish's yacht by customs officers, and the Michaelson and Morgan cases centering attention upon prohibition as never before, the outcome of the Wisconsin election had been watched with keen interest.

"VOTERS SHOOT STRAIGHT"

"Whenever the people get a shot at the prohibition target by popular vote, they shoot straight," declared Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition amendment.

"The wet vote in wet Wisconsin takes the mask from the wet propagandists," retorted F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League.

FORMER VOTES RECALLED

The Wisconsin referendum was one of several in which the anti-prohibition forces have registered a victory.

At the last general election Massachusetts and Montana voted against prohibition.

Other states which have opposed enforcement at the polls are Illinois, Nevada and New York.

DE KING DRY SPY REAPPEARS

AURORA, Ill., April 4.—(INS.)—Eugene Boyd Fairchild, dry informer, whose admittedly false affidavit describing the purchase of liquor from Mrs. Lillian De King, led to her death in a dry raid on her home, was back in Aurora today where he faces arrest on a perjury charge.

The dry sleuth returned voluntarily to Kane County, saying he had not "run away," and that he was anxious to tell his side of the story.

Fairchild bitterly denounced State's Attorney George Carbary, of Kane County and his chief prohibition investigator, Walter Millar. He declared Millar gave him $15 and told him to "get out of town and stay out for a while."

Millar today admitted he gave Fairchild the money, but denied that he told him to leave town.

TIRED OF BEING "GOAT"

"I'm not trying to hide. I'm sick and tired of being pushed around by Carbary and Millar," Fairchild said. "They've been making me the goat and I'm just beginning to wake up."

Grave Fear Felt For 5 Aboard Lost Plane

SEATTLE, Wash., April 4.—(INS.—Fear for the safety of five passengers aboard a Boeing flying boat long overdue from Vancouver, B. C., was greatly increased here today as another day dawned without word from the missing fliers.

The plane was reported to have hopped off from Vancouver, at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon to complete the last leg of an Alaskan flight.

Passengers aboard the boat included T. McCarthy, head of the International Airways his wife, and Mrs. J. W. McCord, wife of the president of the McCord-Alaskan Livestock and Fur Growers; E. J. Burke, formerly of the Canadian air force, pilot of the plane, and G. Nortic, mechanic.

FISH RUM HUNT CASE PUSHED

NEW YORK, April 4.—Stuyvesant Fish, Jr., last night challenged the statements of coast guard officials concerning the search of his yacht for liquor in New York Harbor Saturday evening. He declared his determination to resist to the limit any effort to officially "whitewash" the incident.

He reiterated his charges that he and his family had been covered by revolvers in the hands of the government agents, and he had been told by them that he was fortunate they had not turned a machine gun on him.

Mr. Fish conferred with Congressman F. H. La Guardia, who is making an independent investigation. He also consulted attorneys relative to other action.

While on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange yesterday, Mr. Fish was handed a letter containing an anonymous message, typed in capital letters on a scrap of yellow paper, reading as follows:

"WE'LL HOOK YOU YET, YOU BIG FISH, IF YOU DON'T KEEP QUIET."

Mr. Fish, repeating his accusations, said:

"The yacht is only 27 feet long, but Brophy took 30 minutes to search every nook and corner. I told him to put away his gun, and told the crew also to lower their guns. I did not know at what instant they might accidentally discharge one of the pistols, which were aimed at my wife and two boys."

MRS. HOOVER DRIVING OWN CAR MAKES CAPITAL GASP

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(INS.)—Another Washington precedent was knocked galley-west today when Mrs. Herbert Hoover took the wheel of her own private automobile and drove several women companions for a ride in her new car, unaccompanied by chauffeur or the usual secret service operative.

Old Washingtonians could not remember when the wife of a President drove her own equippage. Certainly none ever has driven her own automobile about the streets of the capital.

The new car is a dark sedan and has no distinctive markings or number plate. Mrs. Hoover plans to make extensive use of it.

Accompanying Mrs. Hoover on this morning's ride were Mrs. Adolph Ochs, wife of the New York publisher; Mrs. Edgar Rickard and the latter's daughter.

WIDOW BEATEN, MAID SLAIN

CHICAGO, April 4.—(AP.)—What at first appeared to be an attempted murder, followed by suicide, had turned today into a mystery in which a third person may have played a murderer's part.

Two aged women—a wealthy widow and her maid—were found in the former's apartment yesterday. The maid, Mrs. Ida Peterson, was dead, a bread knife plunged in her neck. Her mistress, Mrs. Helen Kelso, 70, was near death from hammer blows.

The first theory of police was that the maid, 67, had beaten Mrs. Kelso over the head with a hammer and then had taken her own life.

ONCE IN ASYLUM

Mrs. Peterson, who had been a maid for Mrs. Kelso for 27 years, at one time was an inmate of the state hospital for the insane and suffered from what her physician called "recurrent maniac depression." The physician, Dr. James Gill, said he had not seen the maid for some time, but he thought her condition had improved.

Circumstances tending to contradict the murder-suicide theory were found by investigators for the coroner's office. Physicians expressed doubt that the maid would have had sufficient strength to have plunged the knife into her neck with such force as to break off part of the blade. They also adduced from the blood that flowed from both that Mrs. Kelso may have been attacked after the maid had been slain.

VICTIM UNCONSCIOUS

The maid's body was found on a bed in her own room. A blood-covered hammer lay on the floor nearby. Mrs. Kelso, fully clothed, was found on the floor of her bedroom. Her skull was fractured and was unconscious. She had not regained consciousness early today and there were only slight hopes for her recovery.

Mrs. Kelso's husband was Charles G. L. Kelso, wealthy manufacturer of Belleville, Ont.

The attacks apparently took place some time Tuesday, but were not discovered until neighbors, alarmed at the continued silence, notified police who forced an entrance.

Five in Airplane Feared Lost Found Safe

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 4.—(INS.)—Fear that a Boeing plane flying from this city to Seattle with five passengers had met with a mishap was dissipated today when Mrs. E. J. Burke, wife of Capt. Burke, pilot of the plane, announced that she had received a telegram from her husband stating that the party had arrived safely in Seattle.

An unconfirmed report here stated that the plane had been forced down near Olympia Tuesday night and that the party had completed its trip to Seattle by automobile.

Auto Runs Down Marble Players, Killing Boy

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 4.—(INS.)—Stopping on the way to school to play marbles at Star Junction, near here, Richard Jenkins, 13, was killed when he was struck by an automobile reported to have been driven by Mildred Carr, a Perryopolis High School student.

Curtis Allison, the Jenkins' boy's companion, was seriously injured about the head in the crash. Richard's neck was broken.

Boris and Giovanna Engagement Talked

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, April 4. — (AP.) — Traveling incognito, King Boris, of Bulgaria, has arrived here and will see President Masaryk and Premier Benes.

It is believed here that all religious obstacles to his often-rumored engagement to Princess Giovanna of Italy have been cleared away and an early announcement of the engagement is expected.

DEFENSE OPENS IN EXTORTION PLOT TRIAL

"This is the latest bootlegging defense—framing up the magistrate and constable, with a story that they tried to frame the defendant," declared Attorney Charles B. Prichard in outlining the defense of Justice of the Peace C. J. Burke and Constable Frank Kasson, of Library, now on trial before Judge Richard W. Martin in Criminal Court on charges of extortion and malfeasance.

Because the trial was delayed an hour yesterday by the arrival of the stork at the home of S. S. Brant, a principal witness, the defendants were not placed on the stand until today to tell their side of the story. Kasson was scheduled to testify first, followed by Burke.

Alex Szalky, of Hazelwood, and other witnesses testified that the squire and constable, after Szalky had been arrested charged with transporting liquor, had offered to settle the case for $400. Szalky said he went to the county detectives, at whose suggestion he took $400 in marked money to the squire's office and turned it over to the constable. A moment later four detectives rushed in and arrested the squire and constable.

fectiveness. From the Federal side, the rebel dead could be seen lying upon the ground in heaps.

HIT ON THREE SIDES

Then came the turning point of the battle. Gen. Almazan sent Gen. Lopez against the rebel left flank. Meanwhile the Federal infantry pressed from the front. As the rebels began to give way before this combined attack, another Federal cavalry detachment swung into action against the rebel right flank.

Six rebel troop trains and a great quantity of supplies and ammunition, were captured. Five hundred rebel wounded were given immediate medical attention by the Federals. Requests for additional medical supplies to treat those wounded in the carnage were sent to this city.

The American town was subjected to a second bombing last night when a rebel monoplane roared over the twin border towns and dropped three missiles, one of which fell about 20 feet north of the line.

BOTH DROP BOMBS

NACO, Ariz., April 4.—(INS.)—Bombing of rebel troop trains early today with unknown results was answered soon after by two rebel planes which soared over Naco, Sonora, dropping nine missiles and scoring three direct hits on federal entrenchments containing loyal troops who are defending the town.

One house was damaged by a rebel bomb. No casualties were reported.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS' SCHISM REACHES COURT

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(INS.)—The troubles between certain factions of Christian Science reached the court stage today when six persons representing the parent church here filed a bill of complaint in Equity Court in Boston against six persons said to represent the mother church in the latter city.

The court was asked to require the defendants to show cause why a temporary injunction should not be issued against them, restraining them from inducing or persuading persons or firms not to sell a publication known as the Christian Science Watchman, or other publications of the trustees of the publishing society of the Parent Church.

The plaintiffs are followers of Mrs. Annie C. Bill, and charge that the latter found various plagiarisms in the writings of Mrs. Eddy, founder of Christian Science.

John V. Dittemore, William S. Campbell, Ina B. Kepner, Mabel Kelly, Hubert H. Kelner and Jessie E. Sinsabaugh are named as plaintiffs, while James A. Neal, Edward A. Merritt, William R. Rathvon, Annie M. Knott, George W. Adams and Clifford P. Smith are named as defendants.

FIVE CONVICTED IN RUM TRIALS FREE ON BAIL

Sam and Gus Meyers and James Swift, convicted in the South Side liquor conspiracy; Thomas C. Johnson and Thomas F. Wills, convicted in the Twenty-fourth Ward group in the North Side conspiracy, and Martin J. Grady, "Strip" politician, convicted of income tax evasion, were brought from the county jail to the federal building today for release under bail.

Approval of bonds, $15,000 for Grady, $5,000 for Wills and $10,000 each for the others, by Judge Nelson McVicar was required before release. Release on bail was ordered Tuesday by the United States Circuit Court on a writ of supersedeas pending argument for new trials.

John Coney and Frank Peters, employes of the Union Fishing Club, North Side, were released yesterday under $1,000 bail each, under the order. Other defendants in the North Side groups are expected to seek release on bail late today.

MORGAN ANGRY AT ACCUSATION

States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle's investigation to the effect that Morgan did bring in four bottles of liquor when he landed at this port from Panama March 25.

Morgan vigorously denies the charge and Tuttle made clear that no liquor actually was seen in the Morgan baggage, as custom officials yielded to his demand of "free entry" and passed the luggage uninspected.

Customs Inspector Louis E. Crawford told Tuttle that Morgan informed him that the alleged contraband—two bottles of whisky and two of champagne—were in his wife's baggage and intended for his father-in-law.

CASE "NOT CLOSED"

There will be no federal grand jury action, it was asserted Tuttle, although he admitted the case is "not finally closed." Tuttle intimated, however, that prosecution was unlikely for two reasons:

First—Morgan could, if he wished, claim immunity if asked to testify before the grand jury.

Second—Under the federal law a wife cannot testify against her husband in a criminal proceeding.

ORIE TAX CASE WITH JURY

The fate of Stanley Orie, brother of former Police Magistrate John W. Orie, accused of evading payments of income taxes, is now with the jury. At the conclusion of the charge of Judge F. P. Schoonmaker at 2:05 o'clock this afternoon, the jury began deliberating.

The Orie trial began late yesterday, the government contending that Orie had an income of $51,611.78 in 1926, and $23,618.37 in 1927, subject to taxes of $5,128.99 and $1,165.37, respectively, on which he was charged with having filed no returns.

The Orie tax case forced a delay in the Strip rum conspiracy trial listed for today. Orie is one of the 27 defendants who were to go on trial. Among those indicted are State Assemblyman Luke Sullivan and former Magistrate Orie.

Driver Held After Fatal Auto Crash

GREENSBURG, Pa., April 4.—Tony Jones, 45, of Greensburg, driver of an automobile which was forced from the road and in which Arthur Hendrick, 38, local court tipstaff and World War veteran, lost his life when he was thrown against the steering wheel, has been ordered held on a charge of involuntary manslaughter, pending the coroner's inquest. Jones has posted $1,000 bail.

ing to the sick and all who needed him."

A letter was read from Dr. Boyce that he did not take exceptions to his dismissal, but rather to the manner in which it had been attempted. He reiterated his love for the church and declared he would remain faithful to it.

When the question was asked why Dr. Boyce had not been provided for in the budget and if there was any reason except age for his dismissal, no explanation was forthcoming.

Members of the session apparently were unanimous in expressing regard for Dr. Boyce, but many felt that a younger man was needed to assist Dr. Galbreath, who, they said, was overburdened.

The objection most frequently voiced to the dropping of Dr. Boyce was that the congregation had not been consulted.

The first intimation that he was not to be re-engaged was the absence of any appropriation for him in the budget prepared by the trustees for 1929. Shortly afterward an anonymous letter sent to members of the congregation, under signature of the "Welfare Committee," protested the action of the trustees without congregational approval.

JUSTICE DENIES RUM 'FIXING'

Justice of the Peace C. J. Burke, of Library, and his constable, Frank Kasson, on trial in Criminal Court, charged with extortion, entered general denials today of demanding $400 to settle a liquor case against Alex Szalky, truck driver, of Hazelwood.

Burke testified that Szalky had offered him the money.

Burke, according to the prosecution, offered to substitute water for the moonshine in two jugs that were found on Szalky's delivery truck.

Kasson related that Szalky made the offer after he had been held for court by Burke.

"I arrested Szalky after he had asked me for road directions. I smelled moonshine on his truck and searching it, found two jugs," Kasson testified.

GREENSBURG MAYOR FOR REVISION

GREENSBURG, Pa., April 4.—Westmoreland County, with more than 150,000 wage earners, including workers in the mining, manufacturing and agricultural industries, favors a reduction of taxes on earned incomes.

Mayor Harry N. Yont, of Greensburg, sounded the keynote of the sentiment of his fellow Westmorelanders today when he declared unqualifiedly in support of the movement sponsored by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and other Hearst newspapers for cutting the tax on those whose living depends upon the work of brain or brawn.

LAWYERS FOR CUT

Mayor Yont, who also is a well-known member of the Westmoreland County bar, said that lawyers and other professional men, as well as salaried men and women, were outspoken in their advocacy of the movement.

"There certainly should be more differentiation between earned and unearned incomes when the government levies upon it for taxation," said Mayor Yont. "Greensburg is supported by its wage earners and home makers. Holders of so-called 'white-collar' jobs and manual workers are all in the same class in this matter of taxation, and they are our home-makers. They are the most numerous in our population—patrons of our merchants, patrons of our schools, and members of our churches. Anything that will lighten the burden on this great class of our people will be helpful to the community at large.

"What is true of Greensburg applies to every section of this county. The people are thrifty and the majority are home owners. Every person with whom I have discussed this all-important topic of revising downward the taxes on earned incomes agrees that it should be done before the next assessment period. I was not surprised when Secretary of the Treasury A. W. Mellon in his radio speech favored a reduction in the taxing of the wage earners. In this matter, his administration will have strong support in Westmoreland."

RAILROAD MEN SIGN

Readers of the Sun-Telegraph in Westmoreland County have been among the most eager signers of individual petitions. Among the number were many Pennsylvania railroad employes in Trafford and Derry. Scores of locomotive engineers have been enrolled among the petitioners.

Irwin, Jeannette, Latrobe, Delmont, Vandergrift, New Kensington, Blairsville, Mt. Pleasant, Monessen, Scottdale and West Newton are among the towns represented in the petitions which are sent almost daily to the office of the Sun-Telegraph. In the lists are many farmers and professional men and women. Business men in Westmoreland County have showed the same liberal viewpoint which has been expressed by those who voiced the sentiment in other sections of the state.

KAISER'S SISTER FOUND BANKRUPT, OWES $165,000

BONN, Germany, April 4.—(AP.)—Creditors of the bankrupt Victoria Subkoff, nee Princess Victoria Hohenzollern and sister of the former Kaiser, learned at their first meeting that within a half year Princess Victoria had accumulated debts totaling 660,000 marks (approximately $165,000) which she has scarcely any assets to cover.

The receiver appointed for Victoria called attention to the fact that only about 15,000 marks (about $3,750) were due on account of wages, repairs and running expenses. The great bulk of the debts was apparently for automobiles and luxuries.

As to Victoria's assets even her palace and family silver apparently do not belong to her, but are the property of her first husband's family. She has a yearly pension of 39,000 marks (about $9,750) from her husband's family, the Schaumburg-Lippes.

The administrator for the Schaumburg-Lippe estate declared that since her marriage to Subkoff, Victoria had been constantly in hot water financially. His own opinion was that, having been raised in luxury, she had no inkling of business methods.

LAWRENCE SUIT IN OIL STOCK DEAL HEARD

An action by David L. Lawrence, county chairman of the Democratic party, to recover $80,000 with interest from 1920, from E. N. Gillespie, former oil operator, is being heard before Judge Harry H. Rowand.

It is alleged by Lawrence that he and his friends were induced to invest in a syndicate which had been formed by Gillespie for the purpose of purchasing stock in the Guffey-Gillespie Oil Company in 1920. Lawrence put up $50,000, the amount of his allotment, which was later increased.

Others in the "pool" included State Senator James Coyne, the late Senator John P. Harris, the late Controller John Moore, Attorney B. B. McGinness, former City Treasurer Larry Goshorn, former County Commissioner James Houlahen. It is averred that Goshorn withdrew his stock, which was taken over by Lawrence.

Gillespie, it is alleged, was to manage the syndicate and was to open a special account representing the purchase of stock made in behalf of the plaintiff's associates. Lawrence alleges that Gillespie never turned over the stock certificates. He also avers no accounting was made to him.

Pastor Breaks Arms; Knows It 10 Days Later

MOUNTAIN LAKE, N. J., April 4.—(AP.)—The Rev. Dr. Charles S. MacFarland, general secretary of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, was confined to his home yesterday, painfully aware of the fact that he has gone about for 10 days with both his arms broken.

Dr. MacFarland received his injuries when he stepped from his automobile in New York to ask direction of a policeman. He tripped over a low fence surrounding a small park and threw his arms forward to break the fall. He was more concerned at that time about a wrench in his back and he had X-ray photographs taken of his spine.

No injury was discovered and the clergyman said nothing about the pain in his arms. New photographs disclosed the fractures.

FATHER SLAYS WIFE, SELF

REYNOLDSVILLE, Pa., April 4.—(INS.)—Driven into an insane rage by jealousy, Frank Chiffen, 55, fireman in a Reynoldsville silk mill, killed his wife, Gertrude, 40, with a pole ax early today and then shot himself to death.

Chiffen attacked his wife as she lay in bed. The woman's screams awakened their six children, the oldest of which, Frank, Jr., struck the father as the latter fled to the living room. Placing a crucifix in his left hand, Chiffen then seized a revolver and fired a shot through his brain.

THREE WOMEN FIND THRIFT PAYS UNEXPECTED PROFIT

"THERE is nothing more comforting than possession of a bank account when an emergency arises calling for the use of money," remarked Miss Madeline Kenan, of 5024 Liberty avenue, on being informed that she had been awarded a $10 thrift gift by the Sun-Telegraph.

MADELINE KENAN

Miss Kenan, an employe of the Monongahela National Bank, has bank book No. 6,007 in that institution, one of hundreds of savings accounts which this paper has enriched with deposits as part of its campaign to promote thrift.

Miss Kenan has had a joint account with her mother for some years. The best way to accumulate a competency, she said, is to make regular bank deposits. The goal for which to aim is to make thrift a habit.

Another $10 thrift gift has gone to Miss Alice H. Black, of 107 Bon Air avenue, Mt. Oliver, holder of passbook No. 670 in the Terminal Trust Company.

A McGillick Savings and Trust Company depositor, Mrs. Ruth E. Hunter, of 316 South Graham street, also has received a $10 thrift award. Her bank book is No. 968.

RATE TO STAND, I. C. C. RULES

The Interstate Commerce Commission has refused to suspend the new freight rate schedule which went into effect yesterday and which removes a 15-cent differential against the Pittsburgh district and in favor of the Central Pennsylvania and Northern West Virginia operators on shipments to Eastern points.

The Monongahela Coal Operators' Association had petitioned the commission to suspend the new schedules which had been proposed by the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie and Pennsylvania railroads. The Central Pennsylvania Coal Operators' Association and the Keystone Coal and Coke Company of Greensburg had also protested against the new rates.

Members of the Monongahela association have been called to a meeting to be held tomorrow to decide what further action is to be taken against the aid given to the Pittsburgh district.

NEW LOT PLAN FOR CARRICK

A large new real estate development for Carrick is being planned by W. A. Bode & Co. on the 35 acres known as the Henry Semelrock property on the west side of Brownsville road beyond Wilson avenue. The deal for the tract has just been concluded at a price of $157,500.

Engineers are already on the ground. Streets will be cut through the property to Main street at the rear which will form a direct connection with the new Sawmill Run boulevard. The tract fronts 900 feet on Brownsville road. This frontage will be developed with commercial buildings.

Immediately beyond the stores will be an apartment house zone, and the property at the rear will be developed with single family dwellings. Several old buildings on the property will be torn down. It is expected that the street improvements will be completed by the latter part of May.

Bishop Brent's Body To Rest at Lausanne

BERNE, Switzerland, April 4—(AP.)—The body of Bishop Charles Henry Brent, of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Western New York, will be buried at Lausanne, in accordance with a wish he expressed during his illness. This was that he be buried where he died.

The municipality of Lausanne, where the Bishop was well known since the religious conference held there several years ago, has provided a place in the wooded Vaux Cemetery and will erect a monument there.

INMAN BROKE WIFE'S NOSE, TIRED OF HER, JURY TOLD

RENO, Nev., April 4.—(AP.)—Walker P. Inman, wealthy New Yorker, tired of his wife's beauty after he had altered it by breaking her nose, it was testified in his contested divorce suit yesterday.

A sister of Mrs. Inman, Mrs. Irene Patton Schloss, related details of the quarrel in which Inman is alleged to have struck his wife with damaging results to her profile, and quoted him as saying later:

"Helene was the most beautiful woman I had ever seen. Now she is getting fat, and with her broken nose, is not attractive any more."

Inman made the statement, the witness said, after he and Mrs. Inman had signed a separation agreement in 1927.

Gay times enjoyed by Inman prior to the separation were related to the jury to match previous testimony of indiscretions and too much drinking that had been directed at Mrs. Inman.

Mrs. Schloss told of an incident when Inman remained at the apartment of a Madge Burzell in New York and said that this had caused a quarrel between the Inmans.

The witness said she had never seen her sister intoxicated. Under cross-examination, she testified a Cuban banker named Mendoza was at Mrs. Inman's apartment the morning following a raid, and that Mrs. Inman visited Cuba later.

McConnell Urges Drive on Paganism

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP.)—A concerted drive on paganism by the forces of Christianity was urged by Bishop Francis J. McConnell, president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, at a dinner given in his honor at the Aldine Club last night.

"A lot of the self-expressionism evidenced in modern life and literature is only paganism, and we must attack it stringently to eradicate it once and for all," the bishop said.

3 Killed as Plane Crashes While Warming Up

SCOTT CITY, Kan., April 4.—(AP.)—Three men were burned to death here today when a monoplane crashed to the ground and burst into flames. The dead are Dr. C. C. McGinnis, Scott City surgeon; Chester Riley, a Scott City traveling salesman, and John Flournoy, of Wichita, the pilot.

Flournoy had taken the plane, belonging to Bert Schmidt, a Wichita oil operator, into the air to warm it up preparatory to starting on a fishing trip to Colorado with a party of men. The plane crashed from an altitude of about 500 feet, catching fire as it struck the ground.

Schmidt and two other men, who were to have been passengers on the trip to Colorado, saw the crash.

Hoover Brings Quiet To Quakers' Church

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP.)—The presence of President Hoover in the congregation is about to bring a blessing of added quiet at the Friends' Meeting House where he worships.

A recent re-routing of heavy passenger busses provided a loading stop at the corner where the little meeting house stands. The resulting noise was said to have disturbed the services to such an extent that the bus owners suggested to the utilities commission a change of route during meeting hours.

MEXICAN TROOPS CONVOY AUTO OF LINDY AND ANNE

MEXICO CITY, April 4.—Following an airplane flight over the valley of Mexico, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, accompanied by his fiancee, Miss Anne Spencer Morrow; her sister, Elizabeth Constance Morrow, and their mother, Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, motored to the Morrow country estate at Cuernavaca this afternoon. The automobile was convoyed by a heavy armed guard of Mexican federals.

Lindbergh flew alone when he made his morning flight.

Dwight W. Morrow, American ambassador to Mexico, and father of Anne, remained in Mexico City.

Contrary to reports in the United States, Anne Morrow does not intend to fly to Brownsville. The reports are thought to have had their origin to inquiries made by the embassy secretary for the passage of her sister from Mexico City to Brownsville by air.

Constance, who is a student at Milton Academy, Milton, Mass., has been visiting here during her Easter holidays. Returning to college, she plans to fly Saturday as a passenger on the Mexico City-Brownsville line, and then take a train for the rest of the journey.

COULTAS' WAGE TO BE 'DOCKED'

George Coultas, of the Bureau of Building Inspection and official goal judge of the National Hockey Association, will be docked five days' pay for being absent from city duty during February, according to Controller Henry O. Evans. Coultas' salary is $225 a month.

The Controller made that recommendation today after receiving conflicting reports as to Coultas' whereabouts during five days in February.

Coultas was reported as being in an automobile tour early in March with Roy D. Schooley, member of the county tax board. Controller Evans approved full pay at that time because Clark explained that Coultas had taken his annual vacation at that time.

Evans later was advised that Coultas made previous trips to Canada with the Pittsburgh hockey team between February 21 and 27. A hotel in Ottawa confirmed to Evans the presence of Coultas there in February, the Controller declared.

Sinclair Pays Final Teapot Litigation Bill

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP.)—The New York American today says that Harry F. Sinclair has settled the last remaining litigation over the Teapot Dome oil leases by payment of $60,000 to Mrs. Jane Clay Zevely, widow of Col. James W. Zevely, personal counsel and confidant of Sinclair.

Mrs. Zevely sued for $544,000, alleging that her husband in July, 1922, turned over to Sinclair 32,000 shares of the Mammoth Oil Company, the firm which acquired the Teapot Dome lease, which later was canceled by the government.

Washington Lions Donate Eye Clinic

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 4.—A clinic for the treatment of eyes supported by the Lions Club of this city at the Washington Hospital was dedicated yesterday. Charles Hart, president of the club, made the presentation and the clinic was accepted by S. D. Hunter, superintendent of the institution. Dr. J. B. McMurray, chief advisor, was made an honorary member of the club.

Inability to Spell Whisky Frees Seller

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP.)—Fabian Lavelle, 12, arrested when attempting to sell on the street a quart of whisky he found in an automobile, has been freed by Federal Commissioner Cotter. The boy was unable to spell whisky when the commissioner asked him to. His parents were warned to take care of him.

Chicagoan Asks Bombers Be 'Kind' To New Home

CHICAGO, April 4.—(AP.)—John Landis purchased the home of former Chief of Police Charles Fitzmorris yesterday, and then, having heard that the place had been bombed once or twice, asked the newspapers to print a little notice for him.

"I thought if a little notice was put in the paper about the sale of the home," he wrote, "it would prevent a recurrence of bombings. I'm sure the bombing interests in Chicago will be kind enough to take note of this."

Until the notice appears, Landis and his family are staying at a hotel. Landis, an investment broker, came here recently from Boston.

SCHOOL HOURS PUT UP TO CITY

Rebuffed by the State Legislature, the executive committee of the Pittsburgh Parents' Association will meet late today to decide on its next step in the campaign to shorten the seven-hour school day.

The House Committee on Education announced in Harrisburg yesterday that the Marcus bill, which would reduce the school day to five and one-half hours, had been buried, not because it lacked merit but because the committee felt it was a matter for the Pittsburgh Board of Education rather than the Legislature.

'From what I know of the temper of the parents, they propose to fight this to the end," Attorney C. Elmer Bown, a member of the association's executive committee, said today.

Barber Beauticians Will Dine Tonight

The class of barber beauticians, which has just completed a two-year course of night sessions in the Allegheny Vocational School, will hold its annual dinner in the Roosevelt Hotel tonight.

This class, originated by C. A. Minetti, of the South Side, who is also president of the body, was made possible by the Pittsburgh Board of Education, which furnished the class room, supplies, instruments and instructors. The course of instructions included histology of the skin and hair, hygiene, sanitation, bacteriology and chemistry.

HIT BY AUTOS, WOMAN, BOY KILLED

An unidentified woman and a boy are dead, victims of auto accidents, and a second boy is in critical condition.

The woman, who died of a fractured skull in Presbyterian Hospital today, was struck by an auto at North avenue and Palo Alto street. The driver, John Kusner, 21, of 1332 Marshall avenue, was arrested.

The woman was about 42, and may have been a foreigner, police believe. She was five feet, four inches in height, weighed about 120 pounds and had bobbed hair. She wore a red coat trimmed with dark fur, a light blue skirt and a cream-colored crepe de chine waist. Her shoes were black low-cuts with buttons. She had three rings—one containing an opal and two small pearls, another three stones resembling diamonds and the third a large pink gem.

Harry Green, 7, of Edgewood avenue, Lincoln place, died of a fractured skull an hour after he was struck by an auto near his home. Louis E. Young, of Port Vue, was turned over to the coroner as the driver.

Robert Goettman, 8, of 1810 Wals street, North Side, hit by an auto near his home, was reported in serious condition in Allegheny General Hospital, his skull probably fractured. The driver was said to have been Herbert Mohr, 20, of 1929 Bader street.

Brother and Sister Burned in Explosion

NEW CASTLE, Pa., April 4.—Earl Johnson, 18, of near Portersville, is in the New Castle Hospital with serious burns suffered in an explosion of a carbide lighting system in his home. It is believed that the gas generated in the system, which he was repairing, and ignited from the flame of a lantern. His sister, Miss Bertha Johnson, also was burned severely.

Forced to Wed, Wife Says in Divorce Suit

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 4.—Charging that she was forced into the marriage by threat of death by shooting, Anna Broccolo, of 154 Harding avenue, this city, has instituted divorce proceedings in the Washington County courts against Adolph Broccolo, of Beechview. They were married October 26. Mrs. Broccolo denies she ever lived with Broccolo as his wife.

TEAR BOMBS MADE HERE ROUTING MEXICAN REBELS

Tear gas bombs intended for use against the rebel forces of Mexico are being manufactured in Pittsburgh.

Aerial bombs, hand grenades and mortar shells, all intended to disperse and render fighting men helpless without inflicting any bodily harm are being shipped across the Rio Grande regularly by the Federal Laboratories, Inc., of 1631 Liberty avenue, with the full sanction of the United States government.

The bombs are supplied principally for aerial attacks. Mexican pilots lay a barrage of tear gas bombs ahead of the advancing Federal troops, and the rebels are rendered helpless. There is a period of violent sputtering as the stinging gas hits full force in the eyes and nostrils, but its effect is only temporary and as the atmosphere clears the victims are none the worse for their experience, except, perhaps, that they may be prisoners by the time they recover—if they haven't been machine-gunned while unable to fire at the airman.

Gen. Juan F. Azcarate, in charge of aviation affairs for the Mexican government, recently visited the Federal Laboratories here to purchase the bombs. He spent almost a week here, witnessing experiments and inspecting equipment for the Federal fighting forces below the Texan frontier. Aerial tests were carried on secretly within 20 miles of Pittsburgh, huge bombs having been dropped from planes just as is done in actual warfare.

Satisfied with the tests here, he returned to his war-torn country to expedite the use of the new weapon against the insurgents. Now large shipments are being rushed to Mexico daily.

Fire Destroys Two Cottages Near Erie

ERIE, Pa., April 4.—(AP.)—Fire destroyed two cottages about six miles west of here and threatened an entire colony today. The Erie fire department controlled the blaze. The origin of the fire was not determined.

FRANCE PAYS HOMAGE TO AMBASSADOR HERRICK

Gouraud, Duball and Lasson. Members of the government were there in full, headed by Premier Poincare and Foreign Minister Briand.

The short discourses made were of a sincere and unpretentious eloquence.

Gen. John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American Expeditional Force, was the first to say goodby to the ambassador.

Gen. Pershing paid tribute "to my friend" and told of the ambassador's life, from early boyhood to plenipotentiary of his country to France. The general seemed aged and worn as he spoke, visibly betraying the effect of the loss of two of his best friends within two weeks.

He painted Ambassador Herrick so faithfully, as every one present knew him, that his words struck a responsive chord. Many eyes were wet. Pershing's voice vibrated with unmistakeable signs of his own emotion.

Count Quinones de Leon, the Spanish ambassador, who represented the diplomatic corps as its dean, next spoke, and told with obvious affection of the qualities of loyalty and patriotism which had made Ambassador Herrick's work so fruitful.

Premier Poincare, who spoke last, surpassed himself.

Poincare read his eulogy from manuscript. His voice faltered somewhat as he recalled occasions during the war when he came in contact with Ambassador Herrick. Marshal Petain and Franchet D'Esperey seemed to be his closest listeners and glanced with significant approval at one another as his discourse was finished.

The ceremony at this stage was so quiet that Marshal Petain's dry cough, which he was unable to repress, caused something of a shock among the 300 present.

The thousands who lined the street in front of the embassy overflowing into the Trocadero Gardens alongside, remained motionless and speechless, heads bared, as the ambassador's body left the embassy for the last time.

Among those at the church was Elihu Root, who joined the pallbearers there. Root had come to Paris from Geneva to visit Herrick, but had arrived too late to see his old friend again in life.

J. P. Morgan, who was unable to attend the ceremonies at the embassy was present at the church service. He entered alone and took the place reserved for him, but left with the other pallbearers.

Dean Beekman read the usual Episcopal service for the dead in the presence of as many people as could crowd into the church. Then all was over but the honors still to be paid to the ambassador's body at Brest, where the swift cruiser Tourville waited to carry it across the waters to the ambassador's home land.

WOMAN ADMITS STABBING MAN

Mrs. Bessie Dougan, 35, admitted in Morals Court today that she had stabbed Matthew V. Russo, 30, in her home at 6 Marion street.

Russo, in serious condition with a leg wound, tried to attack her, Mrs. Dougan testified.

Mrs. Dougan was arrested at Mercy Hospital when she went there to inquire about Russo's condition. Russo had refused to reveal who had stabbed him, but the sleuths located the Dougan home through the taxicab driver who took Russo to the hospital early today.

The detectives reported that they found a blood stained butcher knife in a Dougan bedroom and blood stains on the floor.

Mrs. Dougan was held, pending developments in Russo's condition.

Perrin, Noted Artist, Ends Life on Street

OMAHA, Neb., April 4.—(AP.)—A man who committed siucide on a downtown street here by shooting himself, was identified yesterday as E. W. Perrin, 35, nationally known illustrator of Norwalk, Conn. Perrin, according to relatives, recently suffered a nervous breakdown.

asked the State Department to rule upon where Mrs. Gann was to be ranked in the seating at official functions, i. e., was she or was she not going to be seated in the place that ordinarily is reserved for the "Second Lady," just below the wife of the President.

After duly consulting the authorities, Secretary of State Kellogg, his mind occupied with matters perhaps more weighty in the closing days of his administration, decided that when the Vice President was doing the entertaining Mrs. Gann should be seated as the "Second Lady," but that outside of the Curtis home his sister was to be ranked below the wives of foreign ministers.

WANTS HIGH PLACE

Yesterday Vice President Curtis shattered all the precedents of precedent-loving and precedent-living Washington by officially protesting to the State Department, and in a public statement demanded that Mrs. Gann be accorded a rating higher than the wives of ambassadors and diplomats irrespective of who's doing the entertaining.

The town is on its ear about it.

The dowagers and the debutantes were discussing little else today, while the harassed young men of the State Department got their morning coats dusty digging into the files for precedents and authorities. The row has penetrated even to the cave-dwellers of Georgetown, who consider all new administrations as not quite up to the standard of the Adamses.

UP TO STIMSON

The momentous decision rests with the grave-faced new Secretary of State, Henry L. Stimson, whose spare time is being taken up with such matters as the Mexican revolution, the tri-party protest of England, Canada and France over the sinking of the I'm Alone; famine and revolution in China; the Root world court plan; and discussions for new disarmament conferences.

It is a knotty problem for any secretary of state, and particularly so for Secretary Stimson, who has hardly got his chair warm.

If he upholds the ruling of Secretary Kellogg, his predecessor, he may conceivably offend the vice president.

If he overturns the Kellogg decision and accords Mrs. Gann the recognition her brother demands, he may conceivably offend some of the fifty-odd foreign diplomats, which is not a desirable thing to do from the standpoint of a new secretary of state.

PRECEDENTS DON'T FIT

There are precedents galore, but they don't quite fit the case. Bachelor and widower, presidents have had women relatives act as their hostesses from the time of Jefferson and extending clear through to Wilson. At White House functions they have occupied the place of the "first lady." Cabinet officers have had hostesses other than their wives, who, within their own homes were socially ranked as the first lady of the establishment.

But Vice President Curtis wants such recognition extended to Mrs. Gann irrespective of where she may be entertained. There's the rub. And what a rub it is.

And anyone who thinks it isn't a serious matter should have been listening in on the conversation at scores of fashionable dinner tables in Washington last night.

Washington does not forget that social warfares have caused cabinet changes in times gone by—and the recall of diplomats as well.

The situation is further complicated by the uncertain status of Mr. Gann, who is a Washington lawyer. If Mrs. Gann's official rank is in question that of her husband is doubly so.

Steaming hot in WINTER

TETLEY TEA

is a delightful year-round drink

IN SAVORY, steaming cups of dainty porcelain, when winter winds blow chill . . . in tall, tinkling glasses, amber-clear, when summer suns are scorching down. . . . Tetley Tea lends itself gracefully to any occasion—to any season. It is refreshing, invigorating—always.

Try Tetley hot. You'll find that that fagged feeling begins to fade away with the first cheering, stimulating sip. Try Tetley with crushed ice and the tarty tang of lemon. Cooling comfort and complete contentment will meet you at the rim of the glass. And, hot or cold, you'll know for all time that it is genuinely good tea.

Tetley Tea is economical too. It goes farther because it brews stronger, but it costs no more than ordinary teas. You can get it at your grocer's in pound, ½-pound and ¼-pound packets or in tea bags for individual service.

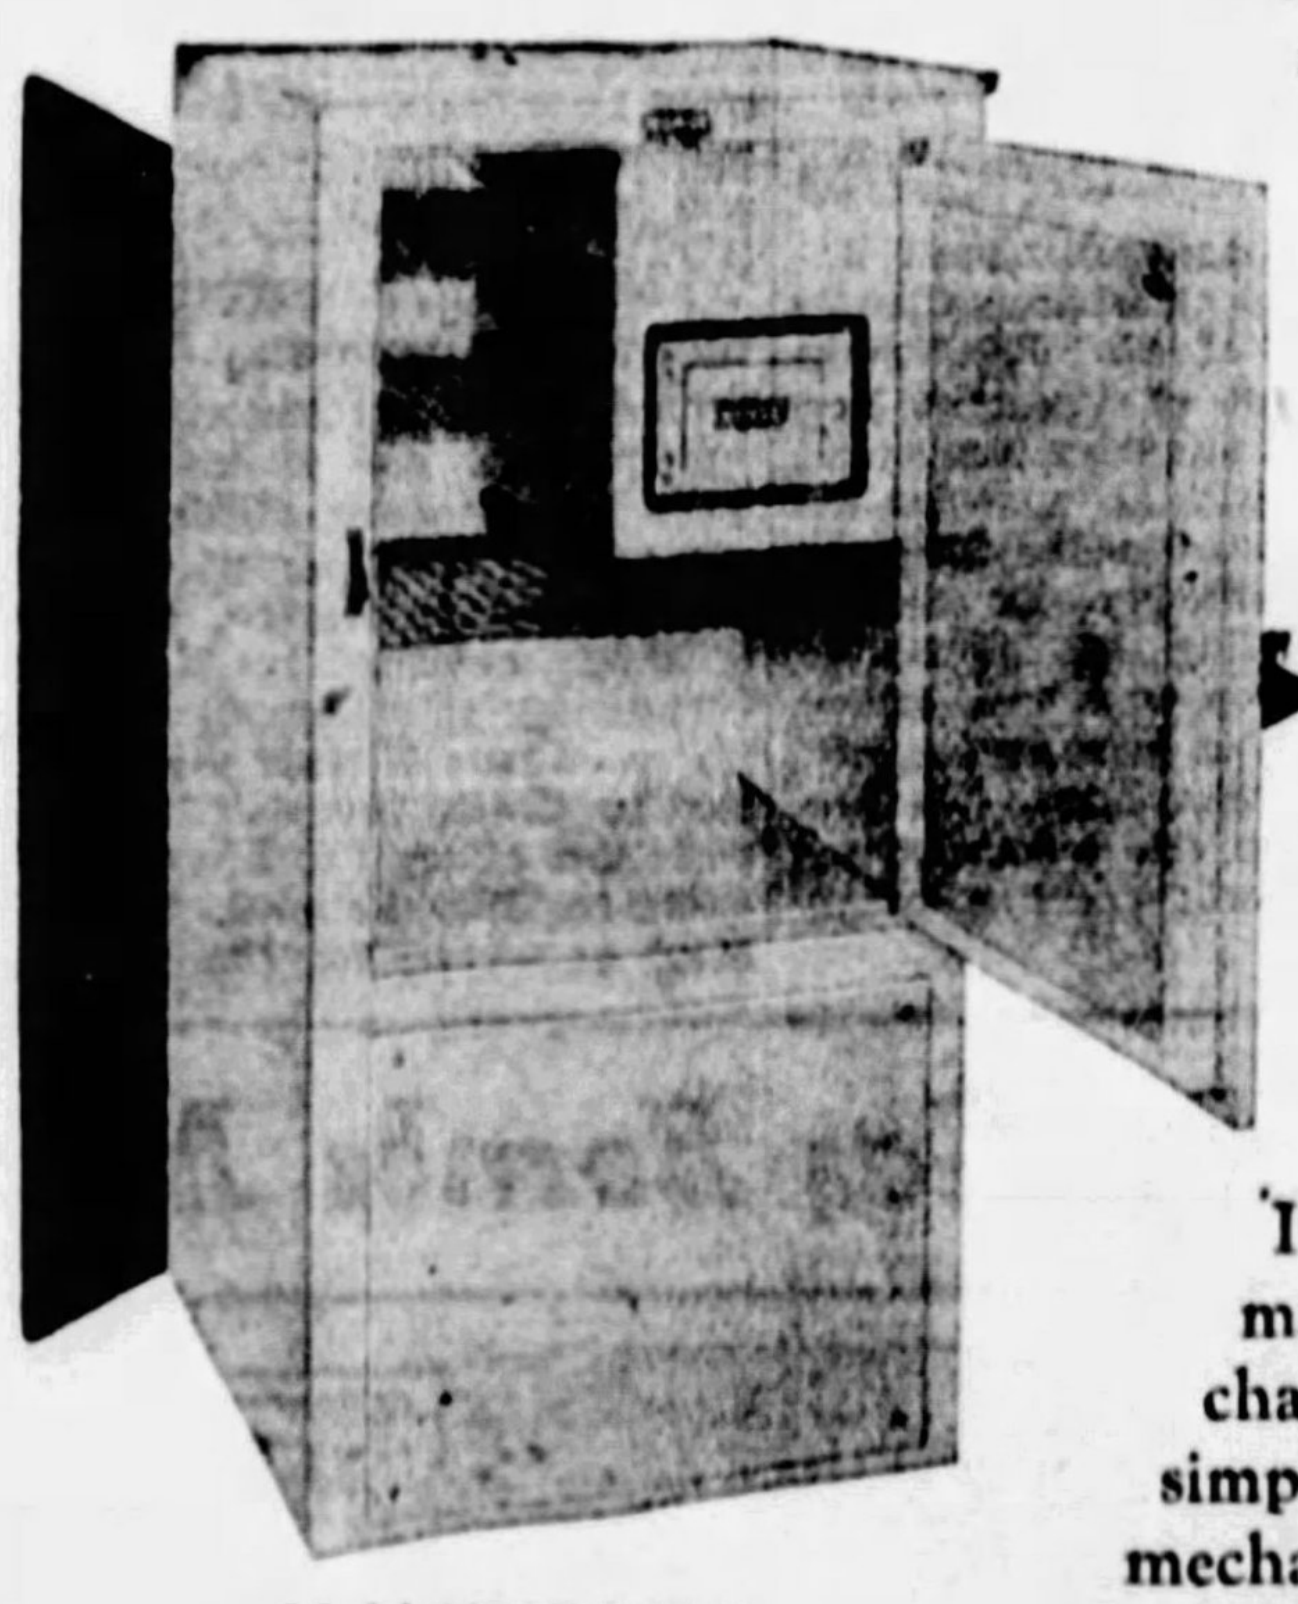
The Rotary Compressor—the heart of the Norge Refrigerator

Witness the most amazing value in Electric Refrigeration ever offered to the American public—The Norge "300", a 48½ x 24 x 22 Electric Refrigerator,—incorporating a rotary electric compressor that is years ahead of existing types of mechanical compressors. To see its many superiorities is to be impressed with its remarkably low price.

No other compressor is like the Norge Rotary Compressor. Like the famous Knight automobile engine, Time only serves to increase its original high efficiency. It compensates for its own wear and will last a lifetime. Thousands of Norge Electric Refrigerators now in use testify to their great public popularity.

It has fewer moving parts which make it the most quiet-running mechanical unit ever developed. The utter simplicity of its design eliminates the mechanical troubles of ordinary compressor units,—it has nothing to get out of order and nothing that requires attention. Once installed you can forget it—yet enjoy faultless, unfailing service for years to come.



Model "300" $195.00.

Sign This Petition and Help to Cut Taxes

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

To the Congress of the United States:

We, the undersigned, respectfully urge that the Congress of the United States give immediate consideration to the proposition that there be a downward revision of all income taxes on all earned incomes such as salaries or fees, or commissions for personal services. We urge this because of the many instances where wage or fee or commission earners sometimes have just a few years of good incomes and prior to and after that period have substantially less incomes. Their period of better earnings which might give the average wage earner a chance to accumulate some capital is heavily taxed and they seldom have a new opportunity which might tend to make more useful citizens of them.

Labor in general, lawyers, doctors, architects, clerical workers, salesmen, dentists, engineers, journalists, accountants, actors, motion picture actors, singers, musicians, and all the other professional people are in the same plight in the matter of earned income as distinguished from earnings on capital, and since they represent a great percentage of the citizenry of the country, we beg the gravest consideration of this proposition. Each signer below hereby enrolls as a member of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph League for the Downward Revision of Taxes on earned incomes and will work with that newspaper toward the end stated.

Permission is hereby granted the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph to list the signer in the proper Labor, Clerical or Professional Division of the said League for presentation to our signatures to the United States Congress for the stated purpose.

The signer is not obliged to make any kind of contribution or to do anything except to give his moral support to this movement.

U. S. SEEKS LAW TO CURB DOPE-DEALING DOCTORS

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Demand for enactment of a three-ply legislative program to strengthen existing anti-drug laws will be advocated by the Federal Narcotics Division.

As a first step the recommendations will be laid before President Hoover's law enforcement commission for consideration.

Chief purpose of the program is to break up the illicit dope traffic by unethical physicians and druggists.

The first plank would require druggists to prove good faith in filling narcotic prescriptions. This would prevent drug stores supplying dope to known addicts. The government has been handicapped in enforcement because of the lack of such a provision.

FIVE YEARS FOR FORGERS

The second would provide a fine of $2,000 and five years' imprisonment for forging, altering or raising narcotic prescriptions. Under present law an addict might raise a prescription from two grains to 10 grains of morphine and the government would be powerless to prosecute. All violations of this character can be prosecuted now only under state laws. Some of the states, however, do not have regulations covering narcotic forgeries.

The third and the most important, would give the federal government authority to withhold registration from a doctor who is addicted to dope, or from any person convicted of a narcotic offense.

FLAGRANT ABUSES CITED

At present the government must register to prescribe or sell narcotics any physician or druggist who possesses a state license. Theer is no authority whatever to deny registration even if the doctor or druggist has been convicted of violating the law.

Several flagrant abuses have arisen, government experts declare, because of the absence of this discretionary power.

In a recent case arising in the West a physician was found to be prescribing as high as 480 grains of morphine at a time. It was clearly a violation of professional ethics. The doctor was convicted in lower courts but on an appeal his case was dismissed on a technicality. Some months later the doctor again was enmeshed in the law for peddling dope behind the cloak of his medical license.

IN PRISON, KEEPS LICENSE

The government won the second case and the doctor was sent to prison. A narcotic agent appealed to the State Medical Board to revoke the physician's license. Nothing was done. The government's hands were tied.

In another case a doctor prescribed more dope in a year than was used in the same time by four of the largest hospitals in Philadelphia, and yet the government could not refuse to register him.

According to experts of the public health service, at least 25 per cent of dope addiction is caused by administration of drugs by doctors. To meet this situation the government feels that sharper teeth should be put into existing laws.

DRY VIOLATORS SENTENCED

Abe Feldman, of Pittsburgh, and Stanley Slawski, of Ambridge, were convicted Wednesday in Federal Court of violating the national prohibition law. The latter was found guilty of selling and possessing liquor and Feldman was convicted of unlawful transportation and possession of 50 gallons of moonshine whisky. They will be sentenced later.

Anton Schubert, of East street, North Side, pleaded guilty to violating the liquor law, and was sentenced to serve four months in jail and pay a fine of $300. Mike Mangia, of Altoona, a self-confessed violator of the dry law, was fined $300 and sentenced to three months in jail. Mary Slat, of 1441 Penn avenue, was fined $200 when she pleaded guilty of violating the prohibition law. Joseph Raddis, of Bruceton, was fined $300, and W. E. Rice, Pittsburgh, was fined $500, when they pleaded guilty of violating the liquor laws.

Mount Union Alumni To Meet Tomorrow

OFFICER SLAIN BY OWN GUN IN ACCIDENT

Deputy coroners today are investigating the death of Adam J. Vollrath, 48, of 519 Ross street, Carnegie, a borough policeman, who died late yesterday in the hallway of his home from a bullet wound in the head. His service revolver was found nearby, morgue attaches said.

Although the case was reported as a suicide to the coroner's office by a physician, who pronounced him dead, police who investigated expressed the belief that the shooting was accidental.

Pointing to the fact that Vollrath was in good spirits and health, Lieut. Harry Kiesling, of the Carnegie force, said that Vollrath a few minutes before had disconnected a gas heater at his wife's request. Circumstances indicated that Vollrath, prepared for duty, gun in hand, had stumbled down the stairs, Carnegie police said.

Vollrath, who had been a member of the force more than three years, leaves his widow and two children, Roy, 15, and Catherine, 13.

SHRINE CHIEF TO VISIT CITY

Officers and nobility of Syria Temple will give a reception at the Mosque Saturday evening to Noble Frank C. Jones, imperial potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of North America.

Imperial Potentate Jones will arrive in Pittsburgh Saturday at 2 o'clock. He will be met at Pennsylvania Station and will be escorted to his quarters in the William Penn Hotel by Syria's official family and all of the uniformed units.

The route of the parade will be from Pennsylvania Station down Liberty avenue to Sixth avenue, to Grant street, to Oliver avenue, to William Penn Hotel. Syria's baby camel will be a feature of the parade.

This is the first official visit of the imperial potentate to the oasis of Pittsburgh. He will remain in the city over Sunday and will be met here on Monday morning by a delegation of Akron, O., Shriners, who will escort him to their city.

4 Families Homeless In Beaverdale Fire

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 4.—Four families were left homeless at Beaverdale when four frame dwellings were destroyed by fire with a loss of $20,000. Some of the occupants narrowly escaped with their lives. For a time the blaze threatened to communicate to the Central school building and Greek Catholic Church, but volunteer firemen, summoned from neighboring towns, checked the flames.

EX-MAIL CARRIER CALLS KONJOLA BEST MEDICINE

North Side Resident Suffered Ten Years—Famous Remedy Gained Splendid Victory.

Surprising as it may seem, this new and totally different medicine of 32 ingredients, 22 of which are the juices from roots and herbs, Konjola is at the very peak, the apex of its amazing and matchless merits in those obstinate and chronic cases of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles or rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness, that have defied and resisted all medicines and treatments tried. Just how Konjola performs its seeming miracles is being explained daily by the Konjola Man, who is at the Dow Drug Company, (formerly McCulloch's), Penn avenue and Sixth street, Pittsburgh, where he is besieged by men and women who call to find out all about the merits of Konjola. The Konjola Man's mission is a glorious one, for it is his duty to point out the glorious road to health to all who seek escape from pain and suffering. He will make no sweeping promises, high-sounding claims or theories, for he does not have to, as Konjola stands on a bed-rock foundation of accomplishments and results, and it is results that count. What a world of hope and courage there is in the report that Mr. John G. Wagnar, retired mail carrier, 1901 Federal street, North Side, Pittsburgh, made to the Konjola Man a few days ago. Radiant with new health, Mr. Wagnar said:

MR. JOHN G. WAGNAR

"As unbelievable as my case may seem, every word of this statement is the truth. I am telling the public about Konjola because I am firmly convinced it is a boon to suffering humanity. I did not know what it was to be free of stomach trouble for the past ten years. Daily and rapidly I grew worse. Soon it became impossible to eat a meal without suffering afterward. Intense pains centered in the lower part of my stomach; gas formed and pressed against my heart, causing palpitation and additional pains. Many times, when I was still on the job, it was necessary for me to stop in some place and take soda for relief. I was subject to dizzy spells, too. I lost weight and strength, was but a shadow of my former self.

"One day I first heard of Konjola and from that time on I read the many indorsements in the papers. Of course, I did not think it would help me, at first. Yet my faith in Konjola grew and finally I determined to find out for myself what this medicine would do. That was a wise decision, for I was not long in discovering it was what I should have had in the first place. Konjola went right to work; I could almost feel it. My organs were cleansed and invigorated. My digestion was restored and my appetite increased. I have greater strength and energy and am steadily gaining in weight. I eat, sleep and feel like a different person and owe all my health to Konjola. It is, indeed, the master medicine."

Konjola contains no alcohol, nerve-deadening drugs, nor heart-depressing chemicals. It needs no such hazardous ingredients, for it is all medicine, every drop, and every drop works.

The Konjola Man is at the Dow Drug Company (formerly McCulloch's), Penn avenue and Sixth street, this city, where he is meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this master medicine.

SALVATIONISTS BOARD MEETS

Reports on the work of the Salvation Army in Western Pennsylvania, and Allegheny County in particular, will be presented at the annual meeting of the army's advisory board, at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The gathering, which will bring together many of the business and professional men who have supported the army's work, will be held in the office of Attorney George E. Alter, chairman of the finance committee, who will preside.

Lieut. Col. Joseph Atkinson, divisional commander, will report on the progress for the last year and the budget for the coming fiscal year. Reports on other phases of the army's work will be made by Staff Capt. Clifford Lockwood and Adjt. W. B. Fowle.

Marathon Champions To Hold Dance Friday

Echoes of the marathon dance craze are to reverberate through the Rittenhouse, Highland and Penn avenues, Friday night. The occasion will be the marathon champions' dance, with Esther and Arthur Pascale as hostess and host. The Pascales will be remembered as the mother and son team, most popular of the marathon entrants.

A prize waltz and a floor show by professional talent from the theaters will feature the affair. The dance will be open to the public.

COULD HARDLY GET HER BREATH

Pittsburgh Lady Surprised Way Ten Herbs Ended Her Health Troubles.

A remarkable number of local men and women have declared that the celebrated new natural medicine, Ten Herbs, gave them relief from long suffering. Some say that the action of this compound on the whole inner system is really amazing. Every person suffering from stomach, liver, kidney or bowel disorder, rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness, or a general weak, rundown condition, should learn more about Ten Herbs by calling at May's Main Store, Fifth and Liberty, Pittsburgh, where this tremendously successful preparation is being introduced.

"I was greatly surprised at the way Ten Herbs helped me—it was just the medicine I needed," was the statement of Mrs. Mary Mullaney, 1200 Beaver Avenue, N. S., Pittsburgh. "Before taking your medicine I was troubled a great deal with indigestion after eating. I was sure to have heartburn, and my stomach would fill with gas, which would bloat me. Often the gas was so bad that it would press up against my heart so that I could hardly breathe. I had to keep taking some kind of laxative because of constipation.

"Having read in the papers about Ten Herbs and what it had done for some of my neighbors, I bought a bottle. It gave me great relief, and I continued taking your medicine until now I am feeling fine. Indigestion and constipation have been entirely relieved. I have no more gas or heartburn. I gladly recommend Ten Herbs to anyone who is troubled like I was."

Ten Herbs is a splendid spring tonic for every member of the family. It is a scientific compound of ten wonderful herbal ingredients each of which has a highly beneficial action on one or more organs of the body, and they thoroughly cleanse and tone up the whole human system.

Ten Herbs is being introduced at May's Main Store, Fifth and Liberty, Pittsburgh, and is sold at all May's Drug Stores.

Glorified Hamburg

my husband's favorite dish

"How he loves it when it's cooked to delicious juicy rareness in this new tasty way."

Mix $1\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoons Gulden's Mustard with $\frac{1}{4}$ cup boiling water. Add this to $1\frac{1}{2}$ pound ground round steak. Season with 1 teaspoon salt. Make into cakes. Baste the meat as it broils so that it gets the full benefit from the juice in the pan.

WHAT a difference a change of seasoning can make! Try Gulden's mellow blend of stimulating mustard seeds and rare spices in your cooking. See how it brings out a hidden flavor in meats that's wonderfully appetizing—adds a delightful new taste to sauces and gravies—makes left-over dishes more appealing.

Our free booklet, "Seasoning Secrets" gives you 63 suggestions from expert cooks. Write for copy, Charles Gulden, Inc., Dept. TT, 48 Elizabeth St., New York City.

Eczema in Form of Rash. Had to Cut Hair. Healed by Cuticura.

"Eczema broke out on the back of my head in the form of an itchy rash. For a time it was in large blotches on my neck. I could not sleep on account of the burning and itching. I scratched and irritated the affected parts, and had to have some of my hair cut off. I could not sleep.

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in two weeks there was an improvement, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. M. Fritz, 859 Keiffer St., Bethlehem, Pa., July 3, 1928.

GRIPS OF GIRL SUICIDE FOUND

FORD CITY, April 4.—Hidden in the earth under old moulds used in casting at the Eljer Pottery plant, workmen dug up a bundle containing a suit case and a smaller handbag. In the suit case was an array of silk stockings, dresses, negligees and other wearing apparel, all of which appeared to be new. In the smaller bag was more clothing and four $50 bills.

The police were notified and it was found that each bag was marked "M. N." and a small book in the small bag contained a number of addresses.

It was found that the bags were owned by Mary Novak, who last Friday took poison and died Monday morning.

The finding of these bags adds to the mystery that has surrounded the girl's suicide. The only motive she gave, was that "I am not wanted at home."

Investigation showed that since she was 17 she had worked in Pittsburgh and had seldom visited Ford City.

"JOKE" HOLDUP PAIR HELD

Held up and robbed by two masked bandits, Charles Matthews, a Negro, of 638 Kirkpatrick street, snatched a pistol from one of them and shot him in the shoulder, according to testimony given in Morals Court today at the hearing of Philip Gallo, 20, of 1817 Tustin street, and Tony Getano, 17, of 1216 Clark street. Magistrate Leo A. Rothenberg held the pair for court, although they said the holdup was only a practical joke.

Matthews is watchman for the Fox Film Company, 1014 Forbes street, where the holdup occurred Tuesday night.

12 Clubs Pledge Aid in Foster Drive

Twelve organizations pledged cooperation in the movement to erect a memorial building in honor of Stephen C. Foster, famed composer, at a tea held yesterday afternoon in the Woodland road residence of Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh, chairman of the women's organization in the project. The organizations were: The Civic Club of Allegheny County, Crafton Women's Club, Dormont New Century Club, Edgewood Cot Club, Housekeepers Club, Irene Kaufmann Settlement, New England Colony Club, Oakland Women's Club, Pittsburgh Literary and Musical Club, Southern Club, Wilkinsburg Women's Club and Women's Club of Pittsburgh.

Prohibition Raider Acquitted of Murder

ALLENTOWN, Pa., April 4.—(AP.)—John A. Huebner, alias John Daly, "under cover" prohibition agent, today was acquitted in the Lehigh County Court here of the fatal shooting December 22 of W. L. Yocum, suspected still operator of Emaus, in a liquor raid on his alleged still at Hosensack in the Lehigh Mountains.

Maid Admits Theft Of $600 Diamonds

Phoebe Moltz, 32, maid, confessed in Morals Court today that she had stolen three diamond rings, valued at $600, from her employer, Miss Anna Stack, 25, of 913 Irwin avenue. She was held for court on a larceny charge.

MANN ACT VIOLATOR, GIRL TO WED; JUDGE RELENTS

The marriage of Joseph Pickles, 24, of Yateboro, Pa., and Mary Jane Curci, 17, of Wilmerding, was in prospect today. The plan was arranged partially late yesterday after Pickles had been sentenced by Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker to serve six months in jail. He had pleaded guilty to violating the Mann act by unlawfully transporting Miss Curci from Yatesboro to Struthers, O., in February.

Pending removal to jail from the office of the United States marshal, the prisoner and the girl, together with relatives and friends, discussed the escapade which had resulted in Pickles' arrest.

Assistant United States District Attorney Raymond D. Evans, who prosecuted the case for the government, was called into the conference and told that Pickles and the girl wanted to get married.

When this information was conveyed to Judge Schoonmaker the sentence was temporarily suspended. It was said they planned to marry today.

Mail Flier Injured As Plane Hits Wire

RICHMOND, Va., April 4.—(AP.)—Henry Merrill, Richmond-Atlanta mail pilot, was injured early today in a forced landing near Winterham, Va. His plane crashed when it struck a telephone line.

Grove City Tax Rate Cut

GROVE CITY, Pa., April 4.—Reduction in the borough tax rate from 18 to 16 mills has been approved by Council.

Real Estate

Mrs. E. K. Trent has closed an exchange deal with Don Rose involving two well-known properties in Sewickley, according to reports in real estate circles. Mrs. Trent has sold a brick colonial house and garage at 46 Beaver road, lot 130x160 feet. Mr. Rose deeded in return a frame residence on 160x350 feet on Bank street, near Chestnut street, on the route of the new Ohio River boulevard. The total consideration involved was about $75,000.

The Edgeworth Country Club has purchased approximately five acres of the Way property at Beaver road and Academy avenue, Sewickley. The ground will be used as a site for a new clubhouse to cost approximately $200,000.

A residence in Beechwood boulevard, lot 58x150 feet, has been sold by Samuel Cummings to William Alderdice for $15,000.

The Bank of Pittsburgh, N. A., trustee for the Alexander Dunbar estate, has sold to David E. Jackman, Jr., the residence at the northeast corner of Shady avenue and Bartlett street, Fourteenth Ward. The lot is 53x120 feet.

The Board of Public Education has filed plans for the foundation for an addition to the Herron Hill Junior High School at 3403 Milwaukee street.

Curt A. Rehtmeyer has purchased from Maria Thomas a brick residence and garage at 5415 Beacon street, Squirrel Hill. The lot is 54x160 feet.

John Murphy & Co. have sold to the F. H. Hill Company 78x147 feet in Fifth avenue, near Halket street, Oakland. The site adjoins the new Croatian fraternal building.

A cement residence at 5608 Forbes street, east of Wightman street, Squirrel Hill, has been sold by Dr. Charles H. Robinsteen to Frederick Drake. The deal was made through the Forbes-Murray Realty Company, Inc.

MORROW SPEAKS IN RADIO FEAT TONIGHT

TALK OVER MEXICO CITY PHONE TO BE BROADCAST

By DARRELL V. MARTIN, Radio Editor

ONE of the outstanding bits of remote control engineering in the history of radio broadcasting will occur tonight through WPG (272) and WOR (422) when the voice of Ambassador Dwight Morrow, speaking over a telephone in Mexico City, will be carried by land wire to these stations and amplified by a public address system so that it will be audible for the radio audience.

For the first time, we think, fans will have the opportunity of listening to the voice of Lindy's future father-in-law.

The broadcast is an intricate affair involving more than 2,000 miles of land wire and several amplifying units along the route. Although the feature may go on the air sooner, it is scheduled to open at 9:16 p. m. with an address by William Butterworth, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, speaking from Washington. He will be followed by Anna Case, Metropolitan soprano, singing "Alleluja." Gov. Morgan F. Larson, of New Jersey, will speak next, followed by Ambassador Morrow.

SINGS "WITCH SONG"

Frederick G. Rodgers, baritone, will "hex" the radio audience with "The Witch Song" over KDKA at 7:01 p. m. The broadcast is important for two reasons: first, because it was presented for the first time over the radio by Rodgers, on November 19 1926, and, second, because it pertains to the type of "hexology" practiced by a clique in the Eastern part of Pennsylvania.

Admirers of Chauncey Parsons, tenor, who started singing over the Blue System of the NBC, last Thursday night, will be glad to learn that KDKA has been added to the system for the balance of his concerts. The feature goes on the air at 7:30 p. m. Mr. Parsons is a Pittsburgher. He was the first tenor to broadcast over a radio station, appearing at KDKA in the early experimental days back in 1920.

That lovely instrumental piece, Saint Saens' "The Swan," will be done vocally by a quartet over WCAE at 9 p. m.

We anticipate a few thrills when WJAS broadcasts "The Great Divide" as part of the Arabesque program at 8 o'clock.

"Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," will be played by a string quartet on the 10 o'clock program from WLW.

REPEAT 1926 PERFORMANCE.

The exceptionally dramatic composition, "The Witch Song," which was presented for the first time over radio from KDKA on November 19, 1926, by Frederick G. Rodgers, baritone, with Stephen Miller at the piano, will be repeated tonight on request.

A brief outline of "The Witch Song": Medardus, a pious monk, has spent his life in the convent of Hersfeld. He is dying, and the confessor goes to attend his last moments. The convent is thrown into confusion by wild, savage song, which comes from the lips of Medardus. The monks think him possessed and curse him. Then Medardus tells his story—how when a young priest he is sent to a dungeon to pray with a witch doomed to be burnt. He finds, instead of a hag, a beautiful young girl. She tells Medardus that she has been imprisoned for singing a song she had learned from her grandmother. They fall in love, and just as they are about to flee, the jailer returns and Medardus is forced to flee. The maid is taken out to the stake. As the flames rise about her, she begins to sing, and the song, the Witch Song, haunts Medardus all through his life.

Dr. Caldwell's 3 Rules Keep You Healthy

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not a habit-forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us to that effect.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their systems. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without griping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person.

Get a bottle today, at any drug store, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

PITTSBURGH ACTRESS SUES MINE OWNER FOR SLANDER

NEW YORK, April 4.—A suit for $150,000 damages for slander has been brought by Gilda Krieger, Pittsburgh actress, against Sir Eric Dutt, owner of valuable mines in India, it was revealed here when Supreme Court Justice Sherman denied an application directing Miss Krieger to file bond of $250 as security for costs on the ground that she is a non-resident of New York.

Miss Krieger gave her home address as 2041 Wightman street, Pittsburgh, when the suit was started, a month ago, but in the argument yesterday counsel for the young woman said she resided at 14 East Sixtieth street, New York. Miss Krieger is a former student of the University of Pittsburgh and was known then as Goldie Krieger. She left Pittsburgh 10 years ago.

In the suit, it is alleged that the defendant made statements injurious to the reputation of Miss Krieger, among them that she was an adventuress. The defendant was described as a British subject, living in Paris and temporarily in the United States. He is staying at the Ritz Tower.

Mrs. Leonard H. Krieger, of 6819 Thomas boulevard, aunt of Miss Kreiger, last night denied knowledge of her niece's affairs and said she was not interested. A sister, Mrs. L. Matz, of Munhall road, declared she had nothing to say. Another sister is Mrs. William Fink, of 5540 Hobart street. The relatives all reside in Pittsburgh.

MADELON BAYARD

Quick Success

Few girls in pictures have made such rapid strides toward success as this charming New Yorker. Just a few months ago she was given her first job, shadowing a star. Within three hours, she had a real part in the picture—"The Loves of Sunya."

Miss Bayard says: "I am told my selection was largely due to my perfect skin and lovely hair. I've really never taken much trouble with either. For my hair I use the simple method that most of the girls I know here in New York are so enthusiastic about. It's so easy. All you do is put a little Danderine on your brush each time you use it.

"This method is just what a busy girl needs. It's so easy; and it keeps your hair and scalp so clean you don't need to shampoo half so often. I am letting my hair grow and I find Danderine helps make it soft and easily manageable. I can arrange it any way I want and it stays that way. All my friends are complimenting me on the appearance of my hair, nowadays because Danderine has brought out all its natural color and made it so soft and lustrous."

Danderine removes the oily film from each strand and makes dull, stringy hair gleamy, soft, easy to dress. It tones and refreshes the scalp; helps overcome dandruff. It is delicately fragranced; isn't sticky or oily; doesn't show. All drug stores have the generous 35c bottles.

"I use 'Old Witch' on my stove".

AMMONIA DISCOVERY MAKES STOVES SHINE WITHOUT SCRUBBING

Grease and grime disappear like magic this new way

What! Scrub that dirty stove? Not for me. I'll clean it the easy "no work" way . . . with this new ammonia discovery I've just found.

Look . . . this is the way to do it. You pour a little bit of "Old Witch" in a basin of hot water. Add soap. Then just wash the dirt away.

Off comes the grease in jiffy-quick time. It's good-bye dirt when "Old Witch" gets on the job. No rubbing. And no scrubbing either.

It softens water. Saponifies grease. Instantly removes every clinging particle of dirt and grime.

And best of all, "Old Witch" keeps hands dainty and soft . . . never coarse and rough-looking.

But don't make the mistake of only using it for cleaning stoves. "Old Witch" is wonderful for cleaning mirrors, windows, woodwork. A big help on washday. And simply marvelous in your dishpan.

Please try just one bottle of "Old Witch" . . . and begin today to test it for all household cleaning. Convince yourself that it gives every feature herein offered.

You'll decide right away that you'll never again be satisfied with old-fashioned cleansing methods.

A giant sized bottle costs only 35¢. Remember "Old Witch" is what you ask for when you buy . . . your grocer has it now.

THE NEW AMMONIA DISCOVERY

FIVE SUSPECTS HELD, 1 FREED

Four girls and three men, arrested in connection with the theft of dresses, shoes and a fur neckpiece from the room of Helen Calhounes, a waitress, of 801 Sandusky street, were arraigned before Magistrate Leo Rothenburg in Morals Court today.

Virginia Foreman, 18, of 219 East Stockton avenue, and Alice Mauer, 23, of 200 East Montgomery avenue, admitted taking the apparel. They were held for court on larceny charges. Catherine Forney, 19, of 510 Arch street, was held over until police can communicate with her parents at Everett, Pa. Wanda Ludwig, 17, of 842 Sawmill way, was discharged. The latter two knew nothing of the theft, they testified.

John Schaffer, married, of 208 East Stockton avenue, was held for court on a serious charge after he admitted living with the Foreman girl. Robert Herring, same address, and Walter Rodenbach, 812 Madison avenue, friends of the Mauer girl, were fined $25 or 30 days in jail. Police say Herring is suspected of being wanted for a robbery in Baltimore and will be held until they check up.

Romany Soothsayers Free, to Leave City

Five gypsies accused of fortune-telling were discharged by Magistrate Leo A. Rothenberg in Morals Court today on condition they leave the city. The defendants were Alexander Thompson, his wife, Mathilda; their sons, Frank and Miller, and Frank's wife, Lillian.

They had been held on suspicion they were wanted by Cumberland, Md., police, but this was found not to be the case.

Weather Conditions.

The barometer continues high along the Atlantic coast, the crest of the high being over the South Atlantic states. The Northwest low is now centered over North Dakota, lowest barometer, 29.54 inches, at Bismarck, and covers the entire West. It is producing cloudy weather over the Mississippi Valley states and eastward to the Appalachian Mountains, and thunderstorms over the lake region. Light showers occurred from the lakes southward over the Mississippi valley to Tennessee.

There was a marked rise in temperature everywhere since yesterday morning. There are no freezing temperatures on the map except in Canada.

River Conditions.

The rivers are falling slowly everywhere in the Pittsburgh river district. Stage at Franklin is 5.5 feet; Lock No. 7, 11.2; Pittsburgh, 13.8; Dam No. 2, 7.5; Dam No. 6, 11.7; Dam No. 9, 12.3, and Dam No. 12, 10.1. Dams Nos. 3 and 4 are up.

Sun-Telegraph Daily Circulation Increases as Competitor Loses--Sunday Lead Over Press Greater Than Ever Before!

The sworn Government circulation statements for the past six months, dated April 1, by the Sun-Telegraph and the Press, reveal a phenomenal story of rapidly changing conditions in Pittsburgh's evening and Sunday newspaper situation—the Sun-Telegraph forging ahead with consistent gains and the Press suffering losses.

Statement of the Ownership, Management, CIRCULATION Etc., Required by the Act of Congress of August 24, 1912, of THE PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH

Published Every Evening and Sunday at Pittsburgh, Pa., for April 1, 1929

State of Pennsylvania | ss.
County of Allegheny |

Before me, notary public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared H. M. Bitner, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the publisher of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 411, Postal Laws and Regulations, to wit:

2. That the owner is: Pitt Publishing Company, Pittsburgh, Pa., William Randolph Hearst, New York City, N. Y.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages or other securities are: Pitt Publishing Company, Pittsburgh, Pa., William Randolph Hearst, New York City, N. Y.; G. S. and A. K. Oliver, Mgrs. for former stockholders of the Newspaper Printing Company, Pittsburgh, Pa.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company, but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustees or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds or other securities than as so stated by him.

5. That the average number of copies of each issue of this publication sold or distributed, through the mail or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the six months preceding the date shown above is

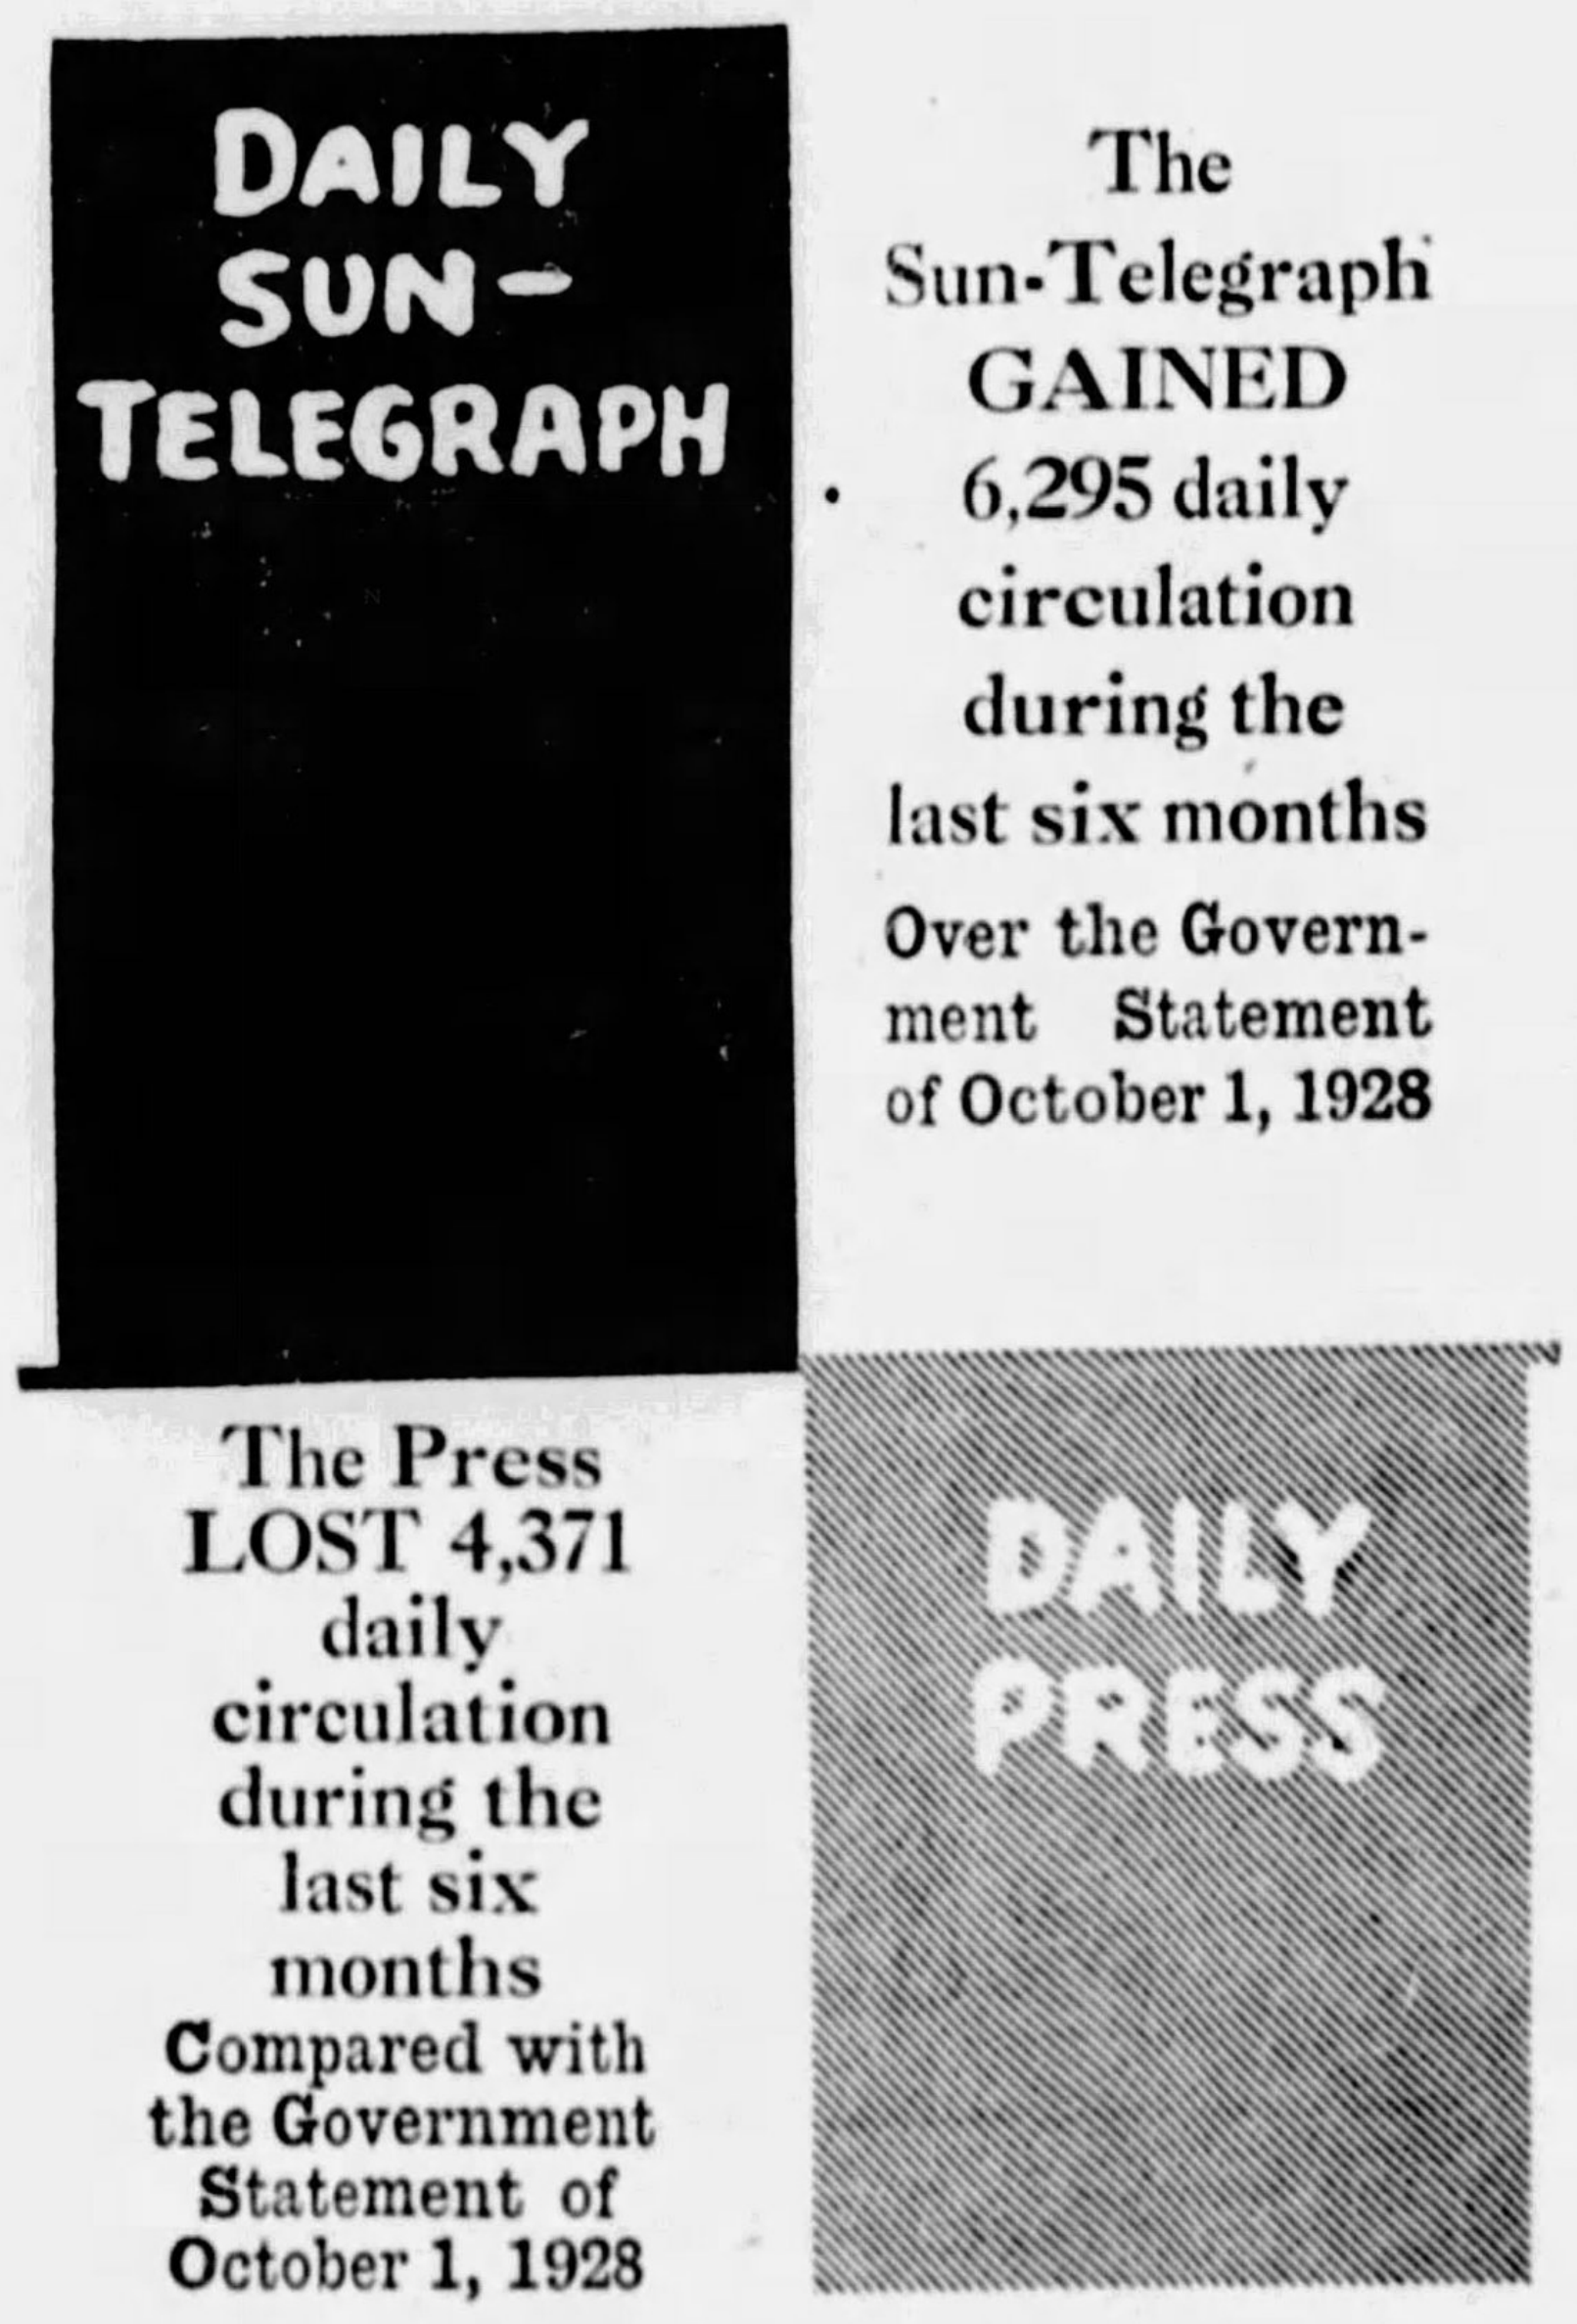
The circulation records of THE PITTSBURGH PRESS are always open for the most searching analysis.

DAILY GAINS AND LOSSES

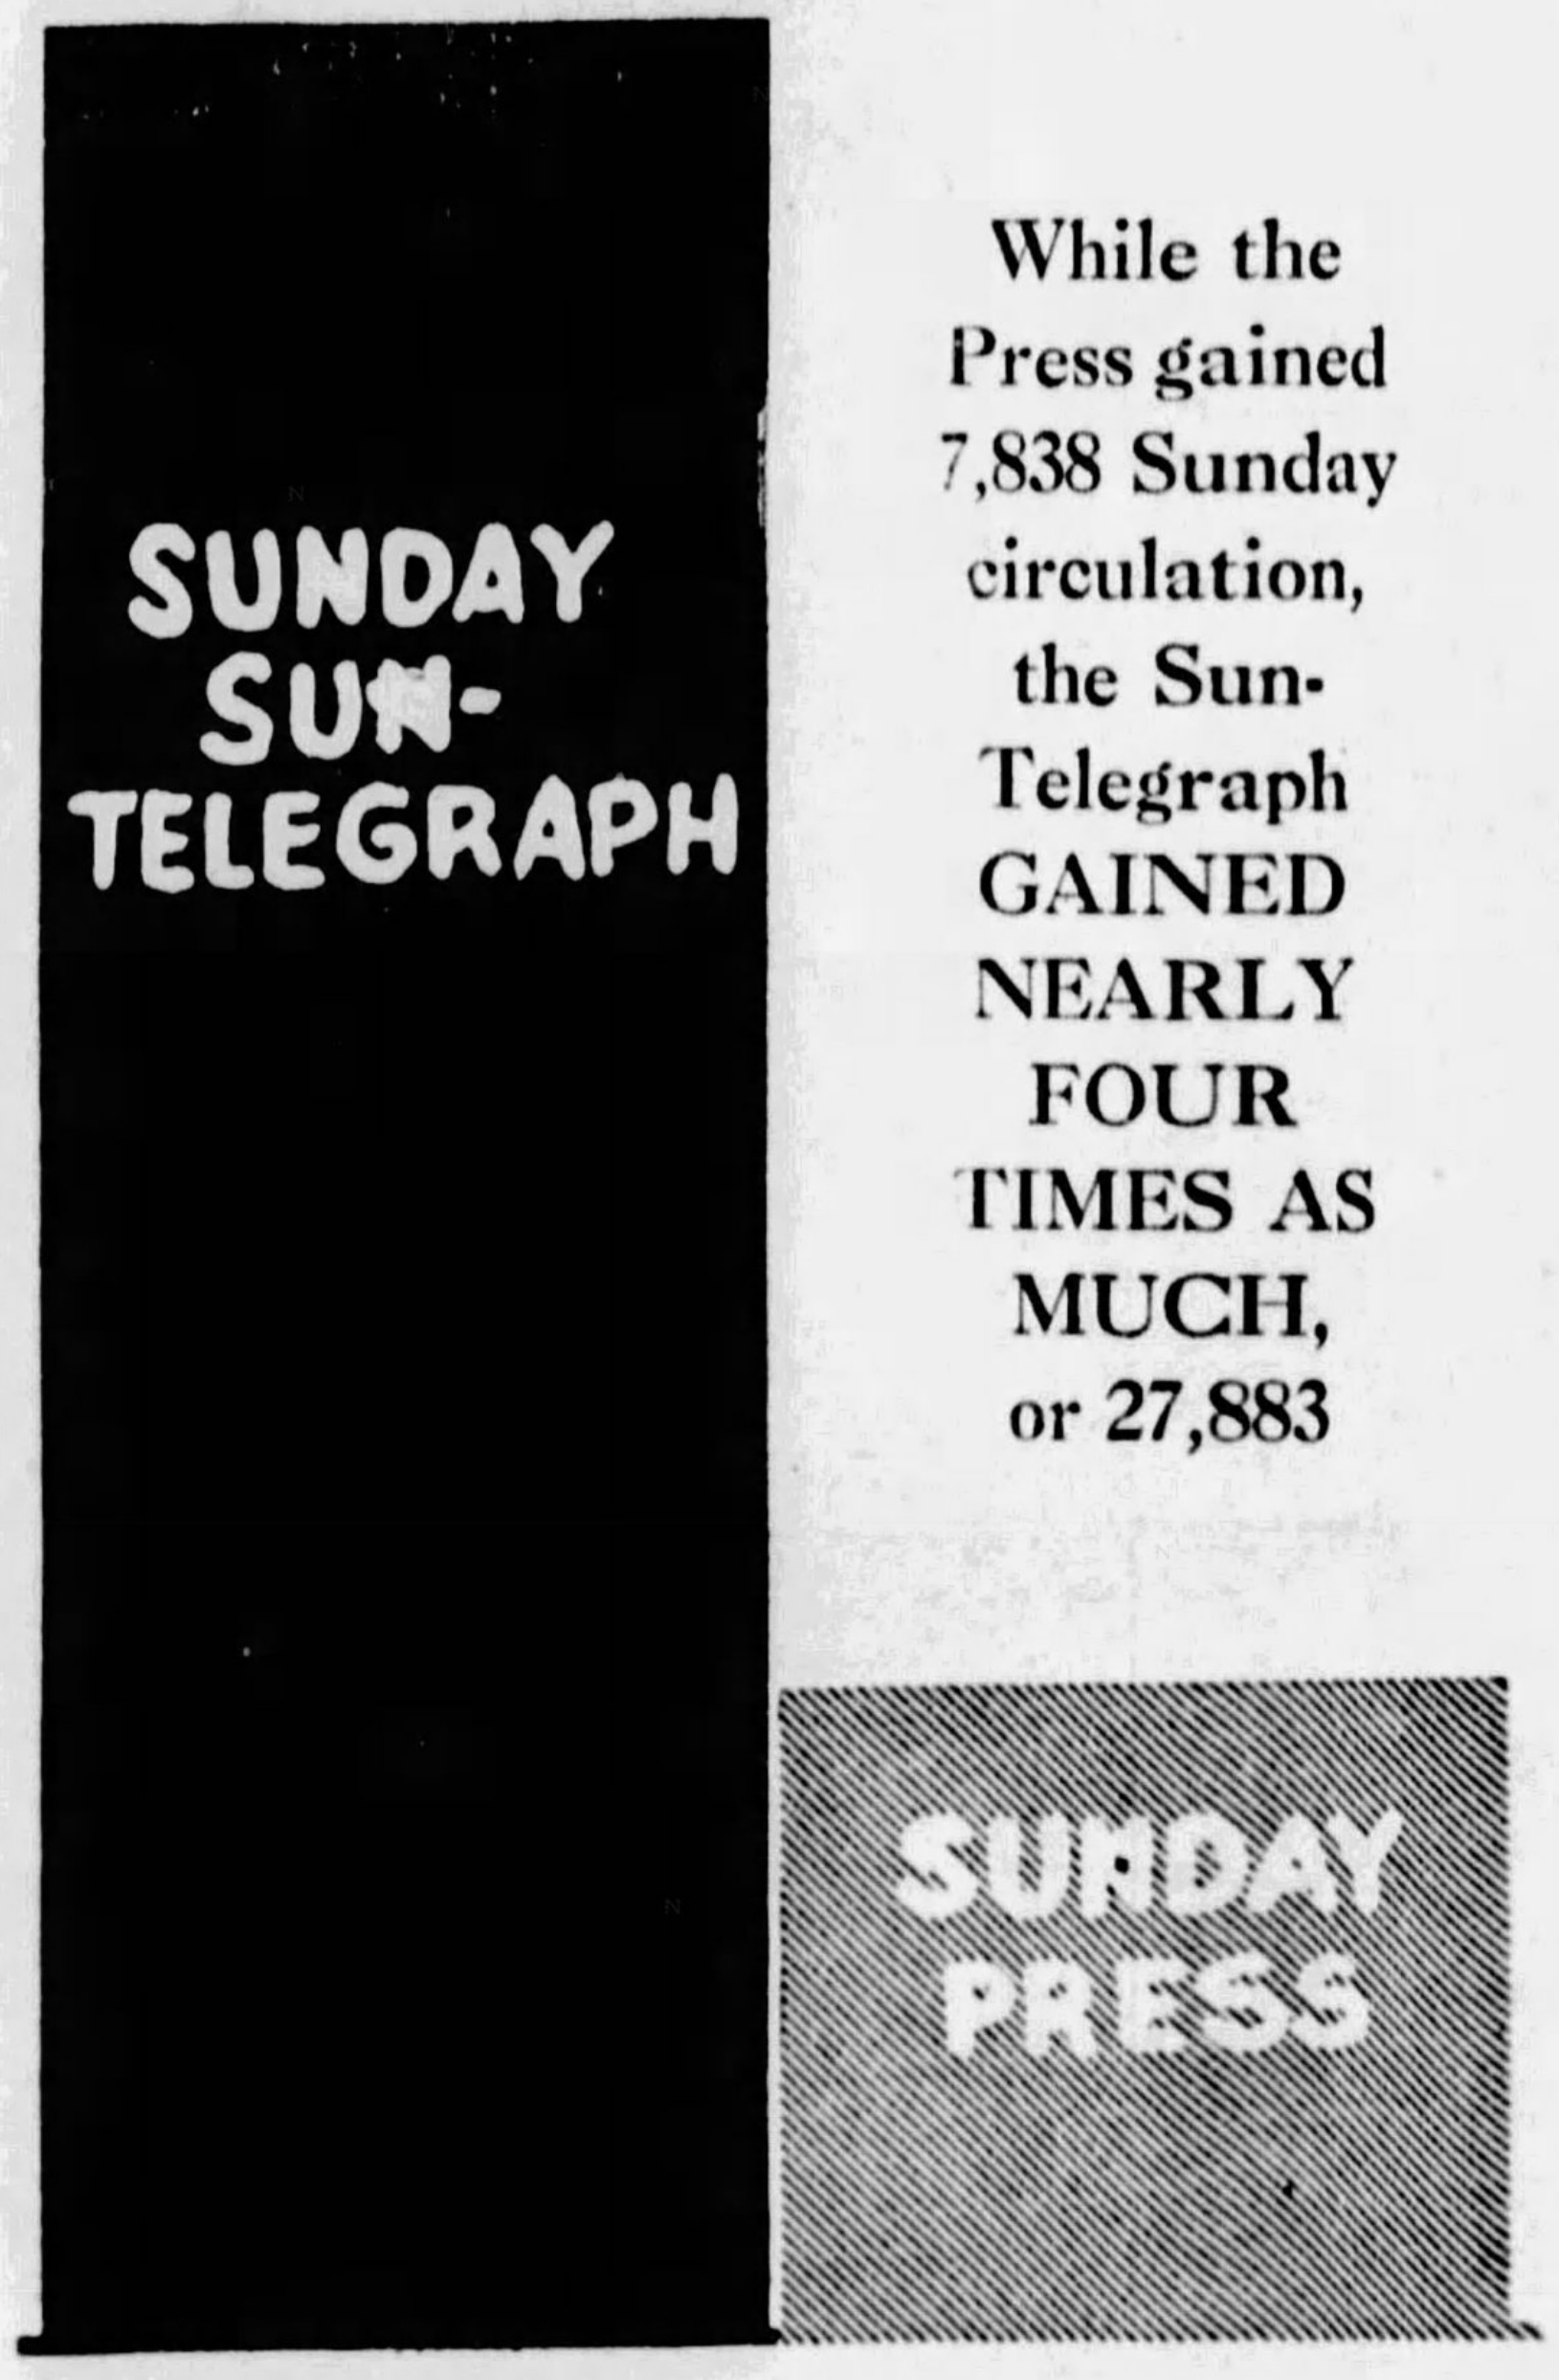
In the past six months, the Press' lead in daily circulation over the Sun-Telegraph has DECREASED from almost 26,000 to less than 17,500.



The Sun-Telegraph GAINED 6,295 daily circulation during the last six months
Over the Government Statement of October 1, 1928

The Press LOST 4,371 daily circulation during the last six months
Compared with the Government Statement of October 1, 1928

SUNDAY



While the Press gained 7,838 Sunday circulation, the Sun-Telegraph GAINED NEARLY FOUR TIMES AS MUCH, or 27,883

During this six months' period, the Sunday Sun-Telegraph's lead over the Sunday Press has INCREASED from 51,893 to 71,938.

No attempt is made to take any credit for copies given away free (to "other than cash subscribers") in the Sun-Telegraph statement.

7 Rules for $25,000 Temperance Contest

The purpose of the contest is to obtain a practicable plan, as a substitute for prohibition, which will secure better actual temperance conditions, which will be more easily possible of enforcement by state and federal authorities, which will offer less encouragement to crime and tend less to debauch the public service, and which will not so outrage and violate the fundamental rights and personal liberties of American citizens.

The rules and conditions of the contest are simple and are as follows:

1—Every person is entitled to enter the contest, but no one person may submit more than one plan.

2—The practicable plan proposed as a substitute for prohibition must be set forth in an article containing not more than 1,000 words.

3—This contest will close April 30, 1929, and no plan which has not been mailed and postmarked on or before that date will be considered.

4—The articles submitted in the contest will be judged by a committee of eminent Americans, the personnel of the committee to be announced at a later date.

5—The full prize of $25,000 will be awarded to the contestant submitting the best plan as a practical temperance substitute for prohibition.

6—If other plans not awarded the first prize shall still be considered worthy of some compensation by the committee, a second prize of $5,000 and other prizes of $1,000 each may be awarded.

7—Articles submitting a plan to be considered in this contest may be sent to the temperance contest committee, care of the editor of any one of the following Hearst newspapers: Albany Times-Union, Atlanta Georgian, Baltimore News, Boston Evening American, Chicago Herald and Examiner, Detroit Times, Los Angeles Examiner, New York American, Omaha Bee-News, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Rochester Journal, San Antonio Light, San Francisco Examiner, Syracuse Journal, Seattle Post-Intelligencer, Washington Herald, Wisconsin News (Milwaukee).

CLERIC ASSAILS TYRANNY OF DRY LAWS

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The "millions of 'honest men and women' who detest the tyranny and Toryism of national prohibition," are waging the battle "for fundamental democracy, for majority rule, and for the vanquishment of fanatacism," the Rev. Dr. John A. Ryan declares in an article published yesterday in the Commonwealth. Dr. Ryan is professor of moral theology in Catholic University of America here.

Asking the question as to what course is open to those who are honestly opposed to the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead and other enforcement acts, Dr. Ryan answers it thus:

"They can continue to denounce the anti-democratic character of the Eighteenth Amendment and the enormous evil that it has inflicted on American society.

NO LAW BROKEN

"If they buy liquor they can feel assured that they are violating no civil laws.

"If they make it and keep it for their own use they need have no fear that they are transgressing any moral law.

"They can derive consolation and courage from the reflection that they are battling for fundamental democracy."

But Dr. Ryan admits that repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment is practically an impossibility.

BUYER NOT GUILTY

He points out that while the person who makes liquor at his home for his own use technically may be violating the law, the person who buys liquor for his own use is not violating any law, statutory or ethical. Admitting that the law specifically forbids the manufacture, transportation or possession of liquor for one's own use, he says these provisions "have been virtually repealed by the enforcement officers."

In opening his discussion, Dr. Ryan says:

"Generally the presumption is always in favor of the binding moral force of a duly enacted law, whether organic or statutory, but there are exceptions. Suppose the law imposes grave hardship upon a considerable minority, or even majority, of the citizens; suppose it cannot be repealed for many years; suppose further that the net effect of the law is injurious rather than beneficial to the community as a whole.

"In these circumstances is it reasonable to impose upon the citizens the moral obligation of obedience? This appears to have been the situation with regard to the blue laws. When the forces of fanaticism made formal repeal impossible, the mass of the citizens repealed these obnoxious statutes by indirection—that is, by persistently disobeying them."

DISAGREES WITH HOOVER

Taking issue with President Hoover's assertion in his inaugural address that "disregard for some law destroys respect for all law," Dr. Ryan says this "is a very considerable exaggeration," adding:

"There are the so-called blue laws which have been generally disregarded for decades without producing any notable lack of reverence for law in general.

"Probably the great majority of those who purchase and possess intoxicating liquor make a very clear distinction between the moral validity of the prohibition laws and that of other federal enactments."

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

I am in good spirits now, too, and able to work every day and take care of my house and my new baby. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to all women, whether married or single, and am willing to answer letters."—Mrs. Sara A. Blalack.

"About five months ago, following an operation for appendicitis, I did not gain strength enough to be up and about. My mother and sister advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken five bottles and it has helped me to get strong so I can do my own housework now. I have recommended it to several friends and I am willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. Oscar Ottum.

Sudden change to COMPLEXION BEAUTY Amazed her Friends

BUT she never told them why. For years her skin was dull and sallow. Pimples, blotches and blemishes marred her chance of beauty. But not any more.

Tiny calcium wafers worked their wonders for her. Gentle internal cleansers—they quickly remove the cause: intestinal stasis and poisonous wastes that dull the eye, blotch the skin and stupefy the mind and personality.

Try This Five Day Test

A few days' use of Calcium Wafers will work a wondrous change: soft, silken skin clear and free from faults! Bright, sparkling eyes! Alert and vigorous in mind and body! No wonder that so many thousands of people find that an occasional sugar-coated calcium wafer is all the tonic that they need.

When You Catch Cold Rub On Musterole

Just Rub Away Danger

quick relief

Musterole is easy to apply and works right away. It may prevent a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster.

Musterole is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

April 29 Set For Johnson Wedding

EASTER WEEK has brought us that combination of pure air and sunshine that breeds no envy of those folks who have sought one or another of the "spring" resorts. In winter we may wish we could follow those who have sought relief from the cold, but Pittsburgh is coming into her own again, so far as weather is concerned, and with the exception of an occasional day or so, I think we may look forward to a few delightful months.

ONE of the most interesting additions to the list of April weddings is that of Mary Louise Johnson, daughter of Mrs. William Terrell Johnson, of Forbes street, whose engagement to Raymond Ford Moreland, son of the W. C. Morelands, of Coraopolis Heights, was announced in December. Mary Louise has taken Monday, April 29, as the date for her wedding, and the ceremony will be performed at 5:30 o'clock that afternoon in the Shadyside Presbyterian Church. Afterwards there will be a reception at the house.

A GREAT many of our society folks went away for the Easter vacation and the majority of them are still out of town. White Sulphur Springs drew its usual big quota, and I understand that the weather man down there has been smiling on the holiday-makers. And perhaps you would be interested to know what sort of clothes are most popular at present. The trim tailored suit of flannel or tweed is noticed everywhere, I hear, and if you look around you here in Pittsburgh, you will see a reflection of that taste. Simple sleeveless sports frocks topped with bright colored cardigans are being worn a lot, too, and a popular note, so far as the coats are concerned, is struck by the deep shawl fur trimmed collar

Among the Easter promenaders were the Felix B. Snowdens. Mrs. Snowden, you know, is among the ranking tennis players of the United States, and her Easter outfit was a blue wool ensemble. The Snowdens entertained at dinner in the picturesque Kate's Mountain Club situated on top of a mountain near the Greenbrier.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Hill and their family went to White Sulphur to spend the week-end, too, and so did Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Jones III, who have been occupying a cottage in Baltimore row. John S. Hess and George L. McCook were also at White Sulphur over Easter, and other Pittsburgh folks are going down later. Mrs. Robert Wilson will arrive there in about a week, I believe.

MRS. MUSHER MRS. BENDER MRS. DOUGHERTY MRS. STAUD MRS. BATTLE MRS. KENNEDY MRS. REEL

Some of the members of the Pittsburgh Council of Catholic Women who will serve on the sales committee for the Pittsburgh Week for the Blind, April 16, 17 and 18, examining articles made by blind. They are Mrs. A. Musher, Mrs. C. Bender, Mrs. R. P. Dougherty, Mrs. John P. Staud, Mrs. Mary C. Battle, Mrs. Mary C. Kennedy and Mrs. Charles C. Reel.

THERE was a very small wedding in Aspinwall last night in which you will be interested. It was that of Rebecca Heinz, daughter of Mrs. Charles Heinz, of Aspinwall, and Dr. Harry Lytle, son of Joseph Lytle, of the same place. Rebecca, you remember, had planned her wedding for last October, but the sudden death of her father just a few days before the date cancelled, of course, all these arrangements.

The ceremony was performed quietly at 7 o'clock last night in the Heinz home, and only members of the two immediate families were there. Dr. and Mrs. Lytle have left to take a short eastern trip, and when they return they will be at home in Delafield road, Aspinwall.

MORE and more of our travelers are making their way home again. The George W. Crawfords, of Woodland road, spent the winter in Africa and cruising on the Mediterranean, you know, and I hear that they are in Paris at present. They are expected home about the middle of the month.

The David M. Kirks and their daughter, Mrs. Robina Kirk Quinby, and grandson, David Kirk Quinby, left on Tuesday for home. They have been at their Palm Beach place, "La Salona Cottage," all winter.

THE first dinner dance of the spring season for the Shannopin Country Club will be held tonight in the clubhouse. About 125 guests are expected to attend.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. FREDERICK L. STOUT, of Ben Avon, announce the engagement of their niece, Miss Elizabeth Breading Lyle, to James Taylor Batchelor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer D. Batchelor, of Ben Avon. An early fall wedding is planned.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. CLARENCE C. KING, of North Highland avenue, have returned from Staunton, Va., where they motored to spend Easter with their son, Robert King, who attends the Staunton Military Academy.

AS its final function before its installation as a chapter of Delta Sigma Epsilon, the Scotch Club of Wilkinsburg will give a dance tomorrow night in the Penn-Lincoln Hotel. John L. Stanton, of Edgewood, is president of the club and W. Verner McClowd is chairman for the dance. The club is composed of young men of the Swissvale - Edgewood - Wilkinsburg district.

DISTRICT No. 9, Order of the Amaranth, will give a card party tomorrow afternoon in Kaufmann's dining rom. Mrs. Sara E. Killen is district deputy, grand royal matron.

Current Events Officers Renamed

THE annual luncheon of the Wednesday Current Events Class will be held April 17 in the Keystone Athletic Club. Judge Richard W. Martin will be the speaker and Miss Mabel King, contralto, will sing. At the meeting in the Congress clubhouse yesterday the class re-elected its present officers: President, Mrs. J. H. Harrison; secretary Mrs. John L. Gerber; treasurer, Mrs. A. F. B. Morris. Mrs. E. M. Davis was appointed to fill the newly created office of assistant secretary. The program consisted of a discussion of current literature by Mrs. Edith B. Maize and music by the Uxority Club Choral under the direction of Mrs. Arthur B. Siviter. Mrs. Maize touched on the Van Dine mystery stories, reviewed "The Forsyte Saga" by Galsworthy, Edith Wharton's "The Daughter," and, among others, the several biographies which have been published this year.

THE April meeting of the Pittsburgh Colony of New England Women to be held Monday will be an open guest day and will take place in the First Unitarian Church. The program will consist of a play, "The Ladies of Cranford," the various roles in which will be taken by Mrs. Edward B. Lee, Mrs. T. C. Clifford, Miss Emilie Fuller, Mrs. E. G. Edmonds, Mrs. Robert Munroe, Jr., Mrs. Richard C. Allen, Mrs. W. B. Spellmire and Mrs. Charles J. Mundo. Mrs. Clifford is directing the production. Hostesses for the tea which will follow will include Mrs. A. H. Keith, Mrs. H. Talbot Peterson, Mrs. George H. Taber and Mrs. Hugo Kahl. Mrs. Wesley Gould Carr and Mrs. Keith will pour.

MRS. R. C. M'ELFISH, Mrs. L. H. Estep and Mrs. H. H. Lambert were appointed as the nominating committee at yesterday's meeting of the Edgewood Woman's Club. The committee will report at the next meeting, April 17, and election of officers will take place at that time. Yesterday's program, which was given, as usual, in the Edgewood Club, consisted of reviews of Keyserling's "World in the Making," and Capt. John Noel's "Story of Everest," by Mrs. W. H. Garrett and Mrs. I. M. Eisaman, and a paper on "Hugo Wast, the South American Novelist," by Mrs. A. E. Baier.

MISS MARY DEWSEN, president of the New York State Consumers' League, will be a guest of the local league tomorrow and will be entertained at luncheon in the Woman's City Club. The local branch held its annual meeting on Monday in the Congress of Clubs, elected the nominating committee's ticket, headed by Miss Alice K. Negley as president, and heard talks by A. P. Huckstein, supervising inspector, and J. F. Mitchell, chief of employment, of the State Department of Labor.

THE season's final meeting of the child study class of the Rodef Shalom Sisterhood will be held on Saturday in the Falk Memorial Library at the temple. The speaker will be Dr. Henry C. Schumacher, director of the Child Health Clinic of Cleveland, whose subject will be "Problems of Children—Their Study and Treatment."

"WHAT WOMEN HAVE CONTRIBUTED TO THE STAGE AND SCREEN" is the subject of a talk which Mrs. Ambrose Nevin Diehl will give April 13 at a meeting of the American Association of University Women. Mrs. James H. Greene is arranging a special musical program. The meeting, which will be held in the Woman's City Club, will be preceded by the round table on international relations, Miss Elizabeth M. Lee, conducting it.

A COMBINED meeting of the Parent-Teacher Associations of the Hillsdale Avenue and the Kelton Avenue scools will be held in the Kelton school, Dormont, on Wednesday afternoon and will be addressed by Dr. Florence Teagarden, of the University of Pittsburgh, speaking on "Individual Differences." Mrs. O. B. Hughes, president of the Allegheny County Parent-Teacher Association, will speak of county work.

MISS THYRSA W. AMOS, dean of Women at the University of Pittsburgh, is leaving Saturday for New Orleans to attend the convention of the American Association of University Women. Miss Amos is a member of the national committee on recognition of colleges.

THE Squirrel Hill Community Club has changed the place for its benefit play tomorrow night. It will be held in the Schenley High School instead of Taylor Allderdice High School. The proceeds of the performance are being shared by the Logan Parent-Teacher Association and the Community Club.

JOHN ADAMS, principal of Perry High School, will conduct a round table at the April meeting of the Perry Mothers' Club to be held Wednesday in the high school building.

LUNCH and supper will b served in the tea room which will be a feature of the sixth annual Pittsburgh "Week for the Blind," April 16, 17 and 18, in the Wabash Building.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY to East Liberty Post No. 5 will havesa bake sale on Saturday at 5921 Penn avenue. The proceeds will be applied to welfare work.

PITTSBURGH CHAPTER of the Oberlin Alumni Association will have a dinner and bridge in the Congress of Clubs at 6:30 tomorrow night.

THE Junior Homewood Women's Club, which held its first regular meeting on Monday evening, will keep its charter open until the May meeting and is inviting the young women of the community to affiliate.

Cumberland to Vote On City Manager

CUMBERLAND, Md., April 4.—By an act just passed by the Maryland Legislature, Cumberland citizens will vote at the next municipal election on a proposition to provide a city manager. Cumberland is now under commission form of government. The question of extending the city limits and $200,000 water extention bond issue also will be voted on.

Women Save Homes Menaced by Fire

ROCHESTER, Pa., April 4.—Women formed a bucket brigade and fought a fire which late yesterday threatened their homes until firemen arrived. Sparks from a brush fire at the rear of the American Legion property ignited grass, the flames spreading to a pile of lumber and endangering nearby property.

VACANT HOUSE YIELDS STILL

Swooping down on an unoccupied two-story frame dwelling at 1321 West Liberty avenue, Lieut. Charles Cahill and Patrolman John Cahill, of the Mt. Washington Police Station, today reported finding a 125-gallon still in operation. They confiscated 20 gallons of moonshine liquor and destroyed 25 barrels of mash.

According to Lieut. Cahill, all windows and doors were barred from the inside. After making several attempts to enter from the outside the officers gained entrance through the home of Louis Bondell, at 1319 West Liberty avenue. Although pleading ignorance as to the ownership of the outfit, Bondell was arrested.

Shippers Authorize Banking Committee

PHILADELPHIA, April 4.—(AP.)—The executive committee of the Atlantic States Shippers' Advisory Board, meeting here yesterday, decided to form a banking committee to facilitate commercial loans to shippers.

W. C. Bants, vice president of the Bank of America, New York, stated in his proposal to establish the committeee, that a closer connection between the board and the financial interests of the East would enable bankers to extend loans to shippers at lower rates. At present the shipping business, he said, is hampered by high call loan rates.

THE WONDER ROUGE OF THE DAY...

"NOT until I tried it myself, would I believe a rouge could be so remarkable. It blends easily to any shade I wish, from dahlia pink to dahlia red. It is as natural looking in daytime as it is at night. It is Zanzibar."

MAXWELL HOUSE COFFEE

Blended especially to achieve richer, mellower

FLAVOR

YEARS ago a fine hotel in the Old South became famous for its superlative coffee. Travelers from all parts of the United States praised the marvelous food at the old Maxwell House and, in particular, the rich, mellow flavor of Maxwell House Coffee.

Southerners themselves boasted of it. They said no single coffee grown could taste quite so delicious. And they were right.

For the flavor of Maxwell House is a blend of many different coffee flavors, each selected for a special excellence. A Southern gentleman—an expert in coffees with a talent for flavor—first worked out this choice blend, which ever since has appealed unfailingly to other men and women who know good food.

He was familiar with all the finest kinds and grades of coffee grown. He spent years of patient, skillful labor combining, testing, rejecting, re-combining the "winy," heady coffees of Arabia, the "mild" coffees of Java, the "syrupy," pungent coffees of Brazil. At last his persistence was rewarded with an entirely new coffee flavor—a blend, smooth, rich, mellow, full-bodied, yet full of life and sparkle.

"The Old Colonel," as he is known to his friends, has lived to see this coffee he perfected in his youth become the favorite throughout the whole United States—pleasing more people than any other coffee ever offered for sale.

North, South, East and West—Maxwell House is accepted today as the fine coffee served in America's foremost homes—preferred by America's most famous hostesses.

Let your own family and your friends enjoy this delicious coffee at your own table. Wherever you are, your grocer has Maxwell House Coffee—sealed in tin to preserve to the last spoonful all its delicious fragrance and flavor.

SECOND WIFE GETS $42,500 FROM WIFE NO. 1'S ESTATE

Elizabeth Leichel Deckert de La Mellaire, prominent socially in Paris, where she resides, yesterday obtained a verdict for $42,500 in Common Pleas Court here against her former husband, Henri Deckert de La Mellaire, also of Paris. This sum represented a compromise on a $50,000 note given by the defendant, from whom she is divorced.

On October 25, 1927, the plaintiff entered proceedings to attach her husband's interest in the estate of Mrs. Blanche De La Mellaire, formerly of Pittsburgh, a former wife of the defendant. The law firm of Moorhead & Knox represented the Paris woman in the transaction.

De La Mellaire was a beneficiary of the estate, of which Edward J. House, of Pittsburgh, was the executor. Mrs. Blanche De La Mellaire was Blanche House before her marriage.

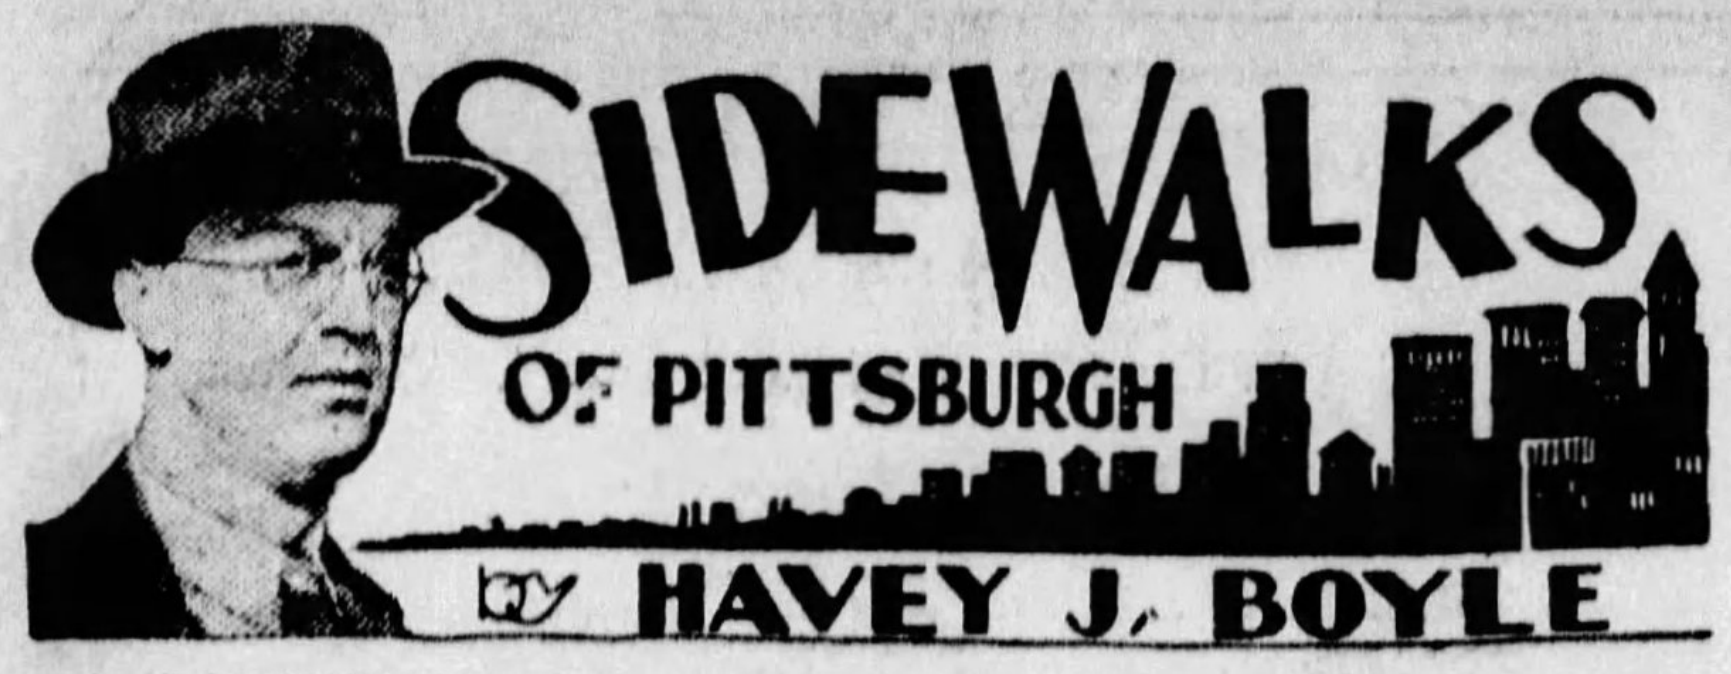
METROPOLITAN DISTRICT NEWS



SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH

by HAVEY J. BOYLE

A DOWNTOWN place flaunting Mr. Volstead's act was nabbed the other day. According to the boys, the place was raided due to its suspicious smell.

There were amusing scenes when another place was hit on the head by the prohibition men. When the officers walked in two waiters reached for two hats on the wall, put them on and sat down at a table pretending to be customers, who are never molested in a raid.

Many former die-hards say they see the beginning of the end of places that will sell the stuff. There is no doubt that the Jones law has affected the boys more than any other development.

One man who got out of the business before he was nabbed expressed himself as the happiest man in town.

One bartender who has twice taken what is professionally known as the "rap" was back on the job a few hours after his place was raided.

YEH !
WELL— IT'S LIKE THIS !

Closed doors (a series of them) and a close inspection of all visitors are the present order, according to my spies, but even through all this ceremony there is a gloomy note among the trade. The proprietors say: "If they decide to get you they get you, closed doors or open doors."

One indignant proprietor who was raided swears that the "buy" made by the prohibition men was near-beer, but since he handled high test beer and liquor who is going to take his word against the word of the prohibition men, he asks.

No language is richer, more inventive, or more descriptive than the language of the boys who follow the ponies. They are so pat, these expressions, that they creep into the language of men and women who never saw a horse race, who never bet on a horse.

The horse men have recently given a new definition of the time-honored "N. S. F." to be found on bank checks that need a little vulcanizing. "Not Sufficient Funds" is what those letters stand for among the orthodox, but the horse players say N. S. F. means "NOT SO FAST!"

Another colorful expression describes a certain kind of player as "he's always in the mail." That means nothing unless you learn that it described the fellow, who having bet and failed to pay off, upon being questioned, states: "Why you should have that by this time. It's in the mail." So a slow paying fellow among the horse players is a man who's "always in the mail."

HE'S ALWAYS IN THE MAIL" !
DON'T I KNOW IT!

IF YOU should venture into a place where bets are taken on the horses you'd be amazed at the jargon of talk, utterly unintelligible to the outsider, but clear to the experienced. There is a system of bookkeeping, expertly done, that would baffle a bank teller.

* * *

There are many horse players who use what spare money they have in following the nags, instead of spending it on such things as the theater, movies, or what-not. There are others who succumb to what is nothing less than a disease. The latter type is not welcomed as steady trade.

THERE is no group so widely separated in station as the men who play the horses. The richest and the most aristocratic, the poorest and the menials, look over the forms, study the jockeys, note the weights, observe past performances, and take a flyer, big or little.

I remember a reporter who was always certain that if you advanced him a dollar he could pyramid it into a small fortune. He went hungry, often, to back a nag. He explained his dope and tips to perfect strangers. He was always broke.

Trolley Passenger Hit by Auto, Sues

Nora Flynn who walked in front of a street car in South Eighteenth street, as she was going towards Monastery avenue, November 19 last and was struck by an automobile owned by Vincent Scarano and Albert Scarano has brought suit against them for $25,000 damages for personal injuries. The plaintiff in her bill of particulars filed in Common Pleas Court sets forth that the automobile drove around the left side of the street car and knocked her down, before she reached the sidewalk.

Raiders Visit Seven Places; Find 3 'Wet'

Of seven places visited by prohibition agents yesterday only three were found to be "wet." The "wet" spots, according to the agents, were at 6427½ Frankstown avenue, where Richard Thompson, 56, was arrested; dwelling, 314 Eleventh street, North Braddock, where George D. Cario, 46, was nabbed, and at 429 Water street, where William M. Rose was taken. Moonshine was seized in each place, the agents said.

PARENT-TEACHERS HEAD LAUDS RADIO IN SCHOOL

More enthusiastic endorsements of the Sun-Telegraph-Stanley-Warner Brothers' Theaters Radio-in-the-Schoolroom campaign are pouring in by every mail. One of the latest evidences of strong approval of this far-reaching campaign comes from Mrs. Helen K. Hughes, president of the Allegheny County Parent-Teachers' Association.

"A radio in every schoolroom seems almost too good to be true," writes Mrs. Hughes. "With the wonderful educational treats coming to us over the radio it is truly an inspiration to look forward to the time when every child in Allegheny County may reap the benefits to be derived from this seemingly limitless field of education.

EXCELS BOOKS

"If every child in the country could have heard the inaugural ceremony, from beginning to end, it would have been worth any number of history or civics lessons by the book route.

"Another outstanding educational achievement this winter was the series of musical talks to children by Walter Damrosch, who was probably the pioneer in preparing work for general broadcast in the public schools. If our schools had radios in every room, our children could hear Damrosch play music suitable to their ages and could hear also his wonderful descriptions of the selections.

"Others are no doubt making plans for broadcast service for the schools, so that the radio may soon be as effective a part of educational programs as motion picture instruction is now.

"I will watch with deep interest the unfolding of the radio plan of the Sun-Telegraph for enriching the lives of the children who, we hope, will profit by our mistakes and carry on for us in the coming generation."

MANY INQUIRIES

The announcement that the Sun-Telegraph has joined with the Stanley-Warner Brothers' Theaters in this city in offering a complete radio set to every schoolroom which obtains 125 orders for carrier delivery of the Sun-Telegraph, brought many inquiries of an interesting nature.

A number of inquiries as to the set will be satisfied by its description as a $138.50 8-tube, No. 53 Atwater Kent set, self-contained with an Electro-dynamic loud speaker of latest design.

Other inquiries asked whether the campaign included all schools. Public, parochial and private schools are all invited to participate; the offer extends to every type of educational organization.

Those who ordinarily buy their papers singly on the streets will also be called new subscribers provided they agree to have the paper delivered to their home.

Where carrier service is unavailable, rates are slightly higher to cover cost of mailing.

School Radio

MRS. HELEN K. HUGHES
Mrs. Hughes writes that "a radio in every schoolroom would seem almost too good to be true."

NATIONAL LAW FOR TRAFFIC URGED

A national traffic law is urged by Burgess W. J. Longmore, of Bellevue.

Uniformity in place of the present variety of speed, signal and general traffic regulation would aid autoists and would tend to lessen accidents, he believes.

"I wrote to Congressman Stephen G. Porter on this subject," said the burgess today. "He replied that the power of Congress is limited to interstate traffic and would have no power to establish regulations which would affect motor vehicles engaged in intrastate traffic.

"However, he promised that he would take up the question as a member of the Committee on Interstate Commerce and see what could be done toward enacting a national traffic law."

FIRE ROUTS 600 FROM HOTEL

Six hundred lodgers spending the night in the Improvement of the Poor Hotel, 428 Duquesne way, were routed early today when smoke from a fire in the laundry and waste paper room filled the upper floors of the hotel where the men were sleeping. Hotel attendants awakened the men and asked them to leave.

The laundry and waste paper room, as well as the garage, is in a small one-story brick addition, alongside the hotel itself. About 5:30 o'clock smoke was seen issuing from the rear of this building and a still alarm was sent in from the hotel. Firemen had difficulty in finding the blaze due to the great amount of smoke that issued from the paper room.

Several trucks in the portion occupied by the garage were removed without difficulty. The cause of the fire is undetermined and the damage was slight.

DOPE PEDDLING SUSPECT HELD

An attempt to sell morphine and cocaine on a Wylie avenue corner was charged to Lewis Ragsdale, 27, Negro, of 1224 Filson street, who was turned over to narcotic agents this morning after a hearing before Magistrate Thomas Jones in Central Police Court.

Detectives testified Ragsdale was trying to peddle a small bottle of dope for $85.

Fire Razes Buildings Entered by Tramps

Tramps are blamed for starting a fire which destroyed several small frame buildings owned by the Islesworth Club camp, on the Allegheny River bank at Karns, near Natrona. Flames destroyed several of the buildings last night, causing damage estimated at several hundred dollars. The buildings have been vacant for some time, and it is believed that tramps had been making them their headquarters.

Youth on Bicycle Struck by Auto

Herman Henderson, 9, of 2025 Windover street, Squirrel Hill, is reported recovering in Mercy Hospital today, where he was taken yesterday after being struck by an automobile while riding a bicycle in Windover street, near Hobart street. Mrs. Laura Goldsmith, 35, of 5835 Hobart street, was driving the automobile that struck the boy, police say.

SCHOOL TEACHER AMONG GIRLS NAMED AS TYPICAL

HELENE SENIKO
This young lady hails from Jacobs Creek, Westmoreland County. Twenty-three years old, Miss Seniko teaches school.

JEAN LONGFITT
Born in Pughtown, W. Va., Miss Longfitt moved to East Liverpool, O., when she was 11. She swims, plays tennis and dances.

VIRGINIA KENDRICK
Miss Kendrick was graduated from high school in 3½ years and won the national student contralto contest at the Sesquicentennial Exposition.

QUEST ENTRIES POUR IN

Many last-minute nominations in the Typical American Girl Quest which the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph is conducting in this district, provide reading of unusual interest.

For instance, a letter from one young lady which nominated Miss Virginia Kendrick, 2869 Castlegate avenue, gave some interesting details about her rise in the world. It seems she commenced a career when she graduated from South Hills High School—she took up the study of music, voice and piano. Meanwhile, the note tells us, she worked in a bank as a savings teller.

OVERCOMES OBSTACLES

After a great deal of hard work, Miss Kendrick equipped herself to enter the national students' contralto contest at the Sesquicentennial Exposition in Philadelphia and won it, at the age of 19!

She can prepare a meal, she designs and makes all her clothes, and has an engaging personality of a "lasting quality."

Miss Jean Longfitt, according to Miss Ruth Price, who nominated her, "is not content to be mediocre—she wants to excell in everything she does and works hard to do so. She has poise, high ideals, and is kind and generous. Her idea of success is to do something extremely well.

YOUNGSTOWN ENTERS LISTS

R. S. Schwartz, of the City Trust and Savings Bank, Youngstown, O., writes that "there is a Typical American Girl right around the corner whom I know and think would qualify. She is a business girl; has a very good position, yet it does not unbalance her; she is a high school graduate and continues to do some night school work; reads; can sew and cook very well; she is interested in people and events; she likes good food; her hobby is sports. She believes in marriage for love on a fifty-fifty basis; motherhood; moderation in drinking and smoking."

Mr. Schwartz forgot to inclose Mary Betty Hartman's picture. Miss Hartman is his nominee and lives at 530 West Ravenwood avenue, Youngstown.

With only a few more days left for our search, it is possible that someone has forgotten to send in the nomination that would surely win the national contest.

Don't delay any longer!

Husband Misses Target, Wife Divorced

Laura J. Williams, who says her husband, Preston Williams, took a shot at and missed her, has been granted a divorce in accordance with a decree handed down in Common Pleas Court.

Mrs. Williams who lives at 311 Lowell street, testified before the court that her husband drank to excess. They were married in 1920, when she was only 19. She says that her husband refused to give her money for proper support.

PHILA. CO. HEAD QUITS DUTIES

A. W. Robertson, who recently resigned as president of the Philadelphia Company and affiliated corporations, has completed pending business, it was announced today at the offices of the company.

Until further action of the directors, Thomas Fitzgerald, vice president, will direct operation of the transportation companies of the group; C. S. Mitchell, accounting, and F. R. Phillips operation of other than transit companies.

Robertson resigned shortly after the first of the year to become chairman of the board of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company and continued his duties with the Philadelphia Company to clear up certain business.

Octogenarian Wins Murder Acquittal

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., April 4—(AP.)—John Ritzel, 83, was acquitted of the slaying of his daughter, Mrs. James Dempsey, by a jury in Luzerne County Criminal Court today.

Mrs. Dempsey died from wounds she received at the Maple Ridge Inn, near White Haven, when it was alleged her father fired, when two men in the inn tried to forcibly throw him down a pair of steps.

Operation of Slot Machine Costs $500

Nick Panos, McKees Rocks restaurateur, indicted for operating a slot machine in the recent county graft probe, pleaded guilty in Criminal Court and was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and paroled for one year by Visiting Judge Frank P. Darr. Others had been let off with $50 fines, but officers testified that Panos had operated his machine again after he had been raided.

Name Commission On Election Districts

John Gilfillan, Arthur Wessel and Henry Menschke were appointed by Quarter Sessions Court to make a study of the First Ward of Mt. Lebanon Borough and to report back to the court as to whether more election precincts should be created in the ward. There are now four precincts, having 660, 536, 593 and 304 registered voters respectively.

"Annoyer" of Sproul Fined in Radio Fake

Chuyler Coleman, 36, of Coraopolis, was penalized $50 or 60 days in jail by Magistrate Leo Rothenberg today after Detective John Crouse had testified that he tried to sell something he didn't own—advertising time over Station WJAS.

Coleman was arrested on complaint of Evangelist John W. Sproul, who testified that Coleman had bothered him persistently.

INTRUDER GETS 20-DAY TERM

In default of bail, Philip Sandusky, 40, of Philadelphia, was sentenced to the Allegheny County Jail for 20 days following a hearing before Justice of the Peace W. H. Heath, of Greenock, on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by Constable Nickolls. Sandusky was arrested by Constable Nickolls on the premises of Mrs. Mena Smith, Greenock, following numerous complaints of residents who had been annoyed by the intruder.

SEVEN FREED IN EXPENSE TRIAL

After deliberating one hour, a jury in Criminal Court today acquitted seven Harrison township officials on a charge of illegally using township funds to attend state conventions of commissioners.

The prosecutors, police and constables, must bear half the costs in the cases of six defendants, Ralph Carr, William Murdock, Louis C. Schweitzer, Alvin E. Kelley, Frank Starczewski and Henry Sherrich, the jury ruled. In the case of the seventh defendant freed, W. B. Linhart, entire costs were placed on Leo Mazick, chief prosecutor.

Made Her Nervous Wreck Wife Says

Alleging that her husband, Willard C. Yeckel, made a nervous wreck out of her and was jealous of her, Margaret F. Yeckel, 415 Washington road, Mt. Lebanon, has asked Judge Josiah Cohen to grant her a divorce. She charges Yeckel through her counsel Ben J. Lubic, with cruel and barbarous treatment.

Drowning Victim's Body Recovered

The body of F. A. Oxenreiter, 54, of 109 Orchard street, Knoxville, was taken from the Allegheny River today by River Patrolmen Charles Snyder and Henry Reddy.

Last night police were notified that a man had jumped from a barge and a hat, coat and overcoat were found on the river bank near the south end of the Sixteenth Street Bridge.

TRADERS SCORE GAS TAX BOOST

The proposed four-cent gasoline tax was opposed in a resolution adopted by the Ross Township Board of Trade at its monthly meeting, Tuesday night in the Samuel Hamilton Junior High School.

Members of the board held the tax was unjustified and a blow at autoists and the automobile industry. James S. McKain, secretary, was authorized to communicate the organization's action to representatives at Harrisburg.

Annexation of parts of the township to Pittsburgh, drew fire of the members who held the move was unfair to the township which had sought to provide adequate school facilities and community improvements and that it placed an excessive burden on the remaining taxpayers.

A. B. Coombe, was named chairman of a committee to have charge of arrangements for the annual township picnic, May 29, in West View Park. School children of the township will be guests. Albert Scholze, president of the Board of Trade, presided.

Gets Five Days in Jail for Vagrancy

Larry McGraw, 50, no home, arrested by Patrolman Carl Steiglitz at Brownsville avenue and Carson street, on a charge of vagrancy, was sentenced to the county jail for five days by Magistrate John J. Sweeney in South Side Police Court yesterday. The officer testified that McGraw did not have any visible means of support.

2 Highwaymen Get $40 in E. E. Holdup

Held up by two men at Shetland avenue and Lenora street early today, J. J. Moriarity, of 6379 Burchfield avenue, was robbed of $40 in cash.

RAILWAY SPAN ASSURED AT BELLEVUE

After negotiations lasting several years, Bellevue residents are virtually assured of a safety foot bridge over tracks of the Fort Wayne Railroad at Bellevue station.

Bellevue council Tuesday night approved an agreement with the Pennsylvania Railroad for construction of the overhead span. It is understood the company is ready to sign the agreement and that erection of the bridge will be begun within two months. The cost to the borough will be about $1,000 for that part of the bridge and ramp on borough property.

Councilman John R. Longabaugh, chairman of the public safety committee, had held numerous conferences with officials of the railroad and finally an agreement was reached. Both sides are said to have agreed that the step would eliminate accidents to pedestrians at a point where hundreds take trains daily.

The bridge, similar to that at Avalon station, will be of exceptionally heavy material. It will be brought from New Brighton where it has been in use for a short time, it is understood.

OFFICER DENIES HIT-RUN CHARGE

John Pollas, 35, of 1105 Bluff street, constable for Alderman Thomas A. Flannigan, is at liberty today on a $1,000 bail bond, following his arrest yesterday by city detectives as the owner of a "hit-and-run" machine which struck and seriously injured Motorcycle Patrolman Charles J. Schierlein, in the Boulevard of the Allies Tuesday. Schierlein is in Mercy Hospital.

Pollas charged with violating the automobile laws denied driving the machine. The car, he said, was in a public garage in Fifth avenue. Upon learning that the automobile was not in the garage Pollas insisted that it had been stolen. The machine was recovered at Herron and Center avenues, yesterday.

Two girls who witnessed the accident and who furnished police with the license number informed the officers that the driver of the machine was a slim man. Pollas is of stout build.

Tarentum Husband Sues for Divorce

Claire E. Wolferd, of 927 Corbett street, Tarentum, married in 1912, and deserted, he alleges, in 1927, has filed a libel in divorce against Roxanna Wolferd, in Common Pleas Court.

Today's Flagism

Hendrick Hudson, one of the greatest explorers of his turbulent period, sailed from Amsterdam, Holland, April 4, 1609, and on the following September 12 had sailed his ship, the "Half Moon," up the great river which now bears his name—now one of the principal streams in the domain over which floats the Stars and Stripes. On the banks of that river is now located the world's largest city—New York, which in a comparatively brief span of years outstripped in growth Old World cities of great age.

Will Rogers Says

NEW YORK, April 4.

We used to brag on the fact that unlike England, we had no different classes or ratings in this country, and here Secretary Stimson is called on to referee a bout in Washington's table etiquette.

Washington can't go out to dinner till they decide who shall sit next to who at the diplomatic dinners.

They ought to feed 'em Los Angeles style. Slip everybody a plate and if they can't find the grub, why he wouldn't be much of a diplomat.

I attended a Gridiron dinner where the President was there, and they seated the diplomats according to what they owe us.

England, France, Belgium and Italy were near the President, and the nations that didn't owe us a cent were at the foot of the table.

I told 'em, "You all better borrow something or you will never meet Coolidge."

Yours, WILL.

Hank Is Happy After She Learns Queenie Didn't Go Out With Warry

(From a Scenario by Edmund Goulding.)

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Eddie Kerns, song plugger, has written the music for "The Broadway Melody," a big revue to be produced by the famous Zanfield. For two years Eddie has been engaged to "Hank" Mahoney and now he sees his way clear to marry her. She and her younger sister, Queene, are playing in vaudeville and Eddie summons them to New York and tells them he has managed to place them in the revue. They are overjoyed, but Eddie suddenly discovers that he's lost his heart to Queenie who has developed into a startling beauty in the two years since he saw her last. He keeps his secret from "Hank" and the girls turn down a long vaudeville contract for a chance to make good in the revue. Zannie, after seeing the "Mahoney Sisters" perform, decides that he could only use Queenie. She, however, appeals to him to also give her sister a chance in the show. He consents. "Hank" believes that she put it over. During a dress rehearsal Eddie shows the sisters the big ad in the newspaper announcing their coming to Broadway. When Hank kisses Eddie, Queenie cries. Zannie gives Queenie a place in the revue. She makes an impression and the two "angels" of the revue invite her out to dine after the show. Dore, one of the show girls, tells Queenie to watch her step with Worthington. Eddie questions Queenie about "Warry" and tells her to keep away from him. Ignoring Eddie's protest she goes out with Warriner.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER X.

AS QUEENIE, overacting in an effort to seem "natural," called through a synthetic laugh to Francis Warriner that she'd join him, the horrified Hank slammed the dressing room door in his aristocratic face.

Queenie, who had never "talked back" to her sister in her whole life, sprang toward her fiercely:

"How'd you get that way?" she demanded, and she opened the door.

Warry was shrewd and expert enough at his peccadillo practices to know that Hank was only watering his wheel; for she was making him "difficult," and that gave him an intriguing position beyond the allure of his $1,000-bill stunt and his good looks and dangerous reputation. So he stood aside.

"Queenie, you can't go," breathed Hank.

Queenie tossed her shoulders with a little shrug. Warriner was in hearing—a stranger. Eddie was in the room. And here was she, who had determined to take this critical "out" for the sake of her sister and the man they both loved, and Hank was making a disagreeable scene.

"Don't be an oil can, Hank. I'm no infant. I promised Mr. Warriner I'd go with him and Mr. Worthington for a bite—good grief. I'm not being kidnaped—now actr yourself . . . see you at the hotel."

It was Eddie who now cut in.

His eyes flashed jealously, resentment, anger.

"It don' go—an' you don' go," he barked decisively.

Queenie, honestly stung by his peremptory tone and attitude, turned on him—

"Listen here, Mr. Kerns. You been mighty fine to me an' Hank. An' don' think I mean maybe. But—when it comes down to that Simon Legree business, I don' remember where you got your cue. I can take care o' myself; an' any time I couldn', Hank could. We never called for a referee, an' certainly not for a boss. Now, please let me get by——"

"Get by? All you pinheaded good-lookin' simps think they can get by on their own. Well, you can't, and what's more——"

"Please! Mr. Kerns! You not only takin' a whole lot for granted but gettin' pretty crude in your remarks . . . is your air of authority an' your insultin' line just your nach'ral system, or is it pers'nal to me because you're goin' to be my brother-in-law?"

There was an ironic thrust in her speech which tore into Eddie's heart. Only Queenie and he could realize how bitterly barbed it was. He almost staggered back, as he dazedly cleared the path for Queenie. With a "So long" she crossed to the door and bowed to Barry, who stood without.

Hank and Eddie, knocked and shocked speechless, motionless and witless, made no gesture of interference. Eddie came out of it first, and dashed through the door to look down the long cement corridor. Hank was right back of him. They saw Queenie just turning the angle at the head of the long fireproof stairs leading down to the stage door.

They heard Warry's voice in light badinage, but could not distinguish the words; they thought he was probably having a laugh on them. Warry's arm was slightly around her trim young waist, not in intimate fashion but in an easy proprietary position.

Hank started back in. Eddie joined her. She closed the door and began walking the floor. Hot anger gave away to a sense of almost bereavement, then the feminine panacea sprang forth, and the tears flowed. She laid her head limply on Eddie's shoulder and sobbed.

"Oh, honey—this is the first time Queen ever went against my advice. I'm—I'm so w-worried——'

He tried to comfort her by stroking her head, but his own hand was unsteady and the palm was moist and cold. He patted her arm, but it was a mechanical gesture.

"Well, it's no use stayin' here," he said hoarsely. "Let's lam."

He helped her on with her wrap and they walked forth slowly, their heads hung.

"She's so young," wailed Hank. "She has to be p'tected. She don' know nothin'——"

"You're right," he chimed in, scarcely hearing.

"What got over her? She never looked crooked at a man before——"

"How's that?" snapped Eddie, jolted out of his reveries.

"I say she never looked at a man before—not to say goin' out with a notorious chicken-thief like that Warriner, an' over my say-so—an' over yours——"

"She never took no orders from me—I never give her any."

"No. You always told me, an' that was enough for me, an' I told her, an' that was enough for her."

They walked on toward the Princeton Hotel, where the girls had spent happy even though harried hours during the stress and uncertainty of rehearsals; with Eddie calling on them and taking them out to meals with the inflating suspense of the flaming future they were nearing, they had seemed closer than ever, if such a thing could be.

"You know, Eddie," continued Hank, "something's been—well, sort of different like, with Queenie for days. I put it down to the excitement an' worry o' gettin' up in the show, fittin' on coschumes, gettin' up on lyrics, breakin' in new steps, recharsin' an' a lot o' high hoppin' an' lofty hoppin'. But now—say, it makes me get to thinkin'. Can you find the lowdown on it?"

Eddie coughed nervously and self-consciously.

"N-no. Why, no. I don't know nothin' that could o' changed Queenie. Of course, a girl of her age gets older ev'ry day. She may be at jus' that turn where, all of a sudden she begins to notice men—h'm—an' 'specially thrown onto Broadway, amongst int'restin', important ones, aroun' the biggest revue in the finest theayter in the country—such things affects young kids—"

"Yes. I was one—not so very long ago. But it never hit me that way. When I changed, it was you changed me. I didn' suddenly take int'rest in men at all—I suddenly took int'rest in one man—an' that changed me plenty. That's what worries me—are you sure she never met this Warriner before?"

"Oh—positive."

"Could it have been love at first sight? Well, even that wouldn't explain why she's been sort o' strange for the last week—"

"H—jus' how d'you mean—h'm—strange? What did she do?"

"Oh, nothin' in p'tic'lar. But the things she didn't do. I caught her cryin' a couple o' times an' she couldn' or wouldn' tell me why. An' then it seemed to me she didn' kiss me, an'—oh, I can't say it in words—I been with her an' part of her so long that the tiniest look or act that wasn't right in the ol' picture jumped up like it was big—see?"

"I s'pose I do. She—she never—she never said nothin'—nothin' you could—"

"No. I never asked her. I never mentioned this to her. I tell you, I took it for granted it was because of the change in atmosphere an' conditions. An' I'd still thought so, or forgot all about it, if it hadn' o' been for the way she behaved t'day an' just now—and what she did—an' what she may be doin' right this minute—oh, my, God, Eddie!"

He patted her some more. They were at the hotel. She pulled herself together so as not to be conspicuous in the lobby and elevator. The clerk turned up an eye as they passed.

She fumbled for her key and opened the door of her suite. All was darkness. She pulled the cord on a stand-lamp and mechanically took off her hat and coat. Eddie wilted into an armchair.

"Eddie," she whispered, "I'm goin' to sit up here—an' wait. Ev'ry minute'll be a year—an' a long, hard, cruel year—but you needn' stay—why waste your time an' wish you in on my worries an' my heartaches?"

"Why not? I got a little o' that myself . . . I'll wait."

"Thanks, honey . . . if you're hungry order up somethin' here, then."

"I ain't hungry. If you are——"

"Me?" she almost laughed, but there was a ring of despair in her tone. "What's gnawin' at me ain' no appetite for ham-an'-eggs."

Eddie squirmed; then he took out his solid gold cigarette case, took out a smoke, carefully slid it back in his breast pocket, got his enameled lighter, fillipped it with his thumb, lit up, put back the instrument, crossed his left leg over his right, drew a puff, put down his left and crossed his right over it——

"You dowanna go, do you, dear?"

"Who? M? No—no—I was just—no, I'll wait; I'll stick——"

"All right, then, I'll slip in the bedroom an' put on my mules—with all that hoofin' an' standin' around this sweet day, my dogs are killin' me."

She walked wearily toward the bedroom door, reached in an arm and threw the switch. A burst of light from the ceiling fixture flooded the room. Hank turned tackadaisically, and——

Eddie was lifted out of his pose and out of his chair.

"You didn't go! YOU DIDN'T GO!"

Forgetting the etiquette which obtains even among the freely informal children of the theater, he rushed over and stared into the bedroom.

Hank was on her knees at the bedside, and in her embrace she was clutching Queenie.

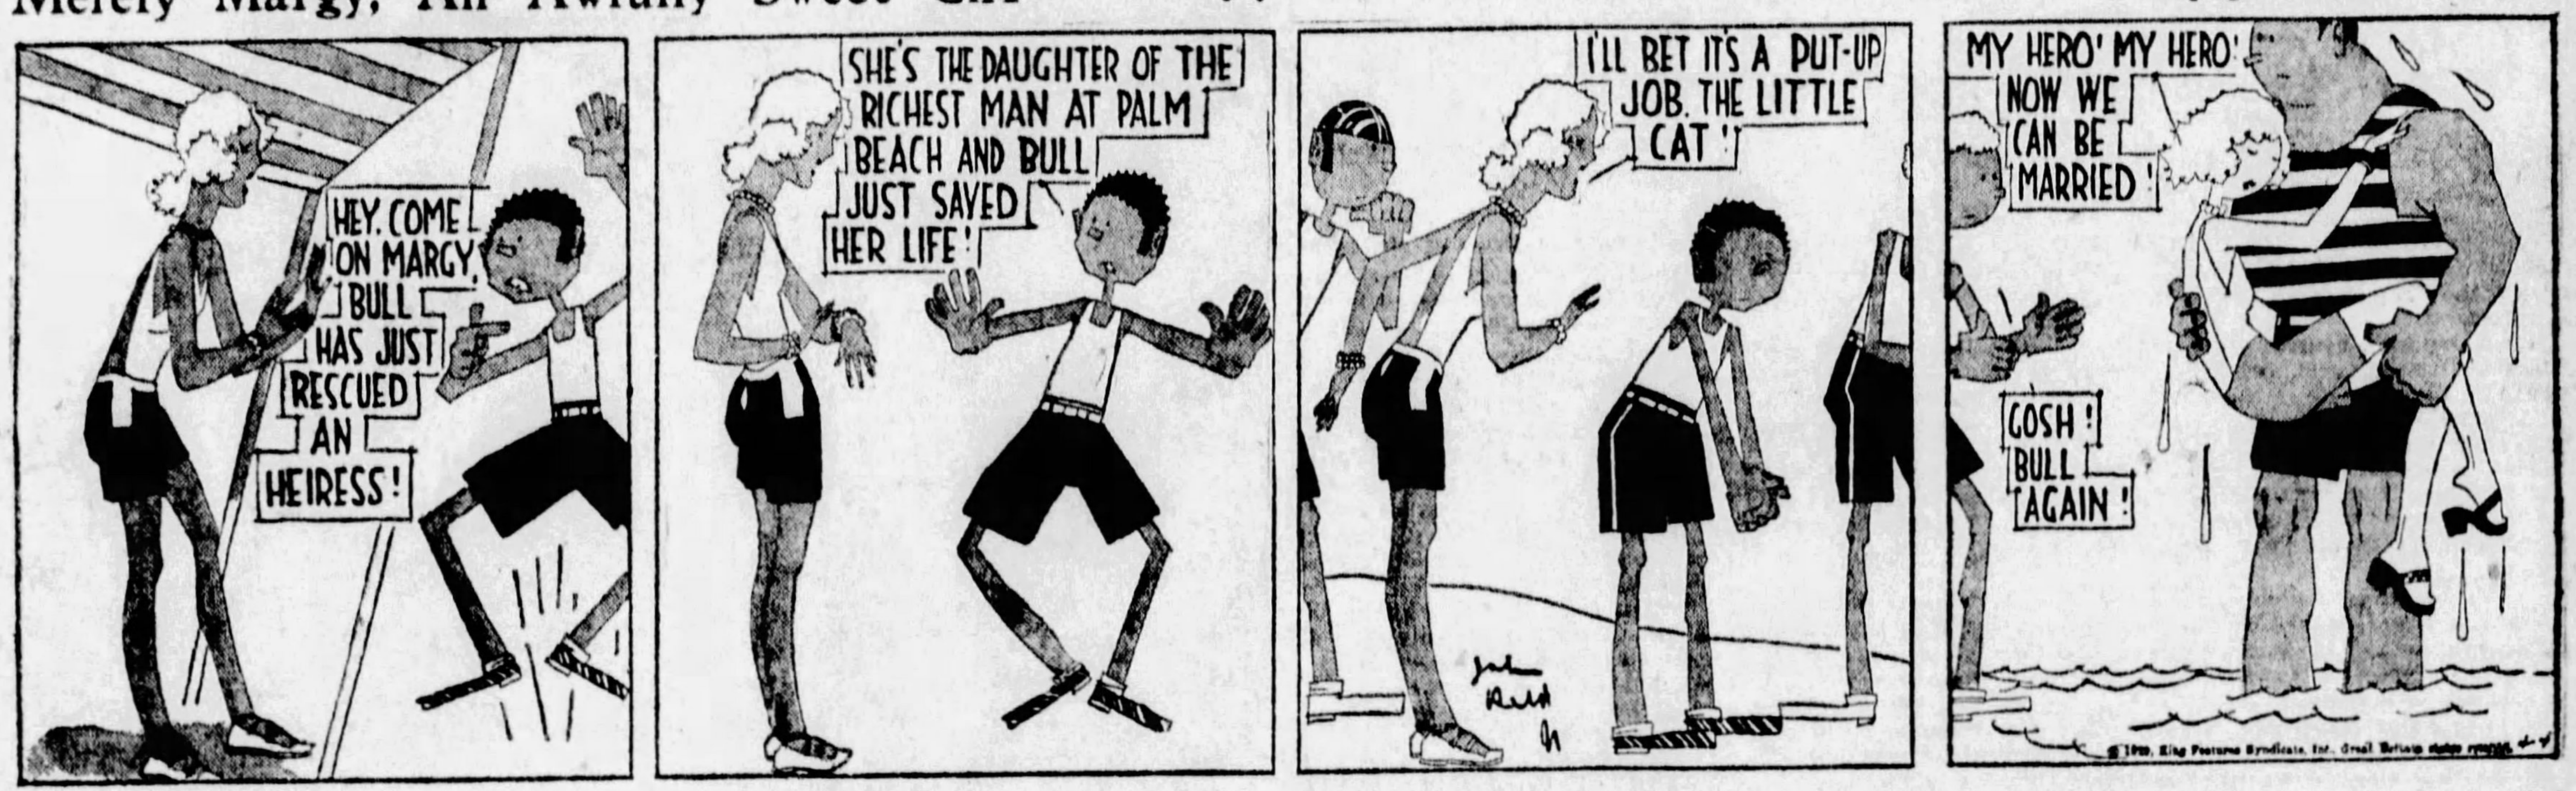
Merely Margy, An Awfully Sweet Girl :-: Story by Lloyd Mayer :-: By John Held, Jr.



HEY, COME ON MARGY, BULL HAS JUST RESCUED AN HEIRESS!
SHE'S THE DAUGHTER OF THE RICHEST MAN AT PALM BEACH AND BULL JUST SAVED HER LIFE!
I'LL BET IT'S A PUT-UP JOB, THE LITTLE CAT!
MY HERO! MY HERO! NOW WE CAN BE MARRIED!
GOSH! BULL AGAIN!
John Held Jr

"My dear, I'm simply LIVid at this point! I mean I'm PRACticably ready to ROLL over and BUTter myself with IRE, no less, because I mean ARab suddenly came ROARing FRANtically UP to me with the anNOUNcement that BULL had just rescued an HEIRess from DROWNing! Did you ever in your LIFE hear of anything so riDIC? I mean practicably EV'rybody can SWIM nowadays, my dear, and there's simply NO exCUSE for BULL to go running round REScuing these POISonous SHIMmy fluffers who just make a SCENE at the BEACH to get some atTENtion from the GULlible bozos like BULL who have the quaint idea that ALL women are perfectly sinCERE and everything—you know the type! Well, ANYways, my dear, the whole POINT is that BULL'S gotten himself FRIGHTfully inVOLVED because apPARently he's been roped IN by this poisonous woman, my dear, who wants to MARry him, no less—can you BEAR it? I mean there's NObody who'd be more THRILLED than I would if Bull were marrying some AWfully sweet GIRL, but I simply LOATHE having him inVEIGled into MATrimony with a little cat just because he thinks he ought to be galLANT about it and all, my dear, only he's SO dumb you can't make him SEE he's making a TERrible misTAKE, my dear, because WAIT till you hear about my heavy disCUSsion with him on the quaint point! I mean it's all so VAGUE I'm comPLETEly BAFfled and nonPLUSSED—I mean I ACtually AM!"

Her Honesty

By GUY SWARINGEN

Daily Short Story

STEPHEN TRIONA'S matched bays walked easily up the shaded hill road over pine needles and early-fallen leaves. The woods were vivid with autumn colors against evergreen pines. But Stephen had eyes for little save the girl on the other horse. She guided their way.

He thought of her eyes as blue lamps. They seemed to emit actual beams of light. Her riding breaches, blouse and leggins did not conceal the womanly curves of her form. Her cap was on her saddle horn. Beneath blue-black bobbed hair, the ivory pallor of her skin was tinged with pink from the exercise of riding. Stephen was thankful that she had the sense not to paint, and wondered at her preoccupation.

His thought of her was tinged with reverence. Beauty affected Stephen like that. He did not know that he had the heart of a poet.

Muriel, feeling his gaze, at length gave him a brief, absent smile. At once her features settled back into lines of gravity.

After a little wait, she said: "I just love these horses."

"I love you!" Stephen waited, but there was no response. She had expected him to say that. He added: "I've been trying to sell them."

"Sell them?" The question was a protest. As though of their own accord the horses drew closer. Stephen laid his arm across the girl's shoulders, and for a moment she lay against him while he kissed her.

Then she drew away, sighing faintly.

"I suppose I might manage to keep them." Stephen hardly heeded what he said. He was absorbed in trying to fathom the girl's unwonted gloomy silence. The mood had grown upon her since she assumed direction of their ride. In response to his caress, just now, there had been in her an almost abject hunger. He asked abruptly: "When shall we get married?"

She hesitated; said slowly: "I—don't know."

"Why?" Stephen was surprised into speaking sharply. "Since we're engaged, I don't see any use waiting so long—"

"Stephen," she asked, "you're very rich, aren't you?"

"What's that got to do with it? As a matter of fact, I'm not—"

"Your people are what we country folks call—quality," Muriel, intent on voicing her difficult thought, did not wait for him to finish. "It isn't just your wealth. Your family has always been respected." She paused, and added hurriedly. "My folks have always been poor, and—not always honest. I'm the only one who has been to college."

"That doesn't matter. It's you I want to marry; not your——"

"Wait," she urged. "I want you to see——"

"I've waited long enough——"

His outburst was interrupted when the girl abruptly turned her mount from the rough hill road into a trail so narrow that he had to fall behind. Stephen had hardly noticed the growing rugged ness of the way.

"Muriel," he urged, "all that doesn't matter. Nothing matters but the fact that we love each other."

"Wait!" Muriel's voice had grown strained. "Wait till you see."

The trail came to an end. The trees and rocks on either side widened into a small clearing. In the middle of this was what appeared to be a small furnace of rough stones, with a short chimney from which drifted blue smoke. Near either side of the path a man stood at attention, each with a rifle across his arm.

"It's all right." The girl spoke to them hastily. "You know I wouldn't bring anyone here who wasn't all right." Then she turned her horse to face the astonished Stephen.

"You see!" she said with quiet emphasis. "I want you to meet my uncle and cousin. This is my father's land."

She paused, staring at the smiling Stephen. The man was regarding her relatives with the friendliest manner possible.

"You needn't keep me covered, gentlemen," he told them. "I'm unarmed. Search me, if you like. In fact, I am going to marry Muriel, if she'll have me. I'm practically one of the family.'

"Oh!" Muriel said faintly. Turning to the other men, she nodded. "That's right. There's no reason why you shouldn't regard him as a friend."

The rifles were lowered. The two hard-bitten faces relaxed into smiles of hospitality. There were drawling words of welcome.

It was but a moment until Muriel broke into this interchange of civilties: "We'd better start back, Stephen, if we're to get home before night. Come on." And she turned her horse into the path again with a kind of urgent haste.

Once more Stephen rode behind her until they reached the descending road and he could again ride by her side. Then a little grimly he told her:

"Muriel, it's no secret in my family that the ancestor who founded our fortune was a pirate, compared to whom most moonshiners are Christian gentlemen. That was only six generations back. We lived on his wealth until my father lost it, in a speculation that might have landed him in jail, and then shot himself. That was nearly five years ago. My mother had already been dead some time. Since then I've used up what was left in paying his debts."

"Stephen!" cried the girl. "Why haven't you told me, dear?"

"Maybe I should have, but I'm not proud of the record." Stephen smiled bitterly; but the smile relaxed into his usual dry humor. "Do you love me enough to stomach my antecedants?"

"Stephen!" she protested, and squeezed his arm. "So you want me yet, after seeing——"

"Seems to be a question of whether you want me!" Stephen grinned; and presently added: "Guess I'll have to sell these horses, though. The only job I have in sight won't support all four of us."

GUARD BEAUTY AT THE DANGER LINE

MOUTH hygiene is so important these days! Not only for the charm of a pleasant smile—but also because decayed teeth and irritated gums can often destroy the radiant beauty of health.

To be safe, guard The Danger Line—where teeth and gums meet. In its tiny V-shaped crevices acids form that cause the most treacherous form of tooth decay and gum irritation. No tooth-brush can reach into all these crevices to rub the acids away. But Squibb's Dental Cream, made with more than 50% Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, effectively neutralizes them.

Squibb's contains no soaps, grit, or anything that could injure the delicate mouth tissues. Its use, together with regular visits to your dentist, will give you the best protection possible. 40c a large tube.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

What to Do for an Unconscious Person

AT SOME time or other you may be called upon to give first aid to a person who is having a fit or has fallen in a faint. What are you to do? You feel you must do something, but just what is it?

DR. COPELAND

There are several causes for loss of consciousness. The most common is an ordinary "fainting spell." Lots of people have a tendency to faint and do so on the slightest provocation. More than any similar trouble, this is the one you are likely to witness.

In apoplexy, the victim may fall to the ground absolutely unconscious. This sounds like a faint, doesn't it? But, as I shall show you shortly, it is not difficult to recognize the difference.

There is also the loss of consciousness due to poisoning. This may be caused by a poison taken into the stomach, or it may come from the absorption of poisons generated within the body. Alcohol is a common example of the one, and what the doctors call "uremic poisoning" is a form of the other type.

How are you to tell whether the case is a fainting spell or is due to apoplexy? If you will consider the cause of each there will be no difficulty.

Fainting is due to the effects of a sudden emotion or other cause upon the action of the heart. It is slowed up in its activity. It does not beat with sufficient force to send the blood through the body and into the brain. The skin is blanched and cold. The face is white, like wax. There is a dead look, the pulse is so faint it cannot be felt and the breathing is very, very slow.

In apoplexy and in the more common poisonings, the brain is filled with blood. The face is flushed, almost purple in color, perhaps. The breathing is noisy, possibly snoring in its nature. The pulse is slow and full.

Have I told you enough to make clear what you should do? Since there is not enough blood in the brain, when the patient is in a faint, your effort should be to help nature to supply that vital organ. To do this you must call upon gravity to help.

Place the patient on the floor or a sofa. Raise the legs and hips. Keep the head very low and the feet high. In this position the blood naturally gravitates to the brain.

Just exactly the opposite is the treatment to give the person who has a flushed face and congestion of the brain. It should be your effort to get the blood out of the head.

Raise the head, shoulders and upper part of the body. Keep the hips and the legs low. Call on gravity here, but with the idea of draining the blood from the brain.

The person in a faint is cold and clammy. Cover him up, but permit lots of fresh air to reach his face.

Never try to pour whisky or other stimulant down the throat of an unconscious person. You may actually drown him, by getting the liquid into the lungs instead of the stomach.

If there is not a total loss of consciousness, a fainting person will be benefitted by a stimulant. But in its absence, the simple things I have suggested will be helpful always and never harmful.

This is all the layman can do to advantage. You will send somebody for the doctor who will arrive in time to give appropriate medical treatment.

SPRING and the call of the woodlands! Who can resist it? Who wants to resist it? When all Nature is at her loveliest and the tiny, shy woodland things dance and wave a greeting to the capricious days. Wee buds slowly unfolding their glory for all to behold. Trees sending forth the shimmering green leaves which wave a joyous "hello" to a Winter-weary world.

Who can be sad at this time? No one who witnesses the perennial beauty of returning Spring.

And through all the glory one hears the thin, lilting pipes of Pan, which entice one to wander dreamily through the newly born world. And as one wanders the pipes play a faster, merrier tune, until one's feet fairly dance over the soft earth.

And Spring, glad to return again, begs Pan to play his most joyful tune to her that she may thrill to the loveliness which is hers and hers alone.

Mischievously he pipes soft, enticing music that brings the dreams of ages to her eyes, and suddenly changes to a lilting minor air that chases the dreams and brings a spark of gayety that it is impossible to resist. And she dances and flits through the world, only to fall into the arms of her lover, Summer. For Spring is made for love, and Pan knows it and hence his music.

Listen to Pan and you'll find love, just as Spring does. For Springtime is Lovetime—the loveliest season of the year.

Madge Refuses to Break Her Promise to Katie

MY mother-in-law's comment upon Katie's excuse for asking that luncheon be a half hour earlier, was so uncannily like my own thought that I frankly stared at her. She sniffed as she met my eyes and raised her head truculently.

"Oh! you needn't try to face me down about it," she said, misunderstanding the nature of my look. "If you haven't sense enough to see that the girl is lying to you about getting a telegram, it's time somebody made you see. Who saw her get that telegram? Who brought it? Jerry Ticer? I'll get hold of him the next time he comes, and find out whether she's lying or not."

That part of her tirade did not worry me, for I knew that my arrogant mother-in-law would never stoop to question our neighbor's son about our little maid. But her next demand brought me face to face with a disagreeable quandary.

"You're altogether too easy, Margaret," Dicky's mother said, as if she were talking to a 12-year-old child. "It's time I took a hand with this girl. Now you march downstairs and tell her it's all nonsense, that you're not going to have your lunch hour changed for any of her whims."

I heaped mental anathemas upon Katie's head for involving me in the unpleasant clash which I saw was inevitable with my mother-in-law. It is not often in these later days of her life that she issues such an ultimatum as she had just given me, but when she does and it is disregarded she makes things mightily uncomfortable in the household for a week at least.

But I realized fully that I could not yield to her, even if the question at issue were something else than the breaking of my promise just given to my maid. In the early days of my marriage I realized that I must give deference to my mother-in-law, but never obedience to her dictatorial demands, lest I should find myself a serf in my own household. So I braced myself as I said apologetically.

"I'm so sorry, Mother dear, but I cannot do that. You see, I've already promised her that she could go, and I must not go back upon my word."

Dicky's mother rose from her chair and advanced a step toward me.

"Do you mean to stand there, Margaret Graham, and tell me that you put a hired girl's convenience before my orders?"

What a magnificent figure she would have made in the old days when a queen's favorite pastime was uttering the equivalent for "Off with her head." The thought flitted through my mind even as I answered firmly:

"Forgive me, Mother, I am not telling you anything like that at all. I am simply saying that I cannot and will not break the promise I have just given Katie. I don't believe anyone else save yourself will be inconvenienced by the change, and if you do not wish to lunch before one I will see that you have a special luncheon brought up to you at that time. I have to go away myself, but I know Katherine will prepare you something very nice."

My mother-in-law glared at me for a minute, then turned her back upon me, and stalked—there is no other word to describe her movement—to the far end of the room. There she turned and spoke in a voice that breathed icicles, while her face looked absolutely frozen in its gray anger.

"You need not bother. I shall not come down to luncheon, nor shall I eat anything which anyone—anyone brings to this room. If I am to be flouted like this in my own son's house, it is time I stopped eating his food. Please leave me at once, and do not speak to me again. I shall write to Harriet tonight asking her for shelter in my last days. I also shall send for Richard to take me to Detroit. I wish you good day."

POISONS TAKE TERRIBLE TOLL

But Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Relieves Constipation

There are thousands suffering today because of constipation's deadly poisons. Men's hopes have been blighted. Women's beauty and charm have been stolen. Gone are their youthful vigor and happiness.

Yet Kellogg's ALL-BRAN can bring relief to such sufferers. Because it is a bulk food it sweeps the system clean of poisonous wastes. And since it is 100% bran, it does its work more effectively than part-bran products.

Start eating ALL-BRAN at the first signs of constipation. These are headaches, unpleasant breath, fatigue. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring relief—to prevent constipation. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

Ready-to-serve with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits or honey added. Use it in cooking. Recipes on the package. You'll like its delicious flavor. Sold by all grocers. Served by hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Friday, April 5

OF RATHER routine progress are the affairs of this day prognosticated, according to the weak nature of the planetary mutations. Still there may be many small annoyances, perplexities and worries unless the mind be kept pointing in the direction of cheer and good nature, knowing that the disquieting affairs are but passing, and in the long run trivial.

Those whose birthday it is may find the year ahead slow and tedious, but they should not be discouraged, gloomy or ill-natured because of the many trivial or perplexing situations that may arise.

A child born on this day should be given an education and training to enable it to rise above the petty trivialities and vexations of life.

Correct Manners

By Mrs. Cornelius Beeckman

A Fine Thought

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:
Some six or seven years ago I was employed as a stenographer by a firm in our city. After working there for one year I was taken sick and was "laid up" for several years. The manager was very good to me, and each year he sent me a lovely box of candy. I am again working in the same city, but for a different organization, and I would like to know if it would be proper for me to somehow or other show the manager and his wife (I know her well, also) my appreciation of what they did for me? I do not consider it good taste to send them individual gifts, but would it be within the laws of etiquette to send them a box of flowers with my card attached, mentioning my appreciation? D. P.

YOUR plan of sending a box of flowers to be lovely messengers of your appreciation is a most gracious one, and I recommend that you carry it out. But instead of attaching your card, write a short, sincere note expressing your appreciation of their goodness and kindness, and enclose that with the flowers.

Choosing Your Attendant

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:
Is it proper to have a married woman act as "matron of honor" and her husband as "best man?" One of my friends tells me that it is a breach of etiquette, and as my husband desires to have his married brother and sister-in-law act as best man and matron of honor, I am puzzled. ROSE.

YES, this arrangement is perfectly proper, if these are the people that you both most want as your attendants. Of course you should choose your attendants, especially if she is your only attendant. Usually the bride chooses her sister, or, if she has no sister, her best friend. If you have no sister and if your fiance's sister-in-law is your best friend then it is proper for you to choose her as your attendant. But if you are choosing her, only because your fiance wishes it, and if you have a sister or a best friend who has always wanted to be your attendant (and whom you have always wanted as your attendant, then such a choice would not be, according to the best custom.

Your first taste of Velveeta

A Rare Treat

When you open your package of Velveeta and note its fresh, golden creaminess, you are going to expect much. But even so, your first taste of Velveeta will still be a revelation in deliciousness. And this exquisite flavor, this velvety texture, this supreme goodness will always be the same, for it is something that we can control.

Yet Velveeta is even more than a decidedly delicious food. Velveeta represents a new idea in cheese making. We extract from the pure whole milk more Vitamins, Lactose (milk sugar), Calcium and other minerals of the whole milk in greater quantities than ever was possible by old methods, and these we add in making Velveeta. The result is purely a milk product that looks like cheese, tastes like cheese, but which because of it's enhanced food value should be called a super-cheese.

You can use Velveeta the same as you would use cheese. It spreads like butter. It can be sliced when chilled. It melts, dissolves and blends so readily with other foods that for cooking purposes it is superior to any cheese made under the old methods.

Velveeta is a cheese product that can be freely eaten by either children or grown-ups, and good for both. It's as digestible as milk itself. Your grocer has Velveeta. Try a package. You'll remember to buy often after that.

It's as good to eat as it is good for health!

When you find a food that is as heathful as it is delicious, and one approved by Child Specialists because of its nutritive value, it's an exception.

"Philadelphia" Cream Cheese is such a food. Many eminent doctors have recently added it to the list of foods advised for children. They recommend it because of its unusual richness in those two elements, Calcium and Vitamin A, so important to a child's normal development. "Philadelphia" is purely a dairy product; its creamy richness protected by the tinfoil wrapper. It is never sold in bulk. Your dealer has it.

ANIMAL PLAY BY MILNE SHOWS DRAMATISTS MAY YET PUT AESOP ACROSS

By GEORGE SEIBEL

GEORGE SEIBEL

DRAMATISTS are still striving to do the impossible. Here comes A. A. Milne, who has written some very pleasant comedies, particularly "Mr. Pim Passes By," with a dramatization of Kenneth Grahame's "Wind in the Willows." The play is called "Toad of Toad Hall," and is published by Scribners in a book.

The characters are Mole, Water-Rat, Badger, Toad, Weasel, Stoat, Ferret, Field-Mouse, Fox, three of the Rabbit Family, and a lot of other characters selected from the fauna of England.

Milne tells his readers that he sees these animals made up on the lines of the Cat in "The Blue Bird" and the Hen-Pheasant in "Chantecler." He thinks Toad should be short and fat, Badger tall and elderly, Rat and Mole young and slender.

Why not dramatize Aesop?

It would occur to few people to make a play from a book of Kenneth Grahame's. The result is a very delicate and fairy-like series of scenes with about as little dramatic punch or footlight comedy as can be imagined. But who can tell?

Who would have thought that Milne's book, "When We Were Very Young," would ever be a best seller? Yet it sold over 300,000 copies. Its sequel, "Now We Are Six," sold over 200,000 copies in a few months. Evidently there still is a demand for gentle fantasy such as James Matthew Barrie used to provide.

Gene O'Neill Gets Religion

At the other extreme from Milne's featherdown Muse is the sledgehammer dramaturgy of Eugene O'Neill. His latest play, "Dynamo," seems to be another religious broadside.

O'Neill has made a great show of his religious radicalism, verging on atheism, in various plays. In "Dynamo" he harps on that same string. His hero is a godless God-seeker who erects the Dynamo as a new Divinity.

Psychologists who have studied the mental phenomena of religion will probably tell us that O'Neill is concerned about finding God because he can't get rid of God. This theory is that the loud-mouthed atheist is whistling to keep up his unbelief. The genuine atheist doesn't bother about God, having forgotten that He exists.

But O'Neill has been much concerned about religious points in recent plays. "Lazarus Laughed," produced on the Pacific Coast with our Kenneth Thompson as Lazarus, deals with the raising of the dead man by Jesus.

The keynote of that play seems to be that there is no death. "There is only God's eternal laughter," says Lazarus.

Oddly enough, "Lazarus Laughed" has not tempted producers to produce it, because the leading actor has to laugh so continuously that there is danger the audience may do likewise.

Meanwhile O'Neill is somewhere east of Suez, and whether he is seeking to recover from the boredom of New York, or chaperoning Carlotta Monterey among the Mahatmas, the cable has furnished no recent intimation.

Drinkwater's Stage Creed

These two dramatic authors, along with Pirandello and a few others, show the theater is still maintaining its place as a criticism of life. It was that in Shakespeare's day. Remember what he says about the actors through the mouth of Hamlet. "It were better to have a bad epitaph after you are dead, than their ill report while you are living."

This is developed by John Drinkwater in his "Art of Theatergoing." He holds that inferior writers have ruled the English-speaking stage for nearly 200 years. During the past 30 the best writers have come back to the theater.

It rests with the actors whether these writers will remain. The theater is a place of entertainment in competition with the cinema (that's what they call the movies in England), the music hall, the prize ring, and football—all "inducements to pleasant loafing," as Drinkwater calls them.

Then he asserts that the theater of the imagination is in competition with nothing. "There are enough people who care tenaciously for it to enable it to carry on so long as it continues to interest some of the best writers."

He closes his creed with the pious affirmation that "the end of our desire in the theater is for a fine play loyally acted by a well chosen and well directed cast." To which every playgoer from the pit to the dome will echo a fervid and reverent Amen!

Drama by Seibel To Be Staged In Fall

Toward the close of the stock season in the Pitt, George Sharp will make a special production of George Seibel's drama, "The Leper," first played in this theater some years ago with great success. From Pittsburgh, the play will be taken to Philadelphia and New York.

Thespians Coming :-: To Stage and Screen :-: Next Week

Will Ahern is prominent in "Good News," collegiate musical show which returns to the Alvin Monday.

Leatrice Joy, well-known movie actress, will make an appearance in person on the Davis vaudeville bill next week.

WRIGHT HURT AGAIN; OUT 10 DAYS

BY SOME tragic turn of fate, baseball players prominent in the ranks of the organized game appear to have been singled out to be the victims in serious, even fatal, automobile accidents this spring. The mishap near Lakeland, Fla., in which Shortstop Tommy Thevenow, of the Phillies, was severely injured when a car that he was driving sideswiped another machine, was the third serious accident of the kind within the short space of 10 days in which widely-known ball players were injured or killed.

Tommy Thevenow.

Both of the previous occurrences had fatal results. On March 23, near Los Angeles, Denny Williams, an outfielder of the Portland (Ore.) club of the Pacific Coast League, was instantly killed when the driver of a car in which he was riding was unable to avoid a ditch in trying to avoid a collision with a speeding machine coming from the opposite direction.

On March 31, near Merced, Cal., Clyde L. Nance, a pitcher for the Mission club of the Coast League, who went to the Missions from Seattle after winning nine straight games last year, was killed when his car was overturned.

FORTUNATELY, Thevenow was not injured as seriously as at first reported, but even at that he will be out of the game for at least a month as the result of a broken nose and a fracture of the upper jaw. Tommy has been one of the big show's most unfortunate players. In the fall of 1927 he suffered a broken ankle and it affected his work to such an extent last season that he played only occasionally, Rabbit Maranville taking care of the shortstop job.

The loss of Thevenow's services for even a month will be a severe blow to the Phillies in their fight to get out of last place this year. He was shifted to the Quakers last fall in a deal that involved the transfer of Heinie Sand to the Cardinals and thence to the Rochester club, and in his work this spring Tommy had given promise of regaining the form that made him one of the best shortstops in the majors two years ago. With Don Hurst at first base, Fresco Thompson at second, Pinkey Whitney at third and Thevenow at shortstop the Phillies were bidding fair to have an infield that would be a big factor in lifting them out of the cellar. The loss of Thevenow's services at the start will hurt their prospects.

THE civil war in the White Sox camp, may not be of the comic opera variety, as some reports have tried to make it appear. It is said that dissension was in evidence even before the suspension of Art Shires and Chalmer Cissell for alleged infractions of the training rules.

Furthermore, this dissension still exists, according to rumor. President Charles A. Comiskey has been quoted as saying that he would back up every act of Manager Russell Blackburne, but from another source comes the story that Comiskey has written to a veteran member of the team, asking for the low-down on the situation.

Chalmer Cissell.

SOME of the reports go so far as to say that when Comiskey learns the truth about conditions on the club he may find it necessary to change managers in order to right matters. Manager Blackburne says the whole trouble grew out of the weakness of Shires in letting success and his appointment go to his head. He says he talked kindly to the youngster at first, but that it did no good. Then he snarled, he asserts, and Shires sulked. Then he commanded and Shires is alleged to have talked back. Then Art went to the bench and next was called to Chicago. "No man on this ball club is going to add any troubles to those naturally developing from the job of handling a team," Blackburne declares. "Shires may have a lot of color, but so has a rainbow. I never yet heard of a rainbow's playing first base. I'll give any man a break who gives me one, and I'll give none of them more than he gives me."

"I WAS as surprised as everyone else when I was made captain," Shires replied. "Now they take away the honor, if it ever was that. Boy, it sure burns me up. I figure that I'm good enough for this league. If they don't believe it, they can waive me out of it.

"I got along all right before I came to the White Sox, and I can still get along. I didn't want to come to this club in the first place. I'd just as soon go back and take my chances of coming up again—but with another club."

SHIRES and Cissell are said to have many sympathizers among the White Sox players and that several of them are trying to have themselves sent back to the minors so that they may have a chance to come up with some other major league club.

One veteran player is quoted as saying: "I never was with such

COACH CARLSON TO ANNOUNCE '30 SCHEDULE

By JESS CARVER.

Much food and drink will be consumed and a leader for next season will be elected at the banquet of the Pitt varsity basketball squad in the First Baptist Church, Oakland, tonight. During the course of the evening, Dr. H. C. Carlson, the red-haired coach, will announce the schedule they've lined up for his club for next year.

Charley Hyatt

You may rest assured that there will be no election scandal connected with the naming of the captain. There are just two men who will be acceptable to Dr. Carlson, which is only as it should be, and by the same token, these same two men are the only ones on the squad rightfully eligible for the honor. I refer to Charley Hyatt and Paul Zehfuss. Chipper Cholly is the logical choice, naturally, though the election of Zehfuss would be no reflection on the sanity of the Panther squad, and would be heartily cheered by Hyatt himself. He's that way.

The banquet is being sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., which makes this annual congratulatory gesture toward the basketballers. Charles Ray, Jr., is in charge of the affair.

Mess call will sound promptly at 6:30 p. m. and it will cost you a buck and a half to get a plate.

SWIM CHAMPIONSHIPS

The annual university and scholastic swimming championships of the University of Pittsburgh will open with the preliminary and one or two finals in the Trees gym pool tomorrow and will be concluded Saturday.

Sir individual events are on the program for both the high school and university mermen and three relay races, one for senior high schools and two for juniors are carded.

Varsity Swimming Coach Pat Corr expects a record entry from the high schools for this year's meet, which is the fifteenth annual affair.

CAGLE "IN" AGAIN

The 22-hour extra duty stretch that Christian (Red) Cagle, West Point football star, is doing at present isn't the first overtime trick the red-head speedster has drawn since the football season closed. He was late in returning from the Christmas vacation (during which time he was married) and they gave him a dozen or so hours to work off at that time.

Coach Biff Jones will be tickled to death if Cagle confines his fits of tardiness off the football field and continues to run on schedule when dashing off a tackle or racing around the end.

WHEELER WINS IN TOURNEY

CHICAGO, April 4.—(INS.)—The South again showed its prowell today when Wheeler, Miss., won an easy victory over Raton, New Mexico, 31 to 11, in the first game on today's card in the national interscholastic high school basketball tournament at the University of Chicago.

The Pittsburgh district will have a new outdoor boxing arena this summer, capable of seating 8,000 fans. It is under construction in North Braddock, as pictured above, and will be ready for the opening show May 20. The three Meyers brothers, of Braddock, are the backers of the project and they plan later to place the plant under roof and use it for dances, roller-skating, roller polo, basketball and other sports during the winter months. The arena will contain 2,000 ringside seats and 6,000 elevated seats, and the farthest seats on the rim of the bowl will be only 63 feet from the edge of the ring, or about two-thirds of the distance between home plate and first base on a baseball diamond. The Meyers brothers are seen below looking over the plans for the arena.

MEYERS BOWL OPENER SET FOR MAY 20

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor.

Work is progressing so rapidly on the Meyers Brothers' outdoor boxing bowl in North Braddock that there is no doubt now that the structure will be ready to hold the opening show on the night of May 20. A second show is planned for the night of Memorial Day, May 30, and thereafter the sponsors of the project hope to conduct a mitt show every Monday night during the outdoor season.

Located in the heart of the Monongahela valley, the plant has remarkable prospects. It has a population of upwards of 200,000 to draw from, aside from Pittsburgh, which will furnish most of the customers. Popular prices of $1 and $2 will be charged except for shows of unusual merit, when a $3 top will be asked, and the chances now are that Johnny Risko, of Cleveland, and Ike McFowler, of Johnstown, heavyweights, will be paired in the windup of the opening show. It is the plan of the promoters to bring many other stars here, including such notables as Jimmy Slattery, Leo Lomski, Ace Hudkins and the champions in the various classes.

WORK IS RUSHED

Work was started on the bowl only six weeks ago and the picture accompanying this article shows what has been accomplished thus far. The arena is a remarkably compact bowl, built on a larger and more elaborate scale than the Jolly Bowl, which has been so popular in New Castle. It stands on a lot of 160 square feet and is 150 feet in diameter and 471 feet in circumference. It rises only 15 rows high and the farthest back seat along the rim will be only 63 feet from the edge of the ring. This is just a little more than two-thirds the distance between home plate and first base on a baseball diamond. There will be 2,000 comfortable ringside seats on the wooden floor and 6,000 elevated bleacher seats behind them. It will be possible to stand 500 extra spectators behind the last row of seats around the rim of the arena. The entire plant will be surrounded by a 16-foot high wall.

In addition to being next door to Braddock—it is located at Sixth and Baldridge streets, North Braddock—the arena is easily accessible to Munhall, Rankin, Swissvale, Pitcairn, Turtle Creek, East Pittsburgh, Trafford City,

DOUBLE WINDUP TONIGHT AT M'KEESPORT

A pupil of Bud Taylor and a Southern star who has boxed Jack Britton, former welterweight champion, Clyde Hull and Billy Alger, among others, will appear in feature bouts at McKeesport tonight. The party of the first part is Chet Smallwood, of Akron, who recently defeated Ken Hargraves, of New Kensington, in his McKeesport debut, and the party of the second part, Bobby Green.

Smallwood will be pitted against Battling Gizay, Donora lightweight, in the main event of the double windup card, while Green will meet Phil Scello, of McKeesport, in the other half of the double windup.

In two six-round preliminaries, Frankie Porto, of Glassport, boxes Young Angelo, of Swissvale, and Eddie Brannon, of Pittsburgh, meets Al Waldeck, of Tarentum. Porto and Angelo met in the same ring several weeks ago, with Angelo winning a decision which the majority of fans thought belonged to Porto.

M'TIERNAN OFF CARD

Buck McTiernan is off the Motor Square all-star card of four eight-round bouts for next Monday night. He injured his left hand in his bout with Mickey Solmen at the Garden last Monday night and yesterday informed the Garden management that he will not be able to box next week. He was matched with Allen Beatty, Negro welterweight, of McKeesport. Phil Goldstein and Ray Newton meet in the windup, Dan Billick and Jackie (not Mickey) Dugan in the semi-final and Johnny Windsor and Leo Kyburski in the second number. Billick arrived home in Duquesne from New York this morning and will finish his training here.

Promoter Francis Flynn reports his usual good advance sale for his boxing show in the Moose Temple tomorrow night, headed by the 10-round battle between Tiger Joe Randall, of Elizabeth, and Young Rudy, of Charleroi. The fans are keen to see Randall, the conqueror of Dominick Proflo, the knockout ace, in action in his improved form, and expect the willing Rudy to provide a stiff test for him. Johnny Vivio and Jackie Murray box the semi-final, Billy Dacey and Frank Monroe the second bout and Johnny Smackey and Johnny Michaels the opener.

Pittsburgh Low In Hockey Attendance

MONTREAL, April 4.—(AP.)—Nearly one and three quarters millions of people bought admission tickets to regular league fixtures and Stanley Cup games of the National Hockey League during the season just ended, it was shown by official attendance figures issued at league headquarters here today.

Tickets to the number of 1,604,921 were purchased for regular matches while 131,921 persons passed through the turnstiles for Stanley Cup games. The total shows an increase over last year of approximately 22 per cent. The Boston team drew the largest attendance with 294,518. Other figures included Detroit, 167,966; Chicago, 75,506, and Pittsburgh, 59,290, the latter being the lowest of any city.

The total attendance at New York, for two teams, was 355,469.

GRANTHAM TOPS BUC BATTERS

Averages compiled from figures of the spring exhibition games played to date show George Grantham leading the Pirate regulars in batting with a mark of .424 for 17 games. BOOTS TO STAY IN LINEUP, DONIE SAYS

FORT WORTH, April 4.—Donie Bush knows the value of George Grantham's punch. Donie says Boots will be in the lineup somewhere and it is altogether likely that he will remain right where he is at present. Grantham is liable to break up any close game with a long hit.

Speaking of long hits, it may be of interest to Pittsburgh district golfers to know that the long-driving Larry Nabholz, former caddie at the Sharon Country Club, is still hitting them about 300 or thereabouts from the tee. Oscar (Spin) Stanage, Pirate coach, is not an active player and therefore is allowed to partake of an occasional game on the links. The one-time Detroit catcher, with Umpire Ted McGraw and this writer, had a game with Larry yesterday, and Stanage, who socks the little ball for big distance, was astonished by the long shots in Larry's club.

HOUSTON GOES IN FOR GOLF

Larry is the professional at the Colonial Country Club, a new layout that bids fair to rival Oakmont and all the other championship layouts in the course of two or three years. Houston has taken up golf with a bang and the Colonial links indicates they want some big stuff there.

BUCS GET MINOR INJURIES

Quite a few of the Bushwhackers have been victims of injuries, but they have been of a minor nature for the most part.

The infield puzzle is still a long way from being solved, but the Pirates should be able to take care of themselves in this direction.

Speaking of infielders, the accident befalling Tommy Thevenow caused many expressions of regret in the camp of the Pirates. And the manner of the smashup recalled that many players are being killed or hurt in these smashups. Two Coast Leaguers were fatally hurt in the past two weeks.

With Hurst, Thompson, Thevenow and Whitney for a first defense, the Phillies were conceded to have a corking infield. Manager Burt Shotton seems to be building in the right direction.—CHARLES J. DOYLE.

Laufer to Swim In Keystone Meet

Walter Laufer, swim star of the Lake Shore Athletic Club of Chicago and winner of the National Senior A. A. U. 100 yard free style title last Tuesday, will feature the swimming meet of the Keystone Athletic Club on next Saturday at which time "Club Night in the Pool" will be staged.

With Laufer will come Mickey Reilly, the famous fancy diver and representative of the Los Angeles A. C. as well as Dutch Smith, another Pacific Coast speedster. All three of these boys are topnotchers in the realm of aquatics.

REMY KREMER SLATED FOR MOUND

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Staff Correspondent.

FORT WORTH, April 4.—Two major league ball clubs—the Pirates and the Tigers—are guests of this Texas city during the next two days and the Bush-Harris rivals, with a crackerjack ball park at their disposal, expect to fight it out as if there was something big at stake.

Manager Bush stated this morning that Remy Kremer would be used on the mound against the Jungaleers today. There is a chance that Frenchy will go the entire distance, inasmuch as Jess Petty set the style yesterday in Houston as the Buccos edged out the Texas League champions, 5 to 4.

NOT AT BEST

The Silver Fox appeared to like the heat and at the end of nine rounds he still seemed to be in possession of his stuff, although the veteran was not in his best control. As a rule, Petty has little trouble in getting the ball over the plate, but he walked four Buffaloes and hit another.

The lefthander made the Buffs eat out of his hand in the last four rounds. They making only two hits in this part of the contest. He is the first of the Pittsburgh sharpshooters to reel off a complete game.

Boots Grantham won the old ball game in the seventh with a remarkable homer over the left field wall. There was a hum of comment among the small gathering when the fleet Boots pickled an outside pitch high and dry over the barrier, it being much more than 300 feet in depth. The contest was deadlocked at the time of the clout.

FIVE TILTS WITH TIGERS

An infield hit put Petty in some trouble in the last half of the ninth. The home team had runners on third and first with two out when the contest closed.

The Pirates are due to take on the Tigers in five battles within the next week. After playing two here with the Detroit boys, the Bucs will move over to Dallas for two games with the Dallas Club, which is managed by Milton Stock, former star thirdbaseman of the National League.

Dallas is only an hour away from Fort Worth, so that the next traffic movement will be the shortest of the entire trip. After winding up affairs with the Steers, the Bushwhackers will ride the sleepers to Shreveport, where the Tigers will be met next in three games.

Memphis is the last stop on the long barnstorming tour. From Shreveport, the Pittsburghers will journey to the Tennessee town for a four-game contest with the Chicks before hitting the trail for Chicago. The season opens a week from next Tuesday.

PIE TO PLAY IN OPENER

By CHARLES J. DOYLE
Staff Correspondent.

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 4.—Pie Traynor, Pirate captain and third baseman, is quite convinced that he will be in the opening day lineup and in good shape. Traynor rejoined his mates in Fort Worth this morning. He has been taking treatment from a local man who is reputed to be a specialist in his ailments. Traynor says the doctor gave him a favorable report, he indicating that Pie's trouble eventually would pass away. Apparently the practictioner has been giving the third sacker osteopathy treatments with good results.

Traynor said he expected to work out with his buddies today. With Pie on the mend and Paul Waner in town, the Pirates fortunes were looking up. The immediate future may see the team with its full strength on the field. Brother Paul still has about 10 days to reach condition and judging by his appearance he will be almost in top form when the bell rings.

Fort Worth this morning enjoyed the unusual experience of entertaining three major league ball teams. When the Pirates and the Tigers reached the site they found the Yankees in town. The Yanks, however, were prepared to move over to Dallas.

Remy Kremer will face the Tigers this afternoon at the Fort Worth park. Two games with the Jungaleers are scheduled in this town.

BETTING TO REMAIN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 4.—(AP.)—Pari-mutuel betting on horse races will remain legal in Illinois. The Senate committee on license and miscellany last night refused to recommend passage of a bill calling for repeal of the present racing act and tabled the measure by an overwhelming vote.

CITY LEAGUE MEETING TONIGHT

By TOM BIRKS.

When the City League moguls set to get together this evening, followers of the sandlot baseball game will watch with interest the outcome of this wide-awake circuit.

With the election of a president, the name of the league official ball, the question regarding the umpires, and the report of the rules committee confronting them, it is expected that Managers Finn, Zappa, Geer, McGrady, Dunsky, Rooney, Miller and Carson have a busy evening ahead.

The session will get under way at 8 o'clock and will be held in the offices of the Reliance Life Insurance Company.

The upper Monongahela Valley had its final meeting yesterday and plans were laid for the season. The Wagner ball was adopted as the official league sphere, with Charleroi, Monessen, Dunlevy, Fairhope, California, Brownsville, Daisytown and South Brownsville in the loop. Harper Jennings is secretary, with Walter Urban, the former semi-pro star, president of the circuit.

The meeting was held at John McIlvaine's and it appears that the upper Monongahela Valley is going to have a snappy band of sandlot baseball.

SMILERS TO PRACTICE

Manager John Dunsky announces that the Pleasant Valley Smilers will hold a practice session on Saturday afternoon at Wilson Park, and an important business meeting on Sunday afternoon.

The following players are requested to be present: Kenny boys, Mert Caye, Reddick, Pat O'Shea, Ziggy Harrison, Metzler, Buck Jones, Mart Nary, Arand, Gruber, Blackstock, O'Neil, Berger, McCall, Bob Beltel, Aquadro, Rapp, Trotsky, Colclasser, Smith and Watson. Players are requested to take car No. 7 to Wilson avenue, or call Manager Dunsky, Lafayette 3997-W.

SMOKER TONIGHT

Tonight the followers and friends of the W. L. Reineckers will make "Whoopee" at a smoker in the Herron High School.

This is an annual affair with the Reineckers and Manager Jock Collette promises all of the boys a pleasant evening. Numerous acts have been engaged, and President of City Council James F. Malone and W. L. Reinecker have promised to be on hand.

The Reineckers have joined the Pittsburgh Central League, and with all of last season's players on hand, a successful season looms ahead. The Reineckers went into the final of the Class A eliminations last season.

WEST PENN LOOP HOT

The formation of the West Penn League is going to give the boys plenty of competition, with Verona Community, North Bessemer, Universal, Wilmerding, Rankin and one other club that the sponsors have in mind. All of the sandlotters are "hollering" for play this season at the meetings. Well, there is going to be plenty of that.

The next meeting of that loop has been called for North Bessemer on Tuesday evening. At the meeting the sixth and last club will be admitted, should it decide to come along. It will be the best league outside of the city limits.

Raceland Track To Go Under Hammer

ASHLAND, Ky., April 4.—(AP.)—By virtue of a judgement in the Greeneup Circuit Court handed down by Judge Halbert, the Raceland track again is to be offered at public sale Monday afternoon, April 8.

The track now is owned by the S. S. Lyric company, New York, which bought it at a public sale last November to satisfy a mortgage. The state holds a tax bill against the track of $96,000 which has not been paid. At the coming sale the state has right to buy the track for $220,000 which is ten percent more than the price paid by the S. S. Lyric Company.

Jose Capablanca Keeps Chess Lead

RAMSGATE, Eng., April 4.—(AP.)—Jose Capablanca, of Cuba, retained his lead in the International Chess Masters' tournament here yesterday despite a draw with Sir George Thomas, chief hope of Great Britian. The game was keenly contested.

Out of seven games in the fourth round, five were drawn and two adjourned. The score last night showed the foreigners leading with 17 victories against 9 for Great Britian.

MISS COLLETT IN FINAL

PINEHURST, N. C., April 4.—(AP.)—Glenna Collett, national women's champion, won her way to the final of the North and South women's golf tournament today with a thrilling 1-up victory over Marion Turpie, of New Orleans, in a match that was not decided until the eighteenth hole.

Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, also advanced to the final by defeating Edith Quier, of Reading, Pa., 5 and 3. The cards:

DONORA PATS SCORE 2,324 IN PIN EVENT

Things started warming up on the Strand Alleys in Oakland last night, where the Tri-State duckpin tourney is being bowled. The Donora Pats led the five-men teams with a 2,324 total, which does not displace the leaders but puts them in an excellent position to get into the Class B money.

J. Billski, of the 8 o'clock A. and M. team, turned in a single game of 252 to displace Yanacci, of Yukon, for the leadership in the race for the $15 special prize. The South Side Recreation Girls spilled 1,911 pins and took the lead in the women's quintet race, and W. Wehner and L. Killmeyer, of St. Boniface's Lyceum, rolled into first place in the doubles with a total of 1,048.

As a result of last night's rolling, there's a tie for the John Miljus $50 prize for the longest string of consecutive strikes. John Lombard, from New Kensington, swept them clean in six frames in the second game of his singles last night, tying the six made Monday night by Funk, of the Maystad No. 2 team from Greensburg. Last night's scores:

DOUBLE WINDUP TONIGHT

the Scottdale and Uniontown clubs of the Middle Atlantic League and the New York Yankees, has been substituted for Yale Okun as Ike McFowler's opponent at Johnstown tonight. Okun is reported ill with influenza.

Maxie Strub and Harry Felix battle at Erie tomorrow night.

Tod Morgan defends his junior-lightweight title against Santiago Zorilla, the San Blas Indian, in a 10-round bout at Los Angeles tonight. It will be their second meeting.

Dominick Protio's injured eye is not healing up as rapidly as was expected and his third bout with California Joe Gans, carded April 18, at McKeesport, has been indefinitely set back.

Steve O'Malley and Sammy Harris battle at Sebring, O., tonight.

GARDEN SIGNS DEMAVE

The Motor Square Club has signed Jack DeMave and Ike McFowler, heavyweights, for its main bout Monday night, April 15. Jack Wells, Wellsburg, W. Va., heavy, will appear in the semi-final.

Amateur boxing shows are scheduled for tomorrow night at the Moose Temple, Carnegie, under the auspices of the Carnegie K. of C., and the Avalon Borough Hall under the auspices of the North Boros American Legion. The Shriners will stage a show in Syria Mosque, April 11, and there will be one at the P. A. A., April 20, while an open amateur tournament is scheduled at McKeesport Wednesday and Thursday nights of next week.

Reigh Count Not To Run at Epsom

LONDON, April 4.—(AP.)—The American colt, Reigh Count, will not run in the City and Suburban Handicap at Epsom, April 24. His owner refused to accept the top weight of 129 pounds allotted him in that race by the handicapper.

TWO WORLD SWIM MARKS ARE SET

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP.)—Two world records, one of them unofficial, and several other brilliant performances came out of the second day's events in the National Amateur Athletic Union Indoor Swimming championships yesterday.

Walter Spence, of Philadelphia, clipped nearly a second from his two-year-old mark for the 220-yard breast stroke to retain the title he won last year. At the finish, he was nearly a full length of the pool ahead of his younger brother, Wallace, who took second place for the Brooklyn Central Y. M. C. A.

The relay team of the New York A. C. turned in the second world record performance in winning its trial heat in the 400-yard relay. The young New York team, composed of August Harms, Julius Dolgos, Joseph Farley and George Fissler, tore through the water to finish in 3:38 2-5. Although the time was four-fifths of a second better than Yale's world record, it will not be allowed because the swimmers did not wear suits.

In the final last night, the Chicago A. A. team gave the New Yorkers a real struggle for the championship, which was decided in much slower time. A great second leg by Dolgos gave the New York team a lead that brought victory. The time was 3:43 1-5. Yale, runnerup in the trial, was third and the Penn A. C., which was eliminated in the record-breaking heat, then allowed to compete because of its fast time, beat out the Brooklyn Central Y. M. C. A., for fourth.

Old D. C. & A. C. Sports Star Dies

PHILADELPHIA, April 4.—(AP.)—Joseph L. Uffenheimer, a member of the University of Pennsylvania football team of 1896 and a star in his day, died at the United States veterans' hospital today after an illness of four years. He was 54. He was born in Boston and prepared at Andover Academy. After his college career as a football player, Uffenheimer played with the Duquesne Country and Athletic Club, Pittsburgh.

Joseph L. Uffenheimer was a slashing tackle, who later starred on the Duquesne Country and Athletic Club and Homestead Steel teams as a professional. He played here with Carl Williams, George Brooke, Otto Waggonhurst, Gammons, of Brown, Dave Fultz, Roy Jackson and other notables. He is well remembered by followers of the professional brand of gridiron sport hereabouts 30 years ago.

TOM THEVENOW OUT OF GAME INDEFINITELY

LAKELAND, Fla., April 4.—(AP.)—Tommy Thevenow, Philadelphia National League shortstop, is out of the game indefinitely because of injuries suffered in an automobile accident near here Tuesday night.

The Phillie star underwent an operation yesterday on his nose and upper jaw which were broken in the accident and Dr. H. R. Richards, attending Thevenow, said the player would recover, but it was probable that he would not play again this year.

Thevenow was reported resting comfortably last night.

WIRES FACE TOGETHER

"Thevenow's face not only was split from one side to the other," said Dr. Richards, "but it also was badly mashed. His upper jaw and nose were loose and it was necessary to wire them back in place with silver wire. We are doing all we can to prevent disfigurement.

"Possible infection is our biggest worry right now. His face is so badly mashed and so many little bones are broken, that there is danger of infection during the healing stage. The injuries are so close to the brain too."

Dr. Richards said there had been no concussion of the brain, but that he considered it "a miracle" that Thevenow's neck was not broken.

ELLIOTT LEAVES HOSPITAL

It probably will be six or eight weeks, the physician said, before the player can eat solid foods. He declared, however, that he would "make no idle speculation as to when Thevenow could return to the game." Nature would decide that, he said.

Harold Elliott, pitcher for the Phillies, who was injured in the accident with Thevenow, also received treatment from Dr. Richards, but left the hospital soon afterward. The physician said Elliott's lip was badly cut and that 14 stitches were necessary.

Elliott spent the night at a hotel and it was presumed that he returned to the Phillies' training camp.

The accident occurred between here and Winter Haven, when Thevenow swerved his car to avoid striking another machine on the highway. It overturned in a ditch.

GIRLS ACCEPT BID

AMSTERDAM, April 4.—(AP.)—Helen Wills and Eleanor Goss have accepted an invitation from the Dutch Lawn Tennis Federation to play an unofficial women's match against Holland May 11 and 12. Two singles matches and a doubles will be played the first day and two singles the second.

AMBRIDGE BOYS STAR

Two Ambridge baseball players, shortstop Al Shaffo and catcher Johnny Mordas, have reported to the Springfield (Mass.) club of the Eastern League and are making bids for regular positions. Shaffo was in the Beaver County League last season, while Mordas in a former Middle Atlantic Leaguer.

PORTUGAL DEFAULTS

AMSTERDAM, April 4.—(AP.)—Portugal having retired from Davis Cup tennis competition through inability to assemble a team to meet Holland in the first round, Holland will advance to the second round without competition. The winner of the match between Finland and Egypt will be the Dutch team's opponent in the second round.

GRANGE TIES UP TILT

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP.)—Felix Grange, French billiard star, tied up his special 12-block match at 18.2 balkline billiards with Welker Cochrane, of Hollywood, Cal., yesterday by taking two blocks by wide margins. He won the afternoon block, 300 to 164, in six innings, then came back to win 300 to 61 in eight innings.

BARBUTI TELLS HOW AMATEURS ARE PAID

NEW YORK, April 4.—(INS.)—Daniel Ferris, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, said today that the A. A. U. would not investigate further the "expose of paid Amateur Track Athletes," by Ray Barbuti in the current issue of "Sportsmanship," a magazine devoted to sports. The former Syracuse track and football captain, America's lone winner in flat races at the last Olympics, reiterated in the article his charges that star amateur performers were paid by promoters of meets for appearing.

Ferris declared the A. A. U. could not "waste any more time" trying to prove charges that Barbuti and Joie Ray "make but do not substantiate."

When Barbuti was suspended by the A. A. U. some time ago for remarks alleged to have been derogatory to the officials of the Union, Joie Ray offered to substantiate Barbuti's charges, but failed to do so.

TELLS HOW CASH IS PAID

In his article Barbuti not only reiterates his charges that headline trackmen have been receiving money for their performances, but explains just how the cash is paid. Barbuti does not mention any names in his story, explaining that he does not care to incriminate any fellow athlete and bring about their disqualification.

Barbuti's story, which goes into detail as to the methods of securing a star athlete's entrance in a meet and the system of paying off, carefully steers clear of any detail that might give a clue to the identity of any of the men to whom he refers.

According to the story an intermediary does the dirty work in securing the entry of a star for a track promoter. The agent is usually a good fellow, well known in track circles and a constant attendant at meets. He secures the signature of the performer on an entry blank and after the meet pays him off. Some are paid as much as $500 for an appearance, Barbuti says.

GET GUARANTEES

In the matter of foreign stars competing here, Barbuti explains that the managers of the invaders handle all of the business details—much the same as a fight manager. Advance payments are made to these managers at the time they sign for the appearance of their men and the balance of the guarantee paid immediately after the termination of the meet, he says.

Rosenbloom Wins Over Anderson At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, April 4.—(AP.)—Maxie Rosenbloom, middleweight, New York, won a 10-round bout from Joe Anderson, Covington, Ky., here last night.

Billy Angelo, Philadelphia welterweight, won a technical knockout in the fifth round of a scheduled 10-round match with Jack Munroe, of Charleston, W. Va.

Indian Tiger West, Philadelphia middleweight, won a special scheduled six-round bout from Young Williams, of Cincinnati, scoring a technical knockout in the fifth.

SIMPSON HOLDS PYLE RUN LEAD

WILMINGTON, Del., April 4.—(AP.)—John Salo, the Flying Cop from Passaic, N. J., drew up to second place, six minutes behind the leader, finishing in a tie for first place yesterday with Peter Gavuzzi, of England, in the fourth lap of C. C. Pyle's bunion derby.

KEEPS LEAD

Salo and Gavuzzi covered the 37.7 miles from Northeast Philadelphia to Wilmington, Del., in 4:59:35 hours. Salo advanced from fourth to second in elapsed time, Paul Simpson, of Burlington, N. C., maintaining his lead by finishing third. His time was 5:19:31. Ollie Wanttinen, of New York, was second in 5:05:05.

The runners have completed their first 100 miles of the 3,400 jaunt to the Pacific Coast, touching four states in as many days. Today another state line will be crossed when the caravan moves to Havre De Grace, Maryland.

CREW STRIKES

A crew of workmen in charge of erecting the tents for the Pyle vaudeville sideshows went on strike when they were not paid. Pyle was in Trenton, and it was impossible to present the show.

a dissatisfied, unhappy, disgruntled bunch of ball players in my life." It is said that "snooping" has been one cause of the dissatisfaction. Unannounced visits to rooms and watching at late hours in the lobbies of the hotels have rubbed the players the wrong way.

Leo Lomski.

BILLY DUFFY, veteran fight handler, who figures in an advisory way in the management of Leo Lomski, has started a campaign to have Lomski still listed among the qualified contenders for Tommy Loughran's light heavyweight crown in spite of his defeat at the hands of Tuffy Griqiths last Thursday night in Chicago. Duffy bases his case on the happening in the fifth round, when Lomski's right glove burst and the bout was interrupted while a new glove was being laced on Leo's right hand by his seconds. That part of it was all in accordance with the rules. But here's where the kick comes in. Griffith meanwhile went to his corner and there received treatment for a severe cut over his right eye, thus gaining relief from a fight wound that Duffy insists might have turned the tide in Lomski's favor. Bill contends that that action entitled Lomski to a victory on a technical knockout.

DUFFY charges that Griffiths received the benefit of an illegal rest period, and he announces his intention of advocating the adoption of a rule to prohibit a boxer from going to his corner in such a situation for the purpose of receiving treatment or advice.

"The Marquis of Queensberry rules provide for a fair, square, standup contest consisting of a succession of rounds of fighting, with rest periods of one minute each," he says. "No modern rule provides for the emergency presented in the Lomski-Griffith bout, and if the fundamental rule had been applied Lomski would have received credit for a knockout."

WHEN the basketball schedule of Duquesne University for next season was announced the other day, local fans were surprised to note that no game with Westminster College was booked to be played in Pittsburgh, and as the Titans always have been strong cards here the indication that they would not appear on the Dukes' floor caused much regret.

Everything's O. K., now, however. Reference to Westminster's absence from the Dukes' at-home schedule brings from the officials of the two institutions the explanation that it was merely an oversight. Duquesne and Westminster will meet here next season, as usual, as well as in New Wilmington, and the Dukes will play 10 conference games, instead of only nine, as had appeared probable. It is explained that Graduate Managers John D. Holohan, of the Dukes, and A. A. McDonald, of Westminster, arranged for a game here but have not yet agreed upon a date, and in the announcement of the schedule this detail was merely overlooked.

Glenn Wright.

GLENN WRIGHT is out again with another injury to his ailing right shoulder. Though he contributed a batting feature of the Robin-Brave game Tuesday by making a home run he was acting only as a pinch-hitter. He took no other part in the play, nor is he likely to do so for 10 days or longer. Camp reports say there is hardly a chance of his being able to play on opening day. Wright played second base for five innings on Monday, but in completing a double play he subjected his arm to a new strain. He walked in to the bench as if in pain, with the thumb of his right hand hooked in his belt for support and with his left hand graspign his right shoulder. Dr. Cecil Ferguson was present at the game, and later examined Glenn's arm. He said it probably was nothing more than a common spring sore arm, but advised rest. "I was surprised to see Wright in the game," he said. "He was taking a chance in cutting loose with a throw. His torn ligaments need time to knit properly and grow strong. Two weeks more should put him in as good shape as ever if he doesn't force matters."

MEYERS BOWL READY SOON

Duquesne, McKeesport, Homestead and Wilmerding, end is within five minutes' drive of Wilkinsburg and one block from the Braddock station of the Pennsylvania railroad and only three blocks from the B. & O. station. It can be reached by street car from downtown Pittsburgh in less than an hour.

EXPENSIVE PLANT

There will not be a single obstruction for the spectators in the arena as it will stand for the summer season, nor after a roof is placed over it. As completed for the opening show it will represent an investment of approximately $25,000 and when the finishing touches, including the roof, are put on it this figure may be doubled. Dressing rooms with showers and all other modern appliances will be erected alongside an office adjoining the arena, and there will be one large main entrance and three 10-foot wide exits.

The new arena will fulfill the dream of the youngest of the three Meyers brothers, I. D. Meyers, better known as Apples Meyers, a former Coffey Club basketball and baseball star, and an ardent fight fan. He will act as matchmaker. For years he has attended all of the boxing shows in this section and in the East, and he conceived the idea of giving the Pittsburgh district outdoor boxing after witnessing bouts in the Jolly Bowl, New Castle, last summer. He confided his idea to his brothers and they agreed to go along with him. The ground on which the arena is going up has been leased for 10 years with an option of buying it.

Dr. Meyers is a dentist with offices downtown. He is president of the organization, and Louis Meyers, secretary and treasurer, the oldest of the brothers, is a retired business man.

TO SHOW STARS

"We are going into this proposition in a real businesslike way," President Meyers said yesterday. "We have noticed that Pittsburgh generally goes fightless during the summer season, and we believe we will be able to solve the fight housing plan with our arena. We will have the capacity to put on big matches at nominal prices and will give the public the best we can land in the way of bouts. We will bring here as many of the outstanding stars of the game as possible. That is all we can say at this time, but you can see from the manner in which we are pushing the building of our arena that we are not in the field for fun. We will have a model arena and will try to merit the patronage of the fans."

Matchmaker Meyers revealed plans, for enclosing the arena for the winter. He said a roof that will be self-supporting will be placed over the bowl, eliminating posts and other obstructions, and that skylights will be provided which can be opened for the summer season next year, when it will be possible to run shows regularly without regard to weather conditions. In addition to boxing shows, it is planned to use the arena for dancing, roller-skating, roller polo, basketball and other sports.

Maranville to Play At Short for Braves

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 4.—(AP.)—Rabbit Maranville has won the race for the shortstop berth from Dr. Eddie Farrell, the Braves management has announced. Secretary Ed Cunningham said the youthful veteran would start against Brooklyn when the regular season opens, but declared Farrell would have plenty of opportunity to win back the post.

HUBACH AGAIN PRESIDENT AT SHANNOPIN

By VERN SWARTSFAGER

The Shannopin Country Club, down Ben Avon Heights way, is all set for another season. L. A. Hubach has been re-elected president of the club for another year, while the other officers will include F. L. Stout, vice president; O. G. Butts, secretary, and A. J. Markland, treasurer.

The first real event of the spring season is on tap for tonight, when a big dance is to be held in the club house.

CHANGES MADE

The winter has caused several changes to appear this spring on the Shannopin links, always splendid. A new 100-foot practice tee has been constructed to the right of the club's entrance. The undergrowth in the rear of No. 7 tee has been cleared. Other minor changes also have been made.

The jovial Ralph Martin, Shannopin's good greenkeeper, has reported to his grounds committee that the turf is better by 30 per cent than in any previous year this season. This is due to the accumulated effect of several years of consistent fertilization of fairways, resulting in improved turf. A good share of the credit for this improvement is due Dr. J. L. McBride, chairman of that committee.

Shannopin has thoroughly cleaned out its cozy club house, and a new manager has been installed. The locker room was completely renovated, with A. Carr in the role of locker man, replacing the popular Charley Heath.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED

The board of governors for this year will include, other than the officers, John I. Thompson, former president; F. E. Wiley, T. G. Hodgdon, Dr. J. L. McBride, E. R. Braun, Sr., L. C. Lyon, A. Stucki, A. O. Pearce, W. B. Thomas, W. F. Knox, J. Smith Christy.

Fight Results

At New York—Hugh Devine knocked out Mickey Doyle, 1 round; Tommy Lown defeated Joe Grant, 4 rounds.

At St. Louis—Davey Abad defeated Johnny (Pee Wee) Kaiser, 10 rounds; Rosy Stoy, Henry Lenard drew 10 rounds; Lou Terry knocked out Battling Morris, 6 rounds; Al Stillman knocked out Bobby Cox, 6 rounds.

At Charlotte, N. C.—Sid Terris defeated King Solomen, 10 rounds.

At Cincinnati—Maxie Rosenbloom defeated Joe Anderson, 10 rounds; Billy Angelo knocked out (technical) Jack Munroe, 5 rounds; Indian Tiger West knocked out (technical) Young Williams, 5 rounds.

At Youngstown—Johnny Farr defeated Harry Blitman, 10 rounds; Alvie Miller knocked out Romeo Pacelli, 4 rounds; Bobby Grant defeated Larry Madge, 8 rounds; Tony Avon defeated Al Reno, 4 rounds; Young Thompson defeated Carl Patron, 4 rounds.

At Kansas City—Joey Rivers knocked out Don Barnet, 7 rounds.

At Benton Harbor, Mich.—Art Knopp and Harry Perlick drew, 10 rounds.

Hoppe Gains Lead Over Allan Hall, 300 to 266

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP.)—Willie Hoppe, gained a lead of 34 points over Allen Hall, of St. Louis at the halfway mark of their 600-point three cushion billiard match last night. Hoppe went ahead by taking both yesterday's blocks by good margins to lead by 300 to 266.

Fancy Divers Seek Local A. A. U. Titles

The younger set of fancy divers who have never won either a junior or a senior A. M. A., A. A. U. fancy diving championship, will have their innings at the Pittsburgh Athletic Association Saturday evening, when the Junior A. M. A., A. A. U. championships for men will be contested for in the P. A. A. tank. Dan Bech and Jack Sasler will be P. A. A.'s two entries in this event.

There will be a fine program in addition to the championship feature. The middle distance stars will get a chance to show their wares in a 440-yard open, scratch, free style race for men. P. A. A.'s entries in this event will include Johnny Law, Fred Wenck, Jay Le Feore and Ray Cogswell.

ILLINOIS, N. Y. COMMISSIONS IN PACT

CHICAGO, April 4.—(AP.)—New York and Illinois State boxing commissions have entered into an agreement in which they will recognize each other's fines, penalties and suspensions of boxers, it has been announced.

The action was taken after several months of effort and considerable dispute and will bring the two bodies into closer working relationship.

Although the National Boxing Association, of which the Illinois body is a member, has recognized Jackie Fields, of Chicago, as the world welterweight champion, the New York body has announced it still recognized Dundee.

EVENING SUN-TELEGRAPH MARKETS

Stocks Stage Recovery

Wall Street Quotations

MARKET PRICES STAGE BRISK RECOVERY

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP)—Easing credit conditions, coupled with another batch of favorable trade news, provided the background for a brisk recovery in prices in today's stock market. Some heaviness was apparent at the opening as a result of overnight liquidation inspired by fears of further adverse credit developments, but confidence was quickly restored on the publication of Washington advices indicating that no action bearing on the financial situation was expected from the meeting of Federal Reserve Governors.

Call money renewed at 10 per cent and the high rate attracted such a large supply of funds that loans were arranged in the "outside market" as low as 8 per cent. Retention of the 5½ per cent rediscount rate by the Bank of England was interpreted as an indication that no increase was likely in the rate of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, directors of which met after the close of the market. No change was made yesterday in the 5 per cent rate at the St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank.

Late in the day call money was reduced to 6 per cent.

STEELS PUSHED

Steel shares were brought forward by speculators for the advance as the new leaders of the market. Trade news from steel centers has been unusually favorable of late, and record-breaking peace-time earnings are predicted for several of the large producers.

Bethlehem, stockholders of which were recently promised more liberal dividend distributions, ran up 5½ points to 110⅝, or within 1¼ points of the year's high, one block of 10,000 shares changing hands at 110. Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Superior Steel sold at the year's high prices, and U. S. Steel common, Republic and Vanadium Steels were marked up about 3 points each. Midland Steel Products preferred advanced 4⅞ and A. M. Byers 5.

MOTORS IN DEMAND

Motor shares also attracted a large following on reports of record-breaking spring production and sales. One block of 12,000 shares of General Motors changed hands at 86 followed by a further advance of 86½, up 2⅜. Otis Elevator soared 10 points, Commercial Solvents 9¾ to a new high record at 293¾, Baldwin 5½, and General Electric, Montgomery-Ward, International Telephone, American Can, Radio, Mathieson Alkali and Kinney Company advanced 3 to 4½ points.

Fresh buying support came into the oil shares after an opening period of heaviness, but the advance was held in check by the liquidation of stock bought by traders for a quick turn on the theory that the nation-wide curtailment program of the American Petroleum Institute would be approved by Federal officials. Official intimations that the proposed plan would be a violation of the Sherman anti-trust act apparently has killed speculative enthusiasm for those issues for the time being, although leaders of the industry still hope to make their curtailment plan effective through state agreements.

RAILS TURN UP

Rails, which have been lagging behind the general market for weeks, turned upward in the late afternoon under the leadership of Erie, which was quickly marked up 4 points.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 4.—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 5 to 9 points under renewal of the selling in progress yesterday afternoon. It seemed to be encouraged by relatively easy Liverpool cables and continued favorable weather in the South.

Some stop orders were uncovered on the decline, which extended to 19.66c for July and 19.65c for October, making net losses of about 5 to 14 points during the early trading. Trade interests were buyers of the near months and there was considerable covering at the decline. This steadied the market, which showed rallies of 5 or 6 points from the lowest by the end of the first half hour.

Private cables reported general liquidation in Liverpool, influenced by the boll weevil report of yesterday and better weather news from the South. These advices said cloth business was restricted for all outlets.

The relatively firm ruling of May, attributed partly to trade buying, helped the tone of the general market during the middle of the morning, and earlier losses were recovered with old crop months selling 4 to 5 points net higher. The new sold back to or a shade above yesterday's closing quotations. Trading tapered off at the advance, however, and later fluctuations were somewhat irregular with the midday market quiet, net unchanged to 6 points lower.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Raw sugar was easier today. Prices were only 1 point lower, but offerings of duty free sugars nearby were liberal. The demand continued light. The only sale reported was 10,000 bags of Porto Rican one next week to an operator at 3.94 delivered.

The failure of demand to broaden in the spot market led to a renewal of general selling pressure in raw sugar futures. Prices for all deliveries sold into new low ground for the season. The list at midday was 2 points net lower on all positions. Houses with European connections were credited with selling the late deliveries. The demand was scattered and mostly in the way of covering.

Refined sugar was unchanged at 4.90 for fine granulated. Withdrawals on old contracts were of moderate proportions, but new business was light and supplied through second hands at concessions.

Prosperity Cycle Not Ended.

That at least a part of the great amount of money in the securities market may represent temporary employment of funds eventually finding their way into business uses, and that the prosperity of the present business cycle will probably not end in 1929, is the belief expressed by the J. Henry Schroder Banking Corporation in the quarterly review of the London house of Schroder. After pointing out that at the end of 1928 production and trade were unseasonably active, with money rates as a group higher than at any time in seven years and with certain security market rates more than a little reminiscent of the 1919 inflationary period, the review says: "Yet the outlook for business in 1929 may be considered satisfactory. Over-discounting of the unexcelled corporate earnings of 1928 may force a readjustment in the securities markets which, for a while may influence business adversely. But from a longer time point of view, the second inventory position of most companies, the lack of any inflation in commodity prices, and the purchasing power of the people augurs well for the coming year. "At least a part of the astounding amount of money in the securities market may represent more or less temporary employment of funds eventually finding their way into business uses. The total expansion of credit in the past year or so has taken place at a faster rate than the expansion in the supply of physical goods, and, with employment high, this expansion probably will eventually end the present prosperity phase of what is commonly called 'the business cycle' through higher commodity prices. However, it does not seem probable that the end will come in 1929."

New Stock Financing.

"The volume of funds being converted into new stocks at the present time is several hundred per cent larger than in previous years," says Halsey-Stuart & Co. "In fact, new money placed in common stock issues during December, January and February exceeded $1,790,000,000, and thus, for these three months alone, was substantially larger than for the total common stock financing of the two full years 1926 and 1927. Such a startling expansion in volume of funds placed in new corporate stocks throws into sharp relief the facts just released by the United States Department of Commerce Census of Manufacturers, that there was actually a smaller total value of manufactured products in 1927 than at the time of the last census two years earlier. The last period in which stock financing was indulged in a volume so much out of line with precedent was in 1919-1920. A statistical history of the dividend record and surviving values of all common stocks (issues of $500,000 or over) brought out in the fourth quarter of 1919 has recently been completed. It is quite significant to investors of the present period that only 14 of the 35 such stock issues in the list have any value today and that the total funds invested at that time in common stocks have a present value of but 56.6 per cent of the original, while the average yield through dividends has been but 2.16 per cent. Many observers in the financial field are anticipating a readjustment in the security markets in which the fundamental investment factors of yield and security will be given increasing weight."

Style and Store Profits.

Style now has a large bearing on merchandising profits, and those stores best equipped to meet the rapidly changing style demands are in the best position for profit-making, according to Robert B. Sloan, general merchandising manager of the American Department Stores Corporation. "Reports of eight large department and apparel store groups, show that these stores did a total business of approximately $347,000,000 in 1928," Mr. Sloan pointed out. "The same stores had net profits of $20,377,000. That is, for every dollar of sales, five and eight-tenths cents were profits. This margin of profits might have been increased or materially reduced by a quick change in apparel styles. A woman's hat, for instance, may have a fair retail price of $20 and show a satisfactory profit at that price. But if it does not catch the popular fancy—if it is not in tune with the style of the moment—the dealer may be lucky to get $5 or $10 for it. Such failures in style appeal can quickly cut into total profits. This present day need for merchandising that keeps apace of every change in styles has been a factor in the remarkable increase in department store chains. The chain system, with central buying headquarters in the style centers, can buy in accordance with public style demands and very rarely buys out of style. Furthermore, the distribution systems of the chain stores are so highly developed that goods can be moved quickly and an entire line cleared before a style changes. The modern demand for speed applies to retailing and the chain store has grown and will grow because it is equipped for rapid turnover."

United States Takes Half World's Tin.

"Production of tin represents one of the few industries which has not faced the problem of a market unequal to the supply," states the New York Trust Company. "Over the past decade and a half the demand for tin has increased more rapidly than production; and despite a considerably greater production this year, the industry is now concerned with conserving the resources at its disposal. In 1928 both world consumption and world production of tin showed substantial increases as compared with the preceding year. Consumption, which has been expanding for some time and is apparently capable of doing so for an indefinite period, advanced 8 per cent to a total of 153,000 tons. Production, on the other hand, increased 15 per cent to 159,000 tons. The position of the United States in this expanding industry is that of consumer alone. Depending entirely upon outside sources for tin, the United States imports almost one-half of the world production. Rationalization is a noticeable trend in the industry. As a result of consolidation, by far the greater proportion of the world's trade is placed in the hands of three great organizations, the new Anglo-Oriental group, the Patino mines operating three-fourths of the organized output in South America, and almost 25 per cent of the world's total, and the Dutch East Indies group exporting from the Dutch Colonies in the Straits including Sumatra."

Nation's Bank Clearings.

Bank clearings in March were lifted above the level of a year ago by the continued heavy volume of stock market speculation and the activity in industry and trade. Clearings at 127 cities of the United States reporting to Bradstreet's amounted to $62,499,420,000, this representing a gain of 13.2 per cent over the like month a year ago, which had one more business day. Most of the increase was accounted for by New York City, whose clearings totaled $42,318,839,000, a gain of 19.3 per cent over March a year ago, and second only to the record made in January, when they were $43,903,000,000. At the 126 cities outside New York, March clearings amounted to $20,180,581,000, a gain of only 2.3 per cent over the like month a year ago and exceeded by the totals for five earlier months. Decreases from a year ago were exhibited by the New England, northwestern and southern groups of cities, while the heaviest gains were in the central-western and middle-Atlantic groups, the latter including New York. For the three months ended with March, bank clearings at the full list of 127 cities amounted to $181,849,388,000, a gain of 21.4 per cent over the like period of 1928 and the largest total for any quarter on record.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, April 4—General selling, together with absence of support except on downturns, brought about a sharp early setback in prices today both for wheat and corn. Conditions for domestic winter wheat growth and for spring seeding were favorable, and speculators led the selling of wheat, but in corn the selling came largely from holders. Opening ⅝c to 1⅛c off, wheat later scored rallies. Corn started ⅛@⅝c to 1⅛c down, with recoveries lacking vigor. Oats were easy. Provisions tended lower.

A feature of the wheat crop advices current today was reported from one of the foremost authorities in the country saying that at present Western Kansas, which has often been uncertain, has a better crop prospect than usual on account of abundant sub-soil moisture. Other experts said the crop outlook for winter wheat taking the domestic belt as a whole, could hardly be improved. Meanwhile, European demand overnight for wheat from North America was disappointingly small, although there were said to be numerous bids in the market at a couple of cents below current levels.

A comprehensive crop summary covering spring wheat territory said spring work was well under way in all states. The general crop outlook for spring wheat in the American Northwest was optimistic, and with favorable weather from now on the wheat should get a good start. The Canadian drought situation, however, was but little if any improved.

Why New Bank Presidents, All Young, Won Leadership

By B. C. FORBES

THE new president of the largest bank in America, Gordon S. Rentschler, is 43. The new president of the largest investment company in America, Hugh B. Baker, is not quite 47. James H. Perkins, president of the City Bank-Farmers Trust Company, the third member of the trinity created by New York's largest gigantic banking merger, is 53. Charles E. Mitchell, who was president of both the National City Bank and the National City Investment Company, and who now becomes executive head of all three organizations, as chairman, is only 51. The average age of the four is thus under 49.

In view of the constant discussion concerning the value of a college education, it is interesting to note that Mitchell is a graduate of Amherst, Rentschler a graduate of Princeton, Perkins a graduate of Harvard, while Baker also is a college man.

What are the outstanding qualities and characteristics of these three bank presidents?

RENTSCHLER is notable for his intimate, first-hand knowledge of big business, its problems and its leaders, for his extraordinary physical and mental energy and vitality, and for his ability to concentrate on and solve new and knotty problems.

HUGH BAKER has Napoleonic aptitude for inspiring absolute faith in his leadership, in his judgment, in his invulnerable fairness. He is a born salesman and has veritable genius for chasing away the blues whenever selling conditions become cloudy.

THE words that sank deepest into the mind of Jim Perkins when a student were these, from old Prof. Shaler: "Gentlemen, you may not be geniuses, but you can become a power by being inevitable."

Perkins interpreted that to mean that he must become 100 per cent dependable, that he must never shirk, that he must never compromise with principle, that he must thoroughly master his job and that his superiors, his associates and his friends could always count upon him to do the square thing. Perkins, although extremely modest and retiring, has perhaps as many sincere friends as any man in the financial world—and probably hasn't a single enemy.

His first job was in business, but he early graduated into banking, became a vice president of the National Commercial Bank of Albany, which has sent several notable leaders to Wall Street, attracted the attention of Frank A. Vanderlip, became one of the five executive managers of the National City Bank, made a brilliant record during the war and received signal war honors, returned to finance and became president of the venerable Farmers Loan and Trust Company.

YOUNG RENTSCHLER entered his father's business at Hamilton, O. and learned all about making heavy castings, sugar machinery, marine machinery and other machinery entering into gigantic plants. By and by such men as Henry Ford, Charles M. Schwab and the principal sugar leaders in this country and Cuba sought his counsel in evolving new machinery to suit their special needs. This taught him to study other peoples' problems. During the war he built marine engines galore for the Shipping Board.

When the Cuban sugar industry collapsed, Charles E. Mitchell enlisted Rentschler's services to straighten out the bank's interest in Cuba. Mitchell found him a veritable walking encyclopedia of modern business and industry, induced him to join the City Bank as vice president and as assistant to the president.

Both Mitchell and Rentschler have the build of athletes and keep in superb trim by vigorous exercises. It is a common sight to see the pair swinging down Fifth avenue to Wall street at a killing pace in the morning.

BAKER was a bond salesman with the City Bank when the National City Company was organized. His effective work quickly attracted the attention of Mitchell, whose job then was to put the investment company on the map. Before long he became recognized as a genius, not only at selling securities, but at inspiring and training others to sell. Said one of his closest associates yesterday:

"Hugh Baker's judgment of securities and of how new issues will go is uncanny. He can tell in advance almost exactly how many bonds of a new offering Michigan will take, how many California will buy or whether New Orleans will touch them. When Baker declares that a bond or a stock is a bargain and that the price should advance substantially, not one of his men harbors a doubt, but sallies forth and distributes the securities.

"His following among big bankers throughout the country is tremendous. Bankers from such distant points as Herbert Fleischaker in San Francisco and Ed Rompe in Miami think nothing of accepting his judgment on how they should invest millions of dollars. Nothing on earth could get him to sponsor a security he didn't believe in to the hilt."

P. S.—It took all these men years of untrumpeted foundation-laying before national recognition came to them. So have patience.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP.)—Trading on the curb market turned dull today, but stocks maintained a firm undertone. Traders were hesitant, pending the New York Federal Reserve directors' meeting and the weekly reserve brokrage loan figures after the close, and possible developments at the joint meeting of the Reserve Board and 12 governors in Washington.

The oils, despite the disappointing obstacles which have arisen in the crude production curtailment plan, were inclined to rally from yesterday's low levels. Humble started with a moderate loss, then rallied. Imperial and Continental each moved up about 2 points. Cities Service, however, eased about a point.

Ford of Canada was less erratic, moving up 22 points to 1138, then reacting to 1135 at midday. Ford of England was firm. Firestone Tire was in continued demand, mounting 3 points. Goldman Sachs was a strong feature, moving up 5 points to 110. International Telephone new stock reflected renewed accumulation, gaining about a point. Fajardo Sugar, which suspended dividend payments two days ago, was again a weak feature, declining 5 points further to a new low at 79.

A few points of strength appeared in the utilities, American Super Power, Electric Bond and Share, and Electric Investors making moderate gains. In the mines, Phelps Dodge moved up 10 points, but Newmont was again heavy.

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of Stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of Bond list:

COUPLE'S PLOT TO KILL FAILS

RAVENNA, O., April 4.—(AP.)—Maynard Nichols, alias Frank Dunn, 23, and Mrs. Mary Bryant, 24, both of Akron, are in the Portage County jail following their reported confessions that they plotted to kill the woman's husband and drop his body into Wingfoot Lake.

Prosecutor Everett Foote said the pair, after several hours' questioning yesterday, told him they beat the woman's husband, Horace Bryant, 31, and threw him into the lake in the belief he was dead, because they feared he suspected a love affair which they had been carrying on for several weeks.

An indictment charging Nichols and Mrs. Bryant with assault with intent to kill was returned by the Portage County grand jury yesterday, according to Sheriff Ferry.

They had planned to conceal his body in the water and be married on Bryant's $1,500 life insurance, the prosecutor said.

The alleged plot failed Monday night when Bryant was saved from drowning by a fence post and wire which kept his head out of the water. At Akron City Hospital attaches said he probably would recover.

Coast Police Make $20,000 Dope Haul

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—(INS.)—Breaking into an alleged distributing headquarters for narcotics, officers today arrested Henry Dong, 40, and seized drugs valued at more than $20,000.

The dope is believed by officers to be part of the famous Rothstein narcotic shipment sent to New York from Europe and distributed to all sections of the country for sale.

Dong, according to officers, was attempting to ceanceal 10 tins of morphine and six paper packets of cocaine when arrested.

Vatican May Call Dr. Seipel as Secretary

VIENNA, April 4.—(INS.)—Former Chancellor Ignatz Seipel, who, with his cabinet, resigned yesterday, may become Papal Secretary of State at the Vatican, it was learned this afternoon. The ex-chancellor is a Catholic priest.

According to political circles, pressure from the Vatican was the main reason for the resignation of Dr. Seipel. The Vatican, it was said, feared that the continuation of a Catholic priest as head of the Austrian Government might increase the exodus from the church which has been under way here for some time.

CLASHES MARK LONG INQUIRY

BATON ROUGE, La., April 4.—(AP.)—The Louisiana House of Representatives started its second day of investigation of impeachment charges against Gov. Huey P. Long today with an extended argument about procedure. After an hour and a half of discussion, a charge of filibuster was made by Representative J. V. Sanders, Jr., against whom the Governor is alleged in one of 19 charges to have attempted a murder plot. Sanders declared that Long's friends were "trying to keep down the facts."

At the conclusion of a heated controversy, Warren B. Seymour, clerk of liquidation of the State Department of Louisiana, was called to testify on charges that Gov. Long had misused funds of the state through control of boards and commissions.

SON ADMITS HE KILLED FATHER

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 4.—In a quarrel which followed an argument over the failure of a son to secure employment, Orville Dooms, 23, today shot and killed his father, Joseph H. Dooms, 48. Five bullets entered the body of the father, one striking him between the eyes and causing instant death.

There was no report of the shooting until Orville walked into the Uniontown Police Station and declared he killed his father.

The quarrel started last night when the father was chastising a younger son.

STOCKS COVER NARROW RANGE IN LOCAL MARKET

Irregular price movements characterized the trading on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange in the early market today, but fluctuations were narrow and gains and losses were confined to fractions in most cases.

The fuel issues displayed a rather soft tone with Lone Star selling off fractionally from last night's close and Arkansas Gas common dropping below $5 a share for the first time in several weeks. There was no news to account for the sluggish appearance of these stocks other than that the season of lower gas consumption is at hand and the usual falling off in gross sales is to be expected. Western Public Service stood firm in the early market and was a half point higher at the start. Volume of trading in all fuels, however, was light.

In the manufacturing section there were no conspicuous changes. Standard Steel Propeller met a little demand at the outset and reflected the buying in a mild upturn. Reymer Brothers, which has had a rather indifferent market for some time, rallied fractionally but was quiet.

Carnegie Metals slipped off a large fraction when a block of 100 shares was offered in the early trading and found bids scarce. Armstrong Cork, one of the strongest issues in the market this week, held the gain made yesterday when it moved up to 65, an advance of three points from last week's final quotation. The company is expected to show greatly improved earning power when the first quarter's figures are issued.

There was a little trading in the Fireproofings, but both stocks held to a narrow range, the preferred selling up a small fraction from the last previous price and the common also showing slight betterment. Neither had previously appeared in the market since Monday.

In the late market there was a little shifting of quotations, but the realignments were narrow. Allegheny Steel came into the market at 76, its first sale this week, and a decline of three points from the last previous price.

Nude, He Gazed At Statue, Arrested

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP.)—It's one thing to admire a statue of John Paul Jones in the conventional manner, but it's something entirely different to do so without benefit of protecting raiment.

So, as a result of this distinction, a man giving his name as R. F. Larkin, 32, of Bloomingdale, Ill., is being held for investigation by Washington police.

When the police investigated what seemed to be an unusual disturbance amid the cherry blossoms of Potomac Park they found Larkin, they said, in the nude gazing steadfastly at the statue while a rapidly gathering crowd gazed at him. The officers wrapped him in a blanket and held him for further observation.

RESERVE HEADS, BOARD MEET

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP.)—Governors of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks met in joint conference with the Reserve Board today with Secretary Mellon announcing beforehand that no action bearing on the financial situation would be taken. Mr. Mellon declared the conferees would consider only routine affairs of the Reserve system.

The Secretary said that during the three-day semi-annual meeting of the governors they might have discussed the general financial situation, but that if this was done, it was only incidental to their conversations on the routine business of the banks and that no action was likely to result from the conferences. Secretary Mellon said it was possible that the governors might make recommendations affecting their banks, but he did not know that they planned to do so.

Mother to Get Del Rio Estate Of One Million

MEXICO CITY, April 4.—(AP.)—Probate of the estate of Jaime Martinez Del Rio Y Vinent, divorced husband of Dolores Del Rio, began yesterday in the Civil Court of the Tenth District of Mexico City. He died of blood poisoning in Berlin on December 7, 1928.

The estate was valued at several million pesos, but the exact amount was not specified. It probably will be more than $1,000,000, although he had heavy losses after his marriage.

The only heir is the mother of the deceased, Barbara Vinent Viuda de Martinez Del Rio. Dolores Del Rio has entered no claim against the estate.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Rails Join Strong Rally.

The market rallied substantially today but the recovery did not stimulate the bullish enthusiasm noted in previous upturns and it failed also to restore the trading confidence so thoroughly shaken by what the Street believes to be the sand-bagging being administered by certain elements in the Federal Reserve Board. Railroads joined the rise today and this fact was one of the most encouraging seen in the market for a week. Rails, like the oils, were felt to be on a fairly solid market footing and the fact that the group reflected strength today was interpreted as meaning the supporters of the market were taking on the stocks least likely to topple in event of untoward developments in connection with the monetary disputes raging in higher banking circles. Retention of the 5½ per cent discount rate at London helped sentiment early and the assumption was that New York would remain unchanged at 5. Chairman McFadden, of the House Banking Committee, was quoted as hoping the rate would not be raised because of the probable impairment of business sentiment, as distinguished from the market. Mr. McFadden was one of the first to congratulate Charles E. Mitchell, of the National City Bank, last week when the latter averted a financial disaster by offering large sums of money in the call loan market. Oils recovered a little today as the Street heard the oil leaders were going ahead with curtailment plans, leaving the legal attitude to be determined later. Call money eased to 6 per cent after opening at 10, a figure which attracted a large volume of funds.

Oil Heads to "Carry On."

R. C. Holmes, president of Texas Corporation and chairman of the general committee of the oil industry, seeking to promote a program for conservation of crude oil, states he will recommend to the committee and to the regional committees of the American Petroleum Institute that "we carry on without delay, as we have planned to do in whatever way and in every way that is open to us to do properly, and if by chance we are held to be acting in restraint of trade, leave it to the courts to determine whether such restraint is in the public interest or not."

Representative leaders of the oil industry were disappointed over the result of their meeting with the Federal Oil Conservation Board in Washington, particularly to find that board without power and the inference that the program of the oil industry was in restraint of trade.

J. & L. Head Sees Big Year.

T. M. Girdler, president of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, believes the full year of 1929 will see a continuation of the present excellent conditions in the steel trade. Mr. Girdler said: "The steel industry is now in a record period of production. The favorable conditions bringing about this activity have been accumulating since last summer and give promise of remaining excellent throughout the first half of the year with fine prospects for the full year." He pointed out that a marked difference between this peak situation in the steel industry and some previous high production periods is that the demands for steel are more widely diversified than usual. Steel prices are higher and steadier than at this time last year, he said. All of the present big steel production is going immediately into consumption. Nothing is going into stocks, said Mr. Girdler. He also stated that many new uses for steel are developing.

Durant Motor of Canada.

Durant Motors of Canada, Ltd., reports for the year ended December 31, 1928, net profit of $525,954 after charges and taxes, equal to $1.85 per share on 284,722 shares capital stock outstanding. This compares with $357,526, or $1.25 per share, in 1927, an increase of 40 per cent, and $210,592, or 74 cents per share in 1926.

Bethlehem Steel.

Bethlehem Steel reflected individual strength today, responding to the highly favorable statements of Eugene G. Grace and Charles M. Schwab at the annual meeting a few days ago. The Street believes that Bethlehem will receive large dividends later on as the earnings are running far ahead of current $4 annual requirements. It was reported today that some observers expect the company to show the full year's dividend earned in the first quarter.

Marconi International Marine.

Activity and strength in Marconi International Marine Communication Company shares on the curb exchange is partly due to expectation of stock dividend. The company has been paying cash dividends for 17 years without a lapse. Frank T. Staunton, recognized as leading specialist in Radio shares, is one of the big stockholders in the company and W. C. Durant is said to be active in the share movement. It is known that a big block of the stock recently changed hands privately at a price above the market, the buying based upon coming developments that are expected to add greatly to the market value of the stock. Guglielmo Marconi is chairman of the board and many prominent English financiers are on the directorate.

Hoover Requests Limit on "Mitt" Greeters

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(INS.) The White House appealed to Congress to "go easy" on sending hand-shaking constituents to the executive offices to shake hands with the President.

The President's hand and arm were sore today from yesterday's record-breaking throng, when 1,757 people filed by and pumped the presidential arm.

Informally, the White House today requested senators and representatives to limit their cards to not to exceed 10 a day. Yesterday one Senator alone—and a Democrat at that—sent 188 visitors to shake hands with Mr. Hoover.

MAYFLOWER CO. PLANNING NEW DRUG STORES

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

THE formation of additional local companies is understood to be under consideration by Max M. Po'Chapin and his associates. Four months ago when it became known that the only large chain of local drug stores was to be sold to become part of a national system, the organization of Mayflower Drug Stores, Inc., was conceived by Mr. Po'Chapin, a Pittsburgh man, who had been identified with the drug business for several years.

He believed that a local drug chain operated by Pittsburgh capital for the benefit of Pittsburgh, would meet with support. In addition to serving central Pittsburgh, the new company, the financing of which was announced Monday, plans to extend its operations into suburban communities.

RECENTLY Mr. Po'Chapin has devoted his entire efforts to the formation of the new Mayflower chain, which proved to be a big job. Having originally obtained options on over 100 stores, it became necessary to reduce this number to 14. This was accomplished, only after a thorough and tedious investigation in each instance with the object of obtaining the most desirable store in each community.

Moore, Leonard and Lynch, who headed the syndicate of bankers offering the stock of Mayflower Drug to the public, yesterday announced the locations of 4 of the independent stores on which options for purchase have been exercised.

ON Monday, the acquisition of Laufe's Drug Store, 2020 Noble avenue, Swissvale, and Geyer's Drug Store, 4827 Penn avenue, Pittsburgh, was completed. On Tuesday, Lomeyer's Drug Store, Pioneer avenue and Broadway, Dormont, and Schaefer's Drug Store, Perrysville avenue, at East street, North Side, Pittsburgh, were taken over.

These are long established stores with the best available locations in each district. Announcements of further acquisitions will be made as soon as the transactions are completed. Mayflower Drug will also open stores at new locations. The principal downtown store will be located in the Jenkins Arcade.

A COMPARISON of the 1928 earnings of the Koppers Gas and Coke Company, with those of the previous year is misleading and does not correctly show the progress being made by the company. In both years, abnormal influences were brought to bear on the income account.

An exceptionally large amount of "other income," was recorded in 1927, presumably from non-recurring sources. In 1928, certain productive assets, such as the Chicago By-Product Coke Company, were sold and the proceeds were used to develop new properties, whose operations will not be reflected in earnings until the present year.

As a result of these factors, 1928 net profit of $3,795,874 showed a sharp drop as compared with 1927 profit of $9,580,223. That 1927 was an exceptionally good year can be seen by the fact that the average for the four years ended, December 31, 1927, was $4,687,559.

Dividends on the $20,000,000 of 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock sold last December, did not start to fall due until April 1, 1929, when the initial payment was made. Even under the reduced returns from 1928, the preferred dividends were earned three times over, and an even better margin of safety is expected from the current year's operations with the full earnings from newly-built coke plants being received.

Although the slump reduced the amount of dividends paid to the Koppers Company, owner of all of the common stock of the Koppers Gas and Coke Company, it did not have any effect on stocks held by the general public.

Bank of England.

LONDON, April 4.—(AP.)—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes, in pounds: Total reserve decreased 800,000; circulation increased 1,533,000; bullion increased 74,000; other securities decreased 490,000; public deposits decreased 1,909,000; other deposits increased 9,981,000; notes reserve decreased 819,000; government securities increased 9,370,000.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability is 41.79 per cent; last week it was 45.44 per cent.

Rate of discount, 5½ per cent.

LARGER LABOR BODY URGED

HARRISBURG, April 4.—(AP.)—An energetic campaign for increased membership was urged upon the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor at its annual meeting yesterday by Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor. Woll pointed to the ever-changing trends of industry and declared that organization was now an economic necessity.

Miss Margaret Burke, of the Women's Trade Union League, announced that greater efforts will be made at the sessions of the Legislature next week to get the McCrossin bill providing for a 44-hour week for women out of committee.

Charles A. Waters, secretary of labor and industry, reviewed the accomplishments of his department during his term of office and said that he had experienced the finest sort of co-operation from organized labor. He called attention to the success of safety campaigns instituted by his department which had resulted in declines in the number of industrial accidents in 1928 over 1927 and 1926.

According to Waters, the employment bureau will be expanded to give more aid in relieving the unemployment situation.

The convention will close Friday morning.

Shippers Forecast Gain in Business

TOLEDO, O., April 4.—(AP.)—Increases in various lines of business, ranging from three per cent in the lime and plaster industry to 30.4 per cent in potato movements, were forecast in the reports of commodity committees of the Great Lakes Regional Advisory Board at the sixth annual meeting yesterday. More than 800 shippers and railroad officials attended the meeting.

For the district it is estimated that 728,591 cars will be required for the coming quarter. This is 9.6 per cent over the actual car usage in the same period last year.

SCHOOL DISTRICT OF PITTSBURGH 4.25% GOLD BONDS

TAX EXEMPT IN PENNSYLVANIA

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received by H. W. Cramblet, Secretary, in the office of The Board of Public Education, 251 Administration Building, Forbes street at Bellefield avenue, Pittsburgh, until 3 o'clock P. M. THURSDAY, April 11, 1929, for Three Million ($3,000,000) Dollars school loan on conditions as follows:

THREE MILLION DOLLARS ($3,000,000) SCHOOL LOAN

for the purpose of raising the necessary funds for procuring sites and erecting and equipping buildings and additions for elementary and high schools in said School District under the provisions of an Act of Assembly entitled, "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, etc.," approved May 18, 1911, (P. L. 309); authorized by resolution of The Board of Public Education of the School District of Pittsburgh, adopted March 19, 1929.

The bonds are serial with maturities beginning on the first day of April, 1930, and annually thereafter, until and including April 1, 1959, one hundred bonds maturing each year.

Bonds will be in denominations of $1,000 in coupon form, which may be registered as to principal only and are payable, principal and interest, in gold coin of the present standard of weight and fineness.

The principal sum will bear interest at the rate of four and one-quarter per centum per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of April and October; the first payment of interest to be on the first day of October, 1929; said loan and interest are payable free from all taxes in Pennsylvania.

The School District of Pittsburgh will submit a bid for Bonds Nos. 1 to 200 inclusive; aggregating the sum of $200,000, and maturing April 1st, 1930 and 1931, and, if awarded said bonds, will purchase them for the Sinking Funds of the School District.

PROPOSALS MUST BE UNCONDITIONAL AND MADE UPON THE PRESCRIBED FORM OF BLANKS, TO BE OBTAINED UPON APPLICATION AT THE OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY.

No bid, except that of the School District, will be considered unless accompanied by a certified check drawn to the order of the Treasurer of the School District of Pittsburgh for two per centum of the par value of the bonds bid for.

Checks accompanying bids not accepted will be returned to the bidders promptly. Checks of successful bidders will be held until the last of the bonds bid for by the depositor has been taken and paid for. No interest allowed on check until acceptance of bid, and thereafter interest will be allowed thereon at four per centum per annum.

Settlement in full for the loan awarded must be made with the School Treasurer on or before May 14, 1929, at three o'clock P. M., and include payment of accrued interest from April 1, 1929, to day of settlement.

The Board of Public Education reserves the right to reject any or all proposals, or award any portion of the loan, as it may deem best for the interest of the School District of Pittsburgh.

The proceedings for this loan and the legality of the issue have been approved by J. Rodgers McCreery, Esq., and Reed, Smith and McClay, Esqs., of Pittsburgh, and a copy of their letters attesting legality may be had on application.

THE BOARD OF PUBLIC EDUCATION

MARCUS AARON, President.
H. W. CRAMBLET, Secretary.
HENRY O. EVANS, School Controller.

NOTICE TO RIVER INTERESTS AND ALL NAVIGATORS.

The construction of the third coffer dam, known as Coffer C, for Deadman Island Dam will be started at once, and will consist of the extension of the present coffer dam a distance of approximately 220 feet.

Navigators, when passing this point, should use caution to avoid running into the projecting coffer dam and the boats engaged in the building thereof. Regulation lights will be maintained at night and during fog on the end of this coffer dam at all practicable river stages.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA.

In the matter of amendment to the Charter of First Slovak Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh (Prva Slovenski Kalvinska Cirkev), No. 2982 April Term, 1929.

Notice is hereby given that an application will be made to the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, on the 12th day of April, 1929, at 9:30 o'clock a. m., or as soon thereafter as the court will hear the same under the terms of the Act of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations," approved April 29th, 1874 and the supplements thereto, for the allowance and approval of certain amendments to the charter of the above-named corporation, which amendments are to the effect as follows:

That the purpose for which said corporation is formed as stated in the second article of said Charter be amended so as to read,

"the support of the public worship of Almighty God in accordance with the faith, doctrine and discipline and usages of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America."

Second, that an additional article be placed in the Charter in the following words:

"Ninth. All property, real or personal, which shall hereafter be acquired by this corporation, shall be held as in trust for purposes of religious work and worship in conformity with the doctrine, discipline and usages of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America; but the corporation, by action of its lay members as above stated, and in conformity to the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, shall have full power to sell, mortgage, or otherwise convey or dispose of any such property, the funds derived from the proceeds of such sale, or otherwise acquired, however being held subject to the trust above stated but no purchaser of any property shall be obliged to see to the due application of the purchase money for the same."

"In case of the dissolution of this corporation, or of its ceasing to function as a Presbyterian Church in connection with the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, the title to all such property previously held by this corporation shall become vested in the Presbytery of Pittsburgh, and held in trust by said Presbytery for the same uses above specified; and the same shall be the case with respect to the title of any property which shall be abandoned by said corporation at any time."

All of which is set forth in the petition presented to this court at the above number and term on the 26th day of February, 1929, and now on file in the office of the Prothonotary of said court, praying that said amendments shall be made as above stated.

Deflated Him

It was a hot evening when the town beau brummel called on his lady love.

"Lay there, you $15 hat," he said taking it off and laying it on a chair. Next his coat came off, as he remarked, "Lay there, you $50 coat." By this time the young lady [illegible] pulled out a chair for him.

"Sit there, you 10-cent dude," she invited him sweetly.

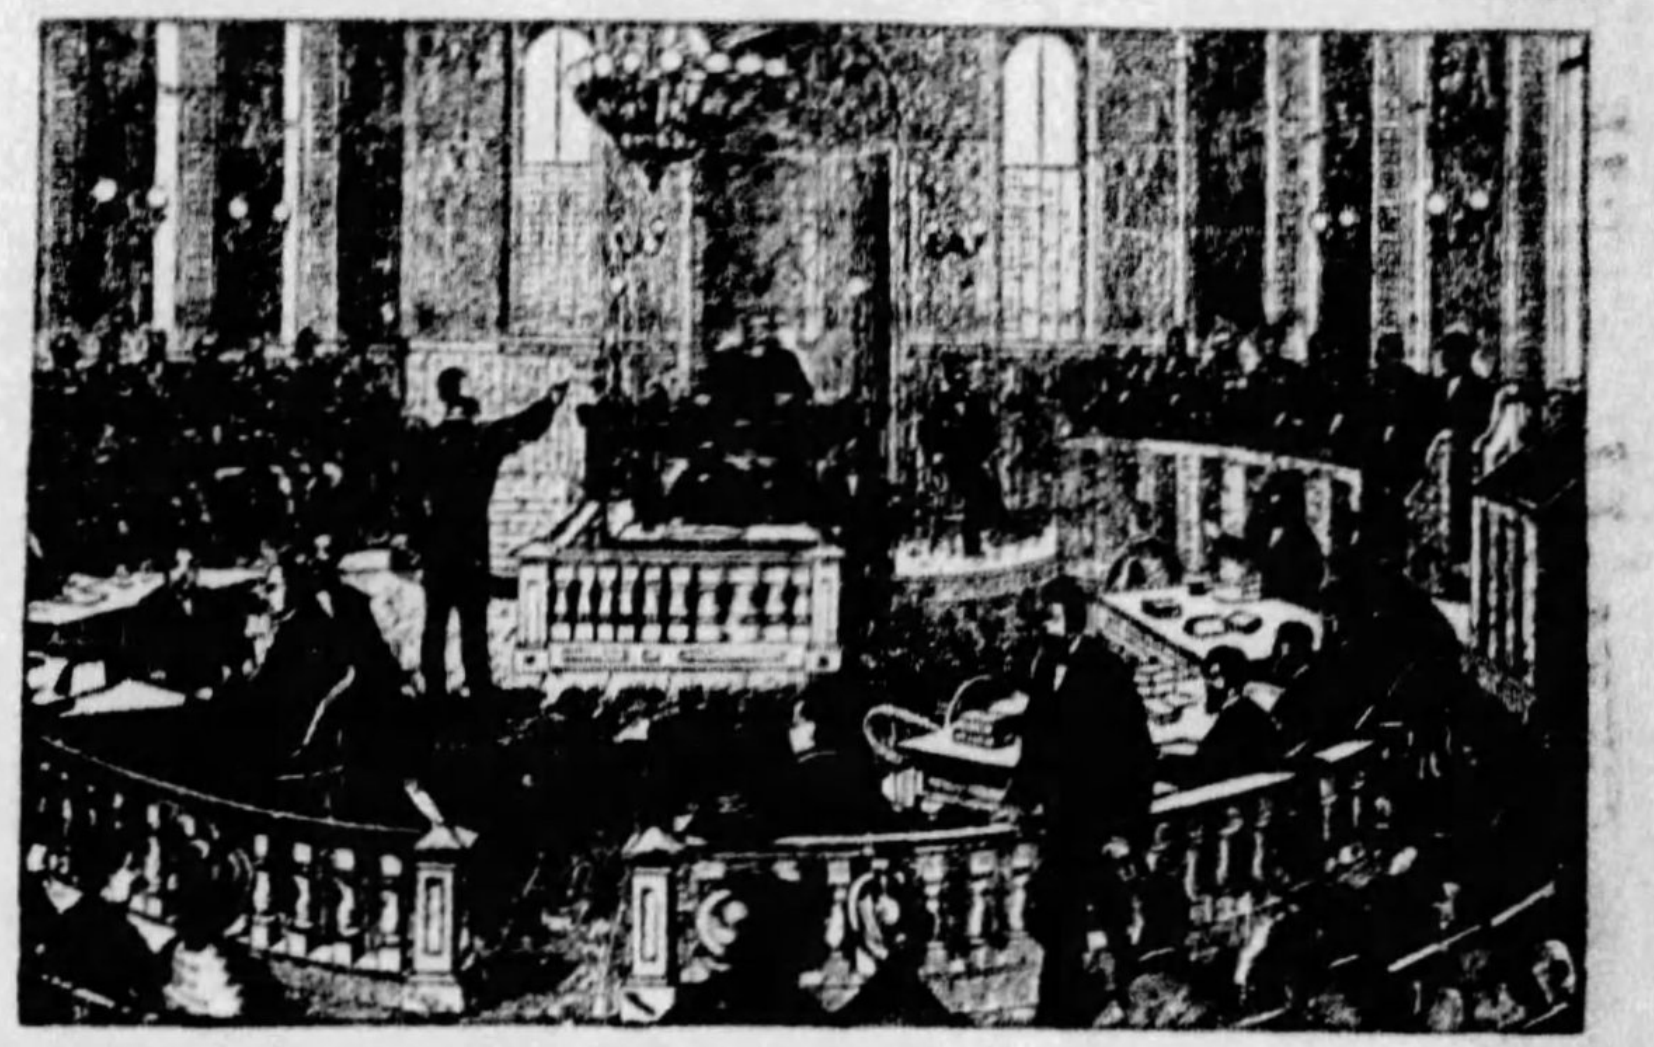
CONGRESSMAN FRISBY ANSWERS GRAFT CHARGES!



WASHINGTON—Horace Frisby, Congressman-at-Large, will not resign under fire! A guilty conscience, he declared, was the reason for his unexpected action yesterday, when he suddenly gained the floor on personal privilege, and spoke as follows:

"I have been unable to sleep lately, due to an ailment resulting from wounds received in the War Department Building, when an elevator was accidentally closed on my fingers. I have never taken a dollar that did not belong to me. The facts are these: Three years ago I made an arrangement with the health authorities to remove dead cats, horses, dogs, etc., from the streets, for which I was to be paid 50 cents each. One Sunday my little daughter called the police and said there was a dead horse at the corner of such and such a street. The police called me back and ordered me to remove the corpse, which I did. I took it to the intersection of two other streets. A few minutes later the police received an anonymous call stating he dead horse was obstructing traffic. They called me by phone and asked if I would remove the horse, which I did. This thing went on all day, as I had only a wheelbarrow. Naturally I got tired and had to leave the horse here and there while I attended to government business. As I received 14 calls from the police, naturally I earned $7, but from this, remember, I had to deduct 70 cents for telephone calls which my little girl happened to make on that day. It would be better if we all shook hands and forgot the entire matter."

Committee Won't Hear Arguments on Blue Law

Probably Because They Can't Be Refuted.

The Law and Order Committee of the House of Representatives probably knows very well it would be impossible to refute the arguments in favor of modifying the ridiculous Blue Law of 1794.

Therefore it refuses to listen to these arguments.

The Sun-Telegraph's Harrisburg correspondent, in his comment yesterday, said, "The committee, in refusing a hearing, did something very rarely done here at Harrisburg . . . Hearings usually are granted without question when requested by a member or any group of citizens."

Representative Musmanno represented pretty well the attitude of those who want to keep this unenforceable law in effect when he told of receiving a letter from a Pennsylvania voter who said the Northern troops lost the first battle of Bull Run because that engagement was fought on Sunday! He said truthfully that the law is openly flouted in Erie and he very properly referred to the common practice in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Harrisburg and other cities of starting theatrical performances at one minute after midnight Sunday nights!

He might have said, too, that every person of wealth or social position in these cities can have Sunday movies, Sunday golf, and plenty of other recreations, while the poor man and his family on Sundays can (1) go to church or (2) take a walk.

Mr. Musmanno summed up the whole situation very succinctly when he said: "Every Sunday the law of 1794 is disobeyed, violated, ignored, nullified and repudiated and yet, by burying our heads in the sand, we affect to believe that everything is as it should be."

While this Legislature refuses any relief on Sunday observance, the Sun-Telegraph hopes that the committee of prominent citizens formed in Pittsburgh to secure the modification of this law will continue its efforts and solidify public opinion throughout the state.

Meanwhile, the refusal of this "law and order" committee even to grant a hearing on the various bills to modify the blue law, is a pretty good example of the intolerance of those that want the law continued, along with its constant and general violations.

Public Will Ask Why Some Voted for Gas Tax

The Sun-Telegraph is prompt to commend the 13 members of the Allegheny County delegation in the House of Representatives in Harrisburg, and those of adjacent counties, who had the courage to vote in the interest of their constituents rather than at the behest of the administration, on the Sterling bill, which provides a four-cent state tax on gasoline.

We feel that they were not alone mindful of the opposition to the tax by the residents of their districts, but were determined to be guided by reason. We feel that the motive of the vote of Representative Helen Grimes is typical of those of other members of the group of 13 who were faithful to what they considered their duty to the voters of their districts.

Miss Grimes, after seeking to find any good reason why the tax should be imposed, declared she would be guided, in safeguarding the money of the state, by the statement of State Treasurer Lewis that there will be sufficient funds from current revenues to permit the State Highway Department to carry out its program of construction and have a surplus remaining at the end of the fiscal year.

There were 12 other representatives from Allegheny County who did not vote with the major group. They are Representatives Bell, Dietrich, Dunn, Goehring, Lynch, Marcus, McCann, Muldowney, Purucker, Soffel, Stadtlander and Steedle.

It is not our purpose at this time to question the motive of any representative. All, presumably, are as careful to look to the interests of their community and constituents as others. So, perhaps, they have as good reasons for voting as they did as the majority had for their guide.

Yet the public will hold them answerable and will expect explanations. The Sun-Telegraph will be glad to extend the use of its columns to any or all of the 12 representatives who voted for a four-cent tax and invites them to make use of a general agency for the diffusion of information thus provided. The public is entitled to know just why they voted as they did.

First Sight Love

And Bare Knees.

A gentle philosopher who calls himself Abe Martin remarks: "I guess ther's ten times as much love at first sight since knees come into th' open, but it don't seem t' last as long as it did when we used t' judge a girl by her face."

Young ladies exposing their legs under the impression that they are conquering the world might remember Mr. Martin's philosophy.

It is the FACE that counts, the EYES showing kindness, the FOREHEAD showing intelligence, the MOUTH sensitive and beautiful.

Knees sharp or dull, turning out or turning in, no matter how beautiful the stockings that cover them, no matter how beautiful they are WITHOUT any stockings, do not mean much.

The brain is WORTHWHILE, the brain and its qualities are reflected in the face. Love at first sight based on silk stockings, pleasing knees, a vacant laugh and a bobbed head does not go far, or last long in its effects.

Mr. Martin is right.

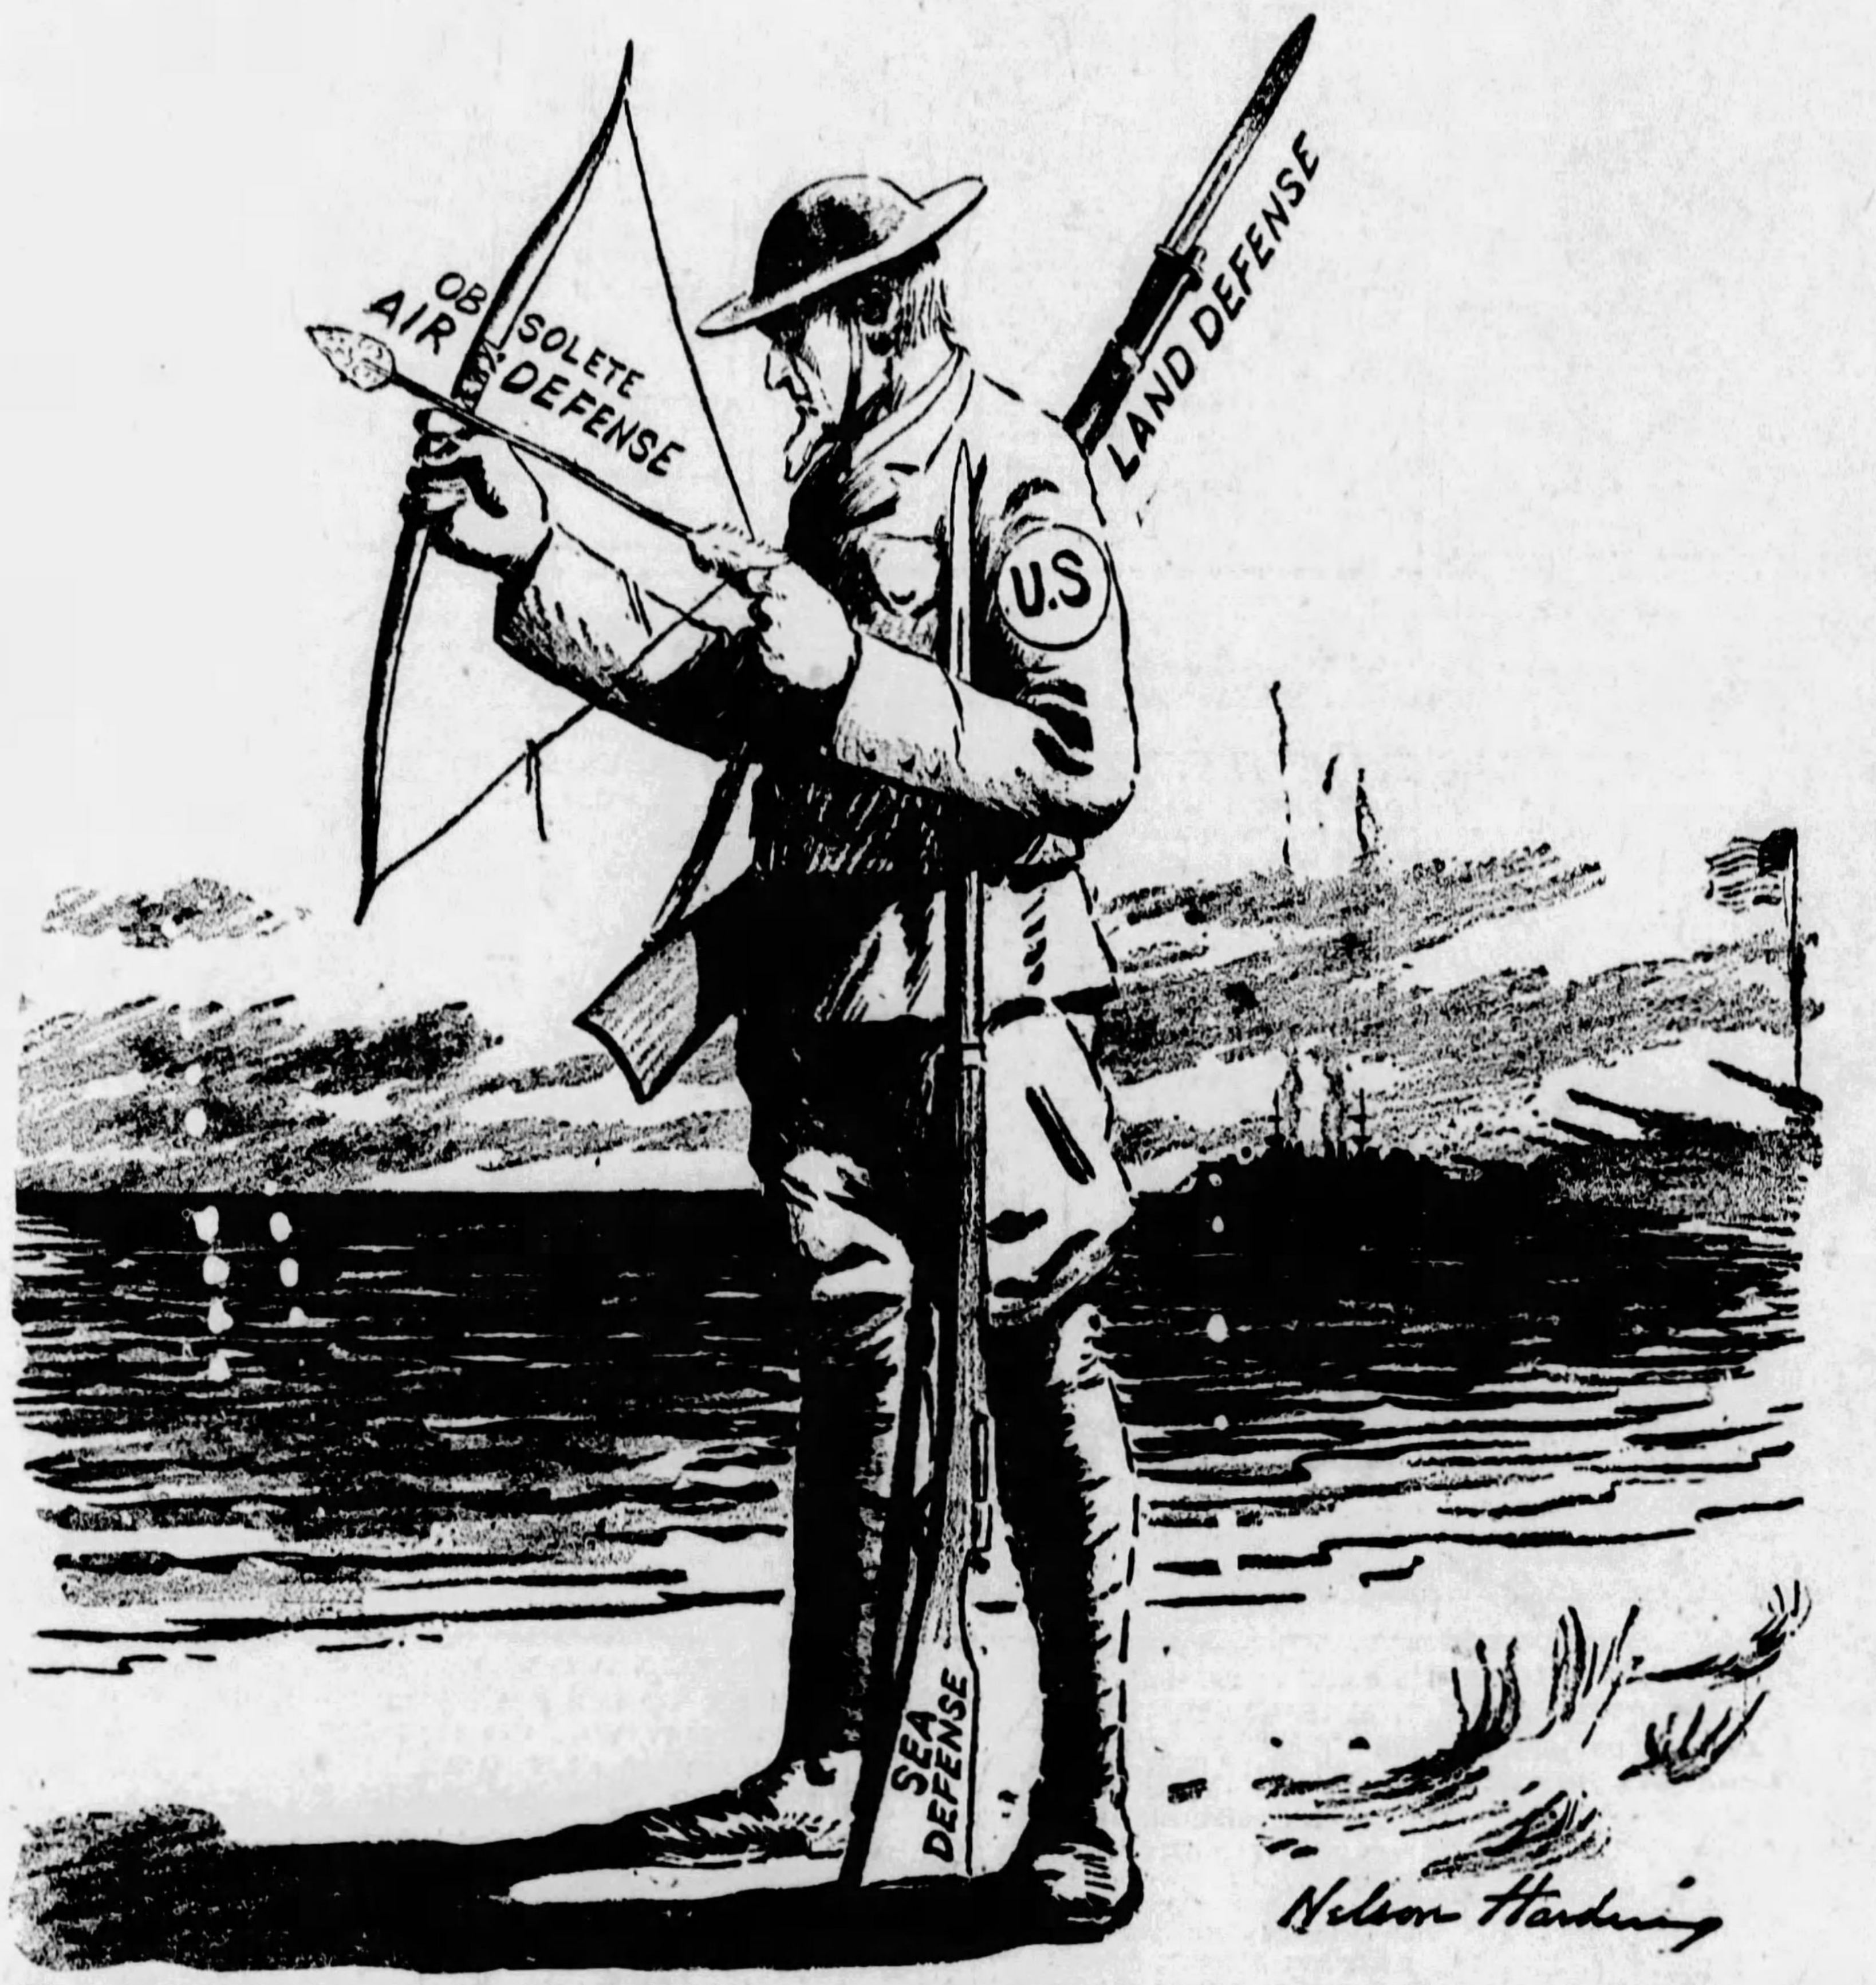
SUN-TELEGRAPH'S PLATFORM

For Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania

1—A better, cleaner, more beautiful city.
2—Rapid transit.
3—Repeal or modification of "blue law."
4—Establishment of Pittsburgh metropolitan district.
5—Community Fund for charities.
6—Town Hall, seating at least 15,000.
7—Voting machines to insure honest elections.
8—Development of river transportation.

That's My Weakness Now

By Nelson Harding



The worst of this picture is that it is absolutely accurate. Uncle Sam has old-fashioned weapons, battleships, etc., on the sea, and old-fashioned weapons plus marching soldiers on the ground, with some coast defense cannon.

But he is absolutely out of date, as much so as one of the red Indians that used to live in this vicinity, when it comes to AIR defense.

A nation as efficient as this, rolling in wealth, powerful in industry, really ought to be in a position to defend the things that it owns, gold supply, great buildings, cities with millions of people, ALL NOW AT THE MERCY OF FOREIGN AIRSHIPS.

Tales That Are Told

Tragedy

THE flames shot upwards; the smoke curled in clouds around the doomed building.

Suddenly a young woman rushed up to one of the firemen.

"Oh," she cried, "save it for me! Save it!"

She pointed to a second floor window, and without a word the fireman rushed to do her bidding.

"How old was it?" asked one of the bystanders.

"Only a month!" sobbed the woman. "And look!"—as the figure of the fireman could be seen coming down the ladder again. "He has failed! He's coming back without it! Oh, what shall I do?"

The fireman approached.

"I'm sorry," he said, "but I could find no child."

"Child?" cried the woman. "I said nothing about a child!"

"Then what was it?" they asked her.

"It was my radio!" she sobbed. "I'd only had it a month—on the hire system, too!"

Putting His Foot In It

"IT gives me the greatest pleasure," declared the best man at the wedding, "to propose the toast of the bride and bridegroom. Although this is the first time I have met the bride, I seem to know her well. Often in the night watches, when we have paced the deck together, my dear old chum has read me passages from his darling Alice's letters."

"Sir," cried the indignant bride, "my name is Doris!"

Ominous

TWO football teams had played a number of draw matches and it was decided to engage a professional referee for a deciding game.

A well-known official was approached by a party of tough-looking men.

"All right," said the referee. "I'll oblige you. What fee do you offer for my services?"

"Well," said one of the men, "that depends on how badly you're hurt."

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS

THERE'S nothing very funny about thinking you're a great singer when you ain't. Well, yes, it is funny, too. But it ain't funny for the one that's doing the thinking.

There was a girl that had a terrible voice but she thought she ought to be in grand opera somehow. She went to a great instructor and he listened to her once, and then he says, "Say, you got a terrible voice! You couldn't sing in an iron foundry. No. I wouldn't have you for a pupil!"

"Well," she says, "I think you're jealous, if you ask me. Everybody else speaks well of my singing. In fact, they all tell me I ought to go abroad to take lessons."

"That's all right," says the Prof. "If I had to live in the same neighborhood with you I'd give you the same advice."

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

MARTHA ALLEN is a fine woman, but she gets peoples' goats.

She's honest, generous, capable sensible, loyal, kind—

But she blanks all these splendid qualities by a lot of irritating, childish habits which exasperate those who would otherwise love and respect her.

She talks too loud—

And too much.

She gets upset over trifles—

She's always late for appointments—

She's very untidy—

She has nervous spells, when she fusses and fidgets—

In spite of her good nature she loses her temper easily.

These are only surface faults in a rich nature but they prevent people from knowing the real Martha. They rob her of much of the joy and power which is rightly hers. And the pity of it is, they could all have been eliminated so easily in her childhood.

These faults are really baby faults, signs of an unadjusted, undeveloped character.

Children talk too loudly and too much because they are self-conscious. They are not yet oriented to the adult world. They do not know how to handle themselves and they make a noise to hide that confusion. They are embarrassed when they meet strangers for the same reason. They are secretly afraid of all strangeness.

Children get upset over trifles because they have not yet learned a sense of values. They cannot discriminate between trifles and matters of real importance.

Children are late for appointments because they have not learned the value of programmed time—they are untidy because they have not learned the value of order.

Children fuss and fidget because their minds are not yet broken to harness. They are still at the mercy of their own emotions, like little wild animals. They lose their tempers easily for the same reasons.

All of these faults are part of normal childhood and should be outgrown with baby teeth and ailments.

They relate to the plain mechanics of character-building.

All the parts of a character must be brought into alignment just as the parts of a machine must be brought into alignment. Without proper alignment a machine, or character, "binds." Martha's irritating little faults are "binds" in her character and they spoil the whole performance.

Wise training eliminates binds in a child's character. A child can be taught to meet strangers, control its temper, be tidy and prim and well poised as easily as it can be taught to wipe its nose or say "thank you." That teaching should come during the years when life is simple and young natures plastic. Correct performance will then become as automatic for the child as for the machine, and almost as unconscious. And, in the later years, power will not be wasted by "binding" in the mechanism of behavior.

COLLEGE EDUCATION

By Garrett P. Serviss

DR. H. F. CLARK, professor of education at the Teachers' College, New York, recently threw a bombshell among educators by reporting, as the result of a special investigation conducted by him, that the widely prevalent notion that a college education increases the earning power of its possessors is a mistake.

"The boy of ability," says Dr. Clark, "will get to his destination quite regardless of a college education."

In that statement he is certainly borne out by the experience of this country. Our history is full of examples of men who have forged to the front and become leaders of the greatest business enterprises, without having had a college education.

A college or university education implies the devotion of long years of the best and most impressible period of life to the atmosphere of books, studies, abstractions, literature, history, with a smattering of miscellaneous science. Only specialists get much profound science, and the vast majority of the hundreds of thousands who now crowd the college campuses are not specialists but "generalists," whose prevailing idea is that if they can manage to get through they will wear a social stamp of peculiar glamour and find a welcome waiting for them in some not too hard-working profession in which money will come quickly and easily.

And it is because colleges by every resource of advertising throw out the lure of these thousands of seekers for they know not exactly what, provided that it comes easy and offers "easy money," that Prof. Clark criticizes what he calls "college persuasive" high school principals and educators, calling them "educational criminals who are overcrowding the professions."

Moreover, he affirms that "mass education is largely responsible for the decrease of the earning power of educated persons," and that "the educational system cannot be expanded indefinitely unless there is a corresponding expansion in the number of occupations toward which it leads."

This is a highly practical question, not exactly pleasing to the boomers who ride on theories. It would not be a bad thing if the public could free itself from the superstition that a college is able to turn a quite ordinary first comer into an able lawyer, or doctor, or preacher, or artist, or writer, or journalist, or any other sort of professional man by virtue of a magic touch. No institution of learning can make a present of mental ability to anybody. That is an inborn gift, if one possesses it. The old saw that a poet is born, not made, applies to all kinds and degrees of talent and genius. Men are not all alike; this world would be a sad place if they were. The great majority of every generation will spend their lives and find their satisfactions in what Dr. Clark calls the "business world," i. e. the world of the workers, the producers, the dealers with great material interests, and the people where money rules.

Bible Passages

"Sing Unto the Lord"

(Psalm 98)

O SING unto the Lord a new song: for he hath done marvellous things: his right hand, and his holy arm, hath gotten him the victory.

The Lord hath made known his salvation: his righteousness hath he openly shewed in the sight of the heathen.

He hath remembered his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all the earth: make a loud noise, and rejoice, and sing praise.

Sing unto the Lord with the harp; with the harp, and the voice of a psalm.

With trumpets and sound of cornet make a joyful noise before the Lord, the King.

Let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein.

Let the floods clap their hands: let the hills be joyful together

Before the Lord; for he cometh to judge the earth: with righteousness shall he judge the world, and the people with equity.

The Rhyming Optimist

Geranium, Geranium

GERANIUM, geranium,
With glowing, scarlet bloom,
How much of loveliness you lend
To even a humble room!

Your vivid petals that impart
Such gracious cheer, defy
Alike the shadow-haunted thought,
The cloud-swept, stormy sky.

Geranium, geranium;
Though many sing the rose,
Your flowers have a valiant charm
No hothouse blooms disclose.

And added to their glowing hue
Are graces memory lends;
Your sturdy stalks as welcome seem
As faces of old friends.

Geranium, geranium;
Years back (ah, heart, be still!)
My mother kept your kindred gay
Upon her window sill.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, April 4.—One of Manhattan's unique institutions is the Virginia Pope Bird Home occupying an outmoded brown stone front in West Sixty-fifth street. It is a friendly sanctuary for birds that are ill, homeless or whose owners are on long journeys.

Three floors of high ceiled rooms are given over to several hundred domesticated pets. Stage people own more birds than any other class. The aviary is named for the original owner whose love for birds was the dominating motive of her life.

The work is carried on today by Mrs. Hattie Williams, a motherly type, who has a half dozen assistants to carry out her orders. The ledger of the bird boarding house shows a list of patrons from many high walks of life—Marion Talley, Margaret Anglin, Fred Stone, Otto Kahn and so on.

The birds are not freed to fly about the house but must keep to individual cages. Every variety almost is there—parrots, white cockatoos, the troupial, love birds, canaries galore and sundry others with unpronouncable names from the outter rims of civilization.

There are those that must be put in black sacks nightly or they cannot sleep. Others must have certain diet or they pine away. There are mated birds that droop when parted and there are innumerable feathered Thespians that were sent there by stranded troupers.

Boarding tariff varies. Canaries and thrushes are cared for at a dollar a week. Talking parrots for three dollars a week and those addicted to impolite language are not admitted. Strange exotic birds of rare plumage requiring special attention are charged $5 a week.

Many convalescing with broken legs hop about in slippery elm splints. The most prevalent ailment among birds is grippe, which is relieved with whisky. Birds are often taken there for surgical operations, but cannot be anesthetized. One slight whiff and they expire.

On West Forty-second street is another odd enterprise suggesting days agone and the only survivor perhaps in America. In a narrow slit of shop a bewhiskered gentleman remindful of Santa Claus repairs old time music boxes once prized by grandparents. They are the sort wound up by hand and dialed to render such airs as "Blue Bells of Scotland" and "Annie Laurie." Every attic almost has one and recently they have become valuable to collectors. Thus the aged repairer does quite a business. He learned his trade in St. Croix, Switzerland, where all music boxes were made in their era of popularity.

Broadway first nighters have missed Hetty Green's son, Col. Edward, who used to attend almost every important premiere. The colonel spends his time on his vast estates overlooking Buzzard's Bay, where his experimental laboratories and flying field are situated. Too, rheumatism has claimed him, and coupled with the loss of a limb which he suffered in boyhood, getting about is difficult. He has none of his mother's pecuniary peculiarities and proved his ability as a money maker before he fell heir to her millions. Close friends call him Eddie.

It strikes me—business of stealing a bow—New York owes much to its country jakes this year. Six of its newest big buildings and two new hotels were erected by boys who came from towns of less than 1,000. Come to think of it, maybe they owe New York a lot. Anyway, it was a mild winter.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

DON'T expect the person who is seeking honors to be a good friend.

That person has a more or less selfish aim in life.

If it becomes necessary to sacrifice your happiness or your friendship in order to gain a coveted honor, such sacrifices will be made.

You may be a person of this sort.

You know then that the experiences you have had, the joy of gaining something which pleased your pride, outweighed any debt of gratitude you may have felt you owed to others.

You know that you believed those who might interfere with your progress were treated as handicaps to be avoided.

Knowing these things about yourself, why do you expect consideration from a person known to think only of himself?

You may have had experience with social climbers.

For a while you thought them genuinely interested in you.

Perhaps you were in a position to further their desires.

When you become socially useless they soon dropped you.

If you want real friendship, the safest person to tie to is the one who will not trample you to gain an objective.
